FIRST PRESENTATION OF "WHAT HAPPENED TO JONES" TAKES HOUSE BY STORM

Mohair Makes the Hit of the Evening.

The Dramatic Association, in their first presentation of "What Happened to Jones," in the Van Curler on Tuesday night, covered itself with paint and glory and is now enrolled among the many successful student organizations on the "hill."

The play was given under the auspices of the Physicians' Hospital, and the theatre was well filled with an appreciative audience composed of students and local society people.

Each act was encored several times, and the musical specialties, which were introduced between the acts, were well received.

Every person in the cast showed the result of Mr. Mott's efficient coaching, and while some mistakes were made, so cleverly were the parts carried out, that they could not be detected by those in the audience. Many persons were present who had seen the plays produced by Colgate, Cornell, Yale, and other colleges who have a reputation for college dramatics, and all agreed that Union's production surpassed them all.

Mohair Makes Hit.

Mohair, as "Jones" was the hit of the night. He jumped into the fun near the beginning and played the leading part with ease and precision. He drew laugh after laugh from the audience, who were intensely interested in watching the changes of his dual personality.

Spaulding cleverly impersonated Ebenezer Goodley, the professor of anatomy. The part is an unusually difficult one, as it involves much facial expression.

Coffin, as Anthony Goodley, D. D., the Bishop of Ballarat, succeeded in concealing his own personality, and his portrayal of the unfortunate Bishop added much to the success of the play.

The feminine characters were cleverly played, and the beauty of the actors drew many blushes of envy from the fair maidens in the audience. Cissy, the ward of the professor, was a charming little Vassar girl, unusually wise for her age, who came near being the undoing of Jones.

Simmons, as Marjorie, the professor's daughter, took the part of the romantic girl, playing the role with the ease of a professional actor. Riedinger, as Minerva, was a quiet girl of studious tendencies, who preferred to spend her time in reading Darwin and Huxley, instead of wasting it by reading poetry as did her sister Marjorie.

Sawyer, as Alvina Starlight, made a typical old maiden "auntie," and by her love for the "wrong man" added much to the fun of the audience. Goodsell, the professor's wife, Matilda, was the careful housewife, who cared more for the comfort of her guests than of her family, and when the professor's mind began to wander, shed huge crocodile tears that made her husband swear. Cavert took the part of Helma, the Swedish servant girl, and while able to talk nothing but broken English, showed the ability of the foreigners to readily comprehend the meaning of money.

Lewis was Richard Heatherley, a typical young sport, who started all the trouble by inducing the professor to attend a prize fight, and as a result almost lost the love of his sweetheart, Marjorie. Sellnow made a policeman whose ability rivalled that of his "Cousin Joe" in catching and punishing offenders.

Kreusi played the role of William Bigbee, the escaped lunatic who thought he was an Indian, and made the hair of the bishop stand on end with his blood-curdling war-whoops. Ralph DeP. Clarke was the gentle superintendent of the sanitarium, at whose stern glance the raving Indian was cowed into submission.

The success of the play in the Van Curler will make it comparatively easy for the association to stage its play in other cities. Arrangements have already been made to present the farce in Troy on the first and second of February, and in Albany at Harmanus Bleecker hall on February 10 and 11.

UNION DEBATING TEAM WILL #### MEET CORNELL TO-NIGHT.

Interesting Debate Expected.

An interesting debate is expected when the Union College debating team meets the Cornell orators in the chapel to-night. This is the first time that Union has ever debated a college of Cornell's size and reputation and the home team, consisting of Harry A. Gordon, Walter D. Cavert, James H. Potter and Ralph Streever, alternate, have been working ever since Christmas vacation in preparation for to-night's contest.

The question is the same as that which was recently debated by the Adelpheic and Philomathean societies: "Resolved, That the ownership of the forest and mineral lands, now belonging to the United States in the several states, should be retained by the Federal government." Union defends the affirmative.

All of the members of the Cornell team are debaters of experience and have acquired a reputation in their own university for their oratorical ability. L. S. Ness, a junior in the Arts College, will open the debate for the visitors. Mr. Ness has been a member of the Cornell Congress team against Alfred University, and has spoken on the '94 Memorial Prize Debate. H. E. Griffith, their second speaker, is a senior in the Arts College, and has been a member of the Cornell team against both Pennsylvania and Columbia. He has, also, won the '94 Memorial Prize Debate.

G. H. Brown, who will close the debate for Cornell, is now a senior in the Law Department. He has been prominent in debating work for some time; has been the leader of the Cornell team against Pennsylvania, and a member of the team against the University of California. He has, also, won the '94 Memorial Prize Debate.

PRESIDENT RICHMOND'S VIEWS

ON COLLEGE SONGS AND CHEERS.

"It ought not to surprise us to hear that President Lowell does not find organized cheering a perfect medium for the expression of emotion. It is not meant to be. To the college man it is a symbol of solidarity. It is his way of saying, 'We are with you!' It is neither melodious nor capable of delicate modulation, but it is loud and hearty and upon the whole a fair expression for the mood of the moment. Moreover, it is the only way he can get into the game. Only a few are gifted with athletic skill, but every man has a voice. When an emotion stirs his heart or when the Lord sends him a thought he makes some kind of a noise, and when they all feel the same emotion they all make the same noise—some more, some less. This is not the only way in which he can express himself. I have sometimes heard a vociferous silence on one side of the arena at a football game; silence which held in its thoughts too deep for tears.

"Undergraduate psychology is still a terra incognita to me, but so far as I can understand him enthusiasm is his strong point, and when he makes a noise he must make a loud noise. Organized cheering is at least as pleasing to the ear as the straggling go-as-you-please cheer of the old 'grads'; and although I am one myself I have been glad to learn and to practise the modern way of doing it.

"What I should like to hear is more singing. College singing is one of the best things in college life, and I wish there were more of it and of a better sort. I should hate to believe that the songs college men sing are a genuine expression of the thoughts of their hearts.

"Some time ago I sat with a judge of the Court of Appeals at a college dinner and joined blithely with him in singing 'Oh, give me a drink, bartender!' Speaking only for myself, I protest that the song was not the voice of an inward longing. We sang it as we ate the food provided in the menu, because the others did. The songs printed for use at all our public dinners are, in my judgment, a reflection upon our taste and a horrible exposure of the poverty of our musical life. A music hall flavor hags about all our popular songs. In our colleges the fine student songs in use in German universities are practically unknown. Their place is taken by something inferior. I except the song to Alma Mater which in many colleges is of a higher order. Indeed, the fervor and conviction which the college man throws into his college song give it a certain nobility apart from its intrinsic merit.

"Upon the whole, I am not against college cheering in more moderation, except when it is used, as it sometimes is, in an unpleasant way to confuse or discourage a rival team. It is a healthy kind of noise, and the cheer leader with his antics adds to the gayety of nations. But more singing and better singing would surely help not only to improve the tone of undergraduate social life, but also the tone of alumni gatherings."

COLTON DELIVERS STRONG

ADDRESS AT VESPER SERVICE.

Mr. E. T. Colton, the well known worker among students both in our own country and in foreign lands, last Sunday afternoon gave one of the ablest and most helpful talks that have been heard by Union men for many months. After being introduced by the general secretary, Mr. Colton spoke for about thirty-five minutes on "How to Live a Life of Spiritual Power." The matters of Bible study and prayer were presented by Mr. Colton, not as formal, irksome tasks, but as daily practices that will give a student the power to live the best and strongest kind of Christian life.

During the early part of this week six classes of foreigners have already been organized for learning the English language. Two of these classes are composed of Italians, one of Poles, and three of Lithuanians. At present there are about 50 foreigners enrolled in these six classes. The students who are leading these classes already report very interesting experiences on their own part and a keen interest and appreciation on the part of the foreigners. The class of Poles meets Monday and Tuesday evenings at the Union Street School. A class of Italians also meets in this school on the same evenings. The other class of Italians assembles Wednesday and Friday evenings in a room at 21 North Jay Street in the heart of the Italian section. The Lithuanians meet in their clubrooms on Windsor Terrace.

BASKETBALL TEAM READY ##### FOR FAST ROCHESTER FIVE.

The basketball team has been training and practising faithfully for the past two weeks and are now in readiness for the game with Rochester in the Armory this afternoon. While the victory over West Point has not made the team over-confident, it has showed that the Garnet team is capable of playing fast basketball, and there is every reason to look for a successful outcome of the game to-night.

The only thing that will badly handicap the Union team is the loss of Coward as guard. Leon will probably fill his place.

Rochester was defeated last week on her own court by a score of 18 to 14 by C. C. N. Y. Comment from the Rochester city newspapers expresses doubt as to the outcome of the game.

Newspaper Comment.

One Rochester paper has this to say about the game:

"This week's games are bound to bring out all the ability of the local squad if victories are to be annexed. Colgate, of course, will be a stiff opponent on Friday night, but the real struggle, viewed from this distance, will be at Union College Saturday afternoon in the Schenectady Armory."

Another paper remarks: "The Colgate game comes the evening previous and as the railroad trip from Hamilton to Schenectady is tiresome the players will be in no ideal condition for a hard game immediately after arrival at the latter city. Furthermore, Union is hitting a fast pace this season, having started the year with a decisive defeat of West Point.

The Line-up.

The line-up of the two teams will probably be as follows:

UNION.		ROCHESTER.
McKinstry .....		Schoen
		Right Forward.
Hequembourg .....		Woodams, Kaiser
		Left Forward.
Micks (Capt.) .....		W. Edwards
		Center.
Leon .....		Dunn
		Left Guard.
Fairbairn .....		H. Edwards (Capt.), Scott
		Right Guard.

THE SUCCESS

OF THE ## DRAMATIC CLUB.

At last Union has a Dramatic Club! O, that is nothing new, for she has had one for three years! But, at last, Union has a successful Dramatic Club, with a successful presentation for its record and a real reputation behind it.

So far as can be learned there has been no rote of pessimism, no word of disparagement, and no "knocking," concerning the production in the Van Curler on Tuesday evening. On the other hand, the club has been the recipient of many words of encouragement and many comments of praise.

Let tribute be given to whom tribute is due. Every one knows that the coach and each member of the club has worked faithfully to bring forth a successful production. Above all, our tribute is due the president of the Dramatic Association who for three years has given his efforts in arousing interest in dramatics, and who, at last, has seen his dream of a successful dramatic club come true.

THE CORNELL DEBATE

This evening is to be the occasion of the Cornell-Union debate. The Cornell team, comprising men chosen not only from the undergraduate departments, but from the Law School as well, is undoubtedly the most formidable rival that a debating team from Union has ever had the opportunity and the responsibility of opposing. To be defeated by a team representing the Cornell University student body of about 5,000 would be no disgrace to the team chosen from the 300 men of Union College. If, on the other hand, the Garnet team succeeds in winning the victory, it will be a distinct honor for the college.

Union's success in debating during the past three years has been remarkable. Only one debate has been lost, while six have been won. Has the student body given to our debating interests the attention and support that Union's debating record deserves? Of course, it is not to be expected that debating should deceive the interest that is displayed in our athletic relations, but is it not fair that loyal support should be given to any college activity that has brought to Union as many victories as have been hers in the field of intercollegiate debate?

COLLEGE In another part of this paper is CHEERING. an article written by Dr. Richmond, expressing his views on college cheering and singing. It was recently published in the New York Tribune, with articles expressing the views of other college presidents on the same subject. The occasion calling forth the writing of these articles was an address made by President Lowell of Harvard University before the Music Teachers' National Association in Boston, in which he deprecates organized cheering and the students' liking for ragtime music.

DAY OF PRAYER NEXT THURSDAY.

Dr. Knox to Speak.

Prof. George W. Knox, D. D., LL. D., of the Union Theological Seminary has been announced as the speaker for the day of prayer for colleges on Thursday, January 26.

Dr. Knox was formerly a missionary in Japan and has made an extensive study of the life and customs of that country. He is well known as an author of religious works, which he has written in both Japanese and English. Dr. Knox is a graduate of Hamilton College and of Auburn Theological Seminary. He received the degree of D. D. from Princeton in 1888, and of LL. D. from Hobart in 1904.

On this day the regular college work will be suspended. The regular chapel exercise, at which Dr. Knox will speak, will be held at 11 o'clock. Attendance at this service will be compulsory.

MEETING OF TRUSTEES

The Board of Trustees of the college will hold its regular winter meeting on next week Tuesday, January 24th. It is expected that many matters of interest to the college will be brought up at this meeting.

It is hoped that some action may be taken that will eventually lead to the establishing of a Union College Commons. A petition to this effect was drawn up by the athletic teams and a number of the students last spring. Another petition has now been started and all those who did not sign last spring, show do so now. The petition is in the college office.

TENNIS SCHEDULE IS NOW

BEING ARRANGED BY FAIRBAIRN.

Prospects Bright for a Good Season.

During the past few weeks "Tommy" Fairbairn, captain and manager of the tennis team, has been busy communicating with the managers of various college tennis teams in regard to the schedule for the coming season. Three definite home games have already been arranged—Trinity for April 22nd, Amherst Agriculture College, April 28th, and Wesleyan, May 29th. Dates are pending with Michigan, Syracuse, Stevens, Rutgers, New York University and Vermont.

The prospects at present look very bright for a winning team this year with three of our last year's team still eligible—Fairbairn, Coykendall and Carmichael. Two other names are given as prospective players, J. P. Pontual of San Paulo, Brazil, and Sheldon B. Smith of the Albany Law School, who was captain of the Dartmouth tennis team last year and who at present holds the intercollegiate championship of New England in tennis.

STEVENS MEN ENTERTAINED.

The Senior Class of the Stevens Institute of Technology visited the college last Saturday. The Stevens men were shown through both the General Electric Works and the Locomotive Works, and on Friday night a banquet was given in their honor by the local alumni of that institution. Dr. Richmond was one of the guests at the dinner.

THE ALL-AMERICAN FOOT-

BALL TEAM FOR 1910.

Alumni News.

EDITED BY GRADUATE COUNCIL

NOTES.

1863. Solomon W. Russell has been President of Salem village, Washington County, New York for 30 years.

1865. John K. Paige has resigned as organist of St. George's Church, Schenectady, after a service of 50 years. All alumni will remember Mr. Paige for he has played "Alma Mater" at Commencement for an equally long period.

1869. T. J. O. Thacher moved to Forest Grove, Ore., last spring. In writing about the country Mr. Thacher remarks that his only regret is not having come sooner.

1877. George Fairlee has been pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Troy, N. Y., during the past 30 years. This has been Mr. Fairlee's only pastorate, a remarkable record and one which must bring great blessings to his people. Mr. Fairlee took an active part in forming the Alumni Association in Troy and now acts as its Secretary.

1878. William D. Maxon, D. D., rector of Christ's Church, Detroit, Mich., has been active in a movement to get the wealthy society people of his city roused to their duties in the training of their children. Dr. Maxon is pointing out the unique part parents must play in teaching a child; a work, if neglected, must remain undone, as it is beyond the reach of other teachers.

1879. Wm. P. Adams has sailed for Europe, where he will spend the winter with his family. Wm. A. Waldron has sailed for Trinidad where he will pass the winter.

1880. F. T. Rogers is President of the New England Ophthalmological Society.

1881. Calvin E. Carpenter is with the J. B. Rice Seed Co. at Cambridge. William B. Landreth has resigned as deputy state engineer. Mr. Landreth has been connected with the work on the barge canal since its start. As far as we know 1881 is the only class that has a bank account of its own. The Union National Bank of Troy carries their account.

1895. Harvey Clements has recently been installed pastor of St. Peter's Church in Rochester, N. Y.

1896. David H. Craver is pastor of the North Presbyterian Church of Geneva, N. Y. The Church is building a large modern Sunday school house as Mr. Craver has proved a successful leader.

1897. Orlando B. Pershing has left his parish at Ada, Ohio, to accept the call of the Mesa Presbyterian Church at Pueblo, Colo. During the three years of his ministry in Ada, Mr. Pershing placed his church out of debt and well on the road to great usefulness to the community.

1898. Ernest G. Hildner of Princeton, Ind., was elected moderator of the Presbytery of Indiana at its fall meeting.

1899. F. R. Champion has been appointed commissioner of jurors for Schenectady County for a term of five years. Mr. Champion is City Editor of the Schenectady Union.

1904. Archibald Rutledge is the author of a poem entitled "Migrants," which appeared in the January number of the "Outlook."

1906. Floyd L. Miller was elected Secretary of the Schenectady Press Club at their meeting last week.

1908. V. V. Raymond, Jr., is in Atlantic City, where he is resting after having undergone a successful operation for appendicitis.

DEATHS.

1851. William F. Jones died at his home in Wellsville, N. Y., on December 18th. As a lawyer, banker and public spirited citizen, Mr. Smith gained the love of his fellow townsmen whose leading citizen he had long been. Mr. Smith graduated as valedictorian of his class and was at all times an active worker. His interests included lumbering, oil lands in Pennsylvania, and in late years he organized the National Bank at Wellsville, whose directing officer he remained until his death.

1861. Melvin DeLancey Landon, better known as Eli Perkins, died at his home in Yonkers, December 16th. Mr. Landon entered the army after graduating and served on the staff of Gen. A. L. Chetlain. After the war he became a cotton planter in Louisiana but gave this up to travel extensively. In 1869 he was secretary of the United States Legation at St. Petersburg. It was as a lecturer and writer that he gained his greatest reputation. Mr. Landon was always interested in the College and was Secretary of his class at the time of his death.

1885. Wallace T. Foote, Jr., died in New York at St. Luke's Hospital on December 17th. Mr. Foote was a man whose interests were wide and he had been actively engaged along many lines up to the time of his death. In politics he had represented his district in Congress from 1895-1899, while his business interests brought him into close relations with the greatest financiers of the day. Mr. Foote was a loyal alumnus and at one time he was a member of the Board of Trustees. His interest in the gym movement was well known and we have all lost much by his death.

COLLEGE HOCKEY TEAM WINS

FIRST GAME OF THE SEASON.

The hockey team won the first game of the season last Saturday when it defeated the Mohawk Golf Club team by a score of 2 to 1. The men showed team work which greatly excelled that of their opponents, but the forwards were weak in advancing the puck. The defense did good work.

Shortly after the game began, Wadsworth carried the puck the length of the rink passing to Kreusi, who scored. The Golf Club then took a brace, and the honors was very evenly divided. Toward the end of the half, however, Guardenier tallied for the Golf Club.

In the second period, the forwards showed marked improvement, keeping the puck in their opponents' territory most of the time and Kreusi again scoring on a pass from Wadsworth.

A series of games has been arranged with the Boat Club and the Golf Club, and it is hoped that sufficient interest will be aroused in the sport to make an intercollegiate schedule possible next year.

DR. ANGELL TO GIVE FIRST

LECTURE ON MONDAY NIGHT.

Prof. Angell of Chicago University will give the first of the series of his lectures on psychology next Monday night. There will be eight lectures in the course, two being given on the Mondays and Tuesdays of every other week. The subject of the first lecture will be "General Psychology," and Tuesday's lecture will be on "Physiological Psychology." The lectures will be held in the chapel and will begin at eight o'clock.

Engraved invitations have been sent out to the two literary societies of the city, to the local clergyman, and to a number of physicians. Dr. Angell is expected to arrive in the city early Sunday afternoon. During his two days' stay he will be the guest of Dr. Richmond.

FACULTY RESOLUTIONS.

We, the august body termed the faculty, do hereby make public the following resolutions, drawn up at a session extraordinary held on January first:

1. We will not smoke in classroom, nor will we curse if the students fail to applaud our jokes.
2. We will not question the students, as it might hurt their feelings. We will let them question us instead.
3. We will not give any more tests or exams, as it might make it necessary for the students to work overtime.
4. We will not blame a student for being behind with his work. We realize that he must be behind in order to pursue it.
5. Hereafter, we shall not allow official notices of bad tidings to be forwarded to the students' home. It might hurt the student's feelings and cause domestic infelicities.
6. We will always bear in mind the fact that if Prexy could have found a better man for the salary, we would not be filling our present positions.

RECORD AT VASSAR.

Visitor—"Do you have any athletes here?"

Fair Vassarian—"Well, there's hardly a girl here that can't twist some man round her little finger."—Ex.

DUNN HANDSOME.

Some boys are handsome.

T. G. Dunn is some boy.

Therefore, T. G. Dunn is handsome.

"Why bother looking for a thumb tack when you can just as well use your finger nail?"

THE LATEST ATTRACTION.

Howe's Motion Pictures in the new Engineering Building. Show free to all Sophomores.

The Lamp—"Did you know that Trimmin's trousers were divorced from his suspenders?"

The Bed—"No, on what grounds?"

The Lamp—"Non-support, of course."

QUOTATIONS FROM GOLDSMITH.

For Dr. Barnes:

Full well they laughed with counterfeited glee

At all his jokes; for many a joke had he.

For Gordon:

In arguing, too, Micky owned his skill,
For e'en though vanquished, he could argue still.

For Hawley, '14:

And still they gazed, and still their wonder grew,
That one swelled head could carry all he knew.

GUN CLUB ORGANIZED.

A gun club has at last been organized at Union. In previous years the gun club has, like the Dramatic Association, failed to arouse interest among the students and the only person to attend its meetings was the son of a gun who organized it. At a recent meeting the organization of the club was perfected and the following officers elected:

Big Brass Gun.....	O'Connell
Son of a Gun.....	"Tige" Hawley
Blunderbuss .....	Barros
Air Gun .....	Hunter
Shot .....	Terry
Half-shot .....	Mohair
Ramrod .....	Dunn
Big Kap Pistol.....	Sellnow
Little Kap Pistol.....	Lewis
Squirt Gun.....	Kimberly

THE BELLE OF THE COLLEGE.

"Her voice is one of command,
Her power is in full swing,
Her jewels, though scarce, are pure,
She has but a single ring.

"The fellows all jump at her call,
To obey her they hasten pell-mell,
But I dread the sound of her voice,
For she is the chapel bell."

—Tinkle.

OPTORIAL

The one who thinks our jokes are poor
Would straightaway change his views,
Could he compare the jokes we print
With those that we refuse.

UNION GRAD RECEIVES SHOCK.

(Special to OPTIC.)

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 17.—Prof. Carl Wachter, who is now living in this city and taking a graduate course at Harvard University, received a shock this morning which paralyzed him for several hours. Prof. Wachter was reading the morning newspaper when the shock occurred. He fell from his chair without warning and his wife immediately hastened for the doctor.

Mrs. Wachter was at a loss for some time to determine the cause of the shock, but on reading her husband's newspaper, she at once learned the reason. On the front page in glaring headlines she saw the words—UNION COLLEGE DRAMATIC CLUB GIVES SUCCESSFUL PLAY. It will be remembered by the upper classmen that Prof. Wachter was president of the Union Dramatic Club during his four years at that college, his position, when he left, being taken by Tristy Coffin. The physicians, upon diagnosing Prof. Wachter's case, ascribed envy as the sole cause of the shock.

WHAT THE TELEPHONE HEARD.

Union Junior—"Hello, Darling, is this you?"

Miss Coquette—"Yes, dear; who is this talking?"

HARD LUCK.

"I hear Jones, the sea captain, is in hard luck. He married a girl and she ran away from him."

"Yes, he took her for a mate, but she proved to be a skipper."—Tiger.

He—"Well, I'll be hanged."

She—"Why?"

He—"Because I'm suspended, of course."
