The Concert Trip.

The Glee, Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar Clubs, 30 strong, left for Sandy Hill on the 4:30 P. M. train last Tuesday. At Saratoga a stop of 40 minutes was made, and the fellows availed themselves of this opportunity for seeing the town. It is too early, however, in the season to "see it," and "the band" was glad to recommence the journey north. Just as the train rolled out of the station, Duell, '98, rolled in, having seen just three seconds too much of the town. "Just like a freshman to get left," said the upper classmen, and a general "roasting" of "necessary evils" followed, until Sandy Hill was reached. Here the clubs were hospitably received by the citizens, who exerted every energy to make the fellows feel at home.

It was about an hour after the clubs arrived that Duell, who had boarded a freight train at Saratoga, made his unexpected appearance, and was overwhelmed with the embraces of his friends who forgot their indignation when the lost was found.

The concert in the new Presbyterian church at 8 P. M. was listened to by a very large and appreciative audience. Every number was encored; and the clubs responded willingly to every call.

At the conclusion of the concert a reception was tendered the clubs at which, through the medium of the patronesses, the members met the young ladies of the town, and many a smile was exchanged over cups of cafe noir. The reception lasted an hour, after which all adjourned to the hall where the light fantastic was tripped to the strains of many a popular waltz or lively deux temp. It was close on to the wee sma' hours when the dancing ceased, and, after many lingering farewells the fellows found themselves "corraled" for the night, except Bissell and Spiegel, the former narrowly escaping "going over the falls," and the latter being suspected as a Ft. Edward Seminary girl in disguise.

On Friday morning at eleven o'clock, the clubs were delightfully entertained at lunch at the home of Manager Derby. The house is most happily adapted for entertaining, and Mrs. Derby won for herself a fond place in the affections of the fellows by her cordial welcome. Someone asked what the matter with Derby was, and was immediately informed by a score that he was all right, and was a la la, and many other things that make up in expression what they lack in elegance.

The clubs left Sandy Hill at 12 M., and after an uneventful journey arrived in Albany at 2 P. M. Headquarters were established at Keeler's, and at four o'clock all proceeded to the magnificent residence of Mrs. B. Walworth Arnold, on Ten Broeck street, where they were tendered a most enjoyable reception. The drawing rooms were decorated magnificently with palms, and Meteor, Jacqueminot and American Beauty roses. Every nook and corner was green and dark crimson and the mantels were all massed with roses.

The most beautiful decorations were in the dining room across the hall, where stood the large, square table from which tea, chocolate, bouillon, salads, ices and cakes were dispensed.

Over the table and suspended from ropes of smilax and carnations that reached from chandelier to chandelier was a banjo of dark red carnations designed by Eyres. It was a triumph of floral art and the admiration of everyone present. In this room also in the corners were palms and vases of handsome roses, and on a little side table were baskets of fern and some rare orchids. Over the mantel swung a curious specimen of growing orchid, brilliant yellow, with thick, fleshy leaves, and in every available place there were flowers and foliage.

The ices were in the form of musical instruments, harps, banjos, mandolins, lyres, etc., and were unique features of the table decorations. The garnet was also carried out in the knots of ribbon used on the jardiniers and elsewhere.

Mrs. Arnold was assisted in receiving by the Misses Martin, Miss Julia Walsh, Miss Annie Buttershall, Miss Susie Lansing, Miss King and Miss Gray. Among those present were the Misses Irwin, Miss Weaver, Miss McConikee, Miss Bessie Pruyn, Miss Ritta King, Miss Ellen Hun, Miss Lydia Hun and Miss Winona King.

At 8:15 P. M. a large and fashionable audience assembled in the Leland Opera House where the following excellent programme was presented:

- PART I.
1. (a) "We Meet Again To-night," - FROM THE GERMAN
(b) Selection, - BIGET
GLEE CLUB.
  2. "El Tura," - GRANADA

  5. "The Summer Man," - WATERS

  6. (a) Drinking Song, - CARMINA CONCORDIAE

(b) "Tarpaulin Jacket," - CARMINA CONCORDIAE
(c) "Song to Old Union," - FITZHUGH LUDLOW, '57
GLEE CLUB.

A delegation of officers from the Albany Academy cadet battalion kindly tendered their services as ushers. They were, Captain Horton, Adjutant Sterry, Lieutenants Crannell, Jones and Hilton, and Sergeants Russell, Sutliff, Ellis and Hall.

The programmes were suitable souvenirs of the occasion, being stiff covered, eight page booklets containing a list of patronesses and members of the clubs. On the front cover was a picture of the blue gate, and on the rear, the college seal.

Every number was enthusiastically encored, and the clubs as usual responded gracefully. Several of the glees were given two and three re-calls which very nearly tripled the regular programme.

After the concert the clubs were elegantly entertained by the Albany club. A supper was served, after which many college songs were sung, interspersed with instrumental music.

The clubs left for Schenectady on the 2 A. M. train Thursday.

"Bawl" Game.

On Saturday, April 20, the Sophomores defeated the Union Classical Institute nine in a game of "bawl" by a score of 21 to 10. Seven innings were "bawled" to the intense delight of a large number of listeners whose ears are better attuned to discords than to harmonies.

Track Athletics.

Information has been received by Manager Barnes, of the track team, from Manager Jeffry, of the Williams team, that the Union-Williams dual games which were to be held on May 18th, will either have to be held on May 11th or not at all. This change was necessitated owing to the change of date of the New England Intercollegiate Association games, of which Williams is a member, from the 22d to the 18th. Consequently our date has been changed to the 11th, and the final arrangements are being made to hold the meet then.

It is unfortunate for Union that this change should have been necessitated, for it will lessen our chances of winning greatly. Owing to the poor condition of the track caused by the bad weather, the candidates for the team have been unable to do much work, and they will only have two weeks in which to get in proper condition. Williams has had a trainer for two months who is bringing out some good men, and their team will be in far better condition on the 11th than the Union team.

Notwithstanding this, the Union athletes are now working hard and aim to do all they can in the next two weeks to get in good condition. They are out on the track every afternoon and are doing hard work, and some are showing up in much better form than was anticipated.

Union has also been unfortunate with her men this spring. George Sands, '98, the quarter mile runner, in the mid-winter meet, collided with another man on a curve and wrenched his leg in such a way that he is still unable to run. At first it was thought that this injury was but slight; but from the present outlook he will be able to do but little this spring. He will not be able to run in the class games, but may be able to start on the 11th.

E. W. Sylvester, '98, a promising candidate in both the pole vault and bicycle, has been compelled to go home on account of illness. W. B. Lyon, '98, who was looked upon as the best man Union had in the sprints, has not returned to college this term, and this will take away all of our chances in the sprints.

At present it is hard to make an estimate of the points between Williams and Union. Neither have had their spring meets, and in Union's case her men have not had enough work to determine any thing definite. A rough estimate, however, of the men who will take first places may be made. Williams will take both the 100 and 220 yds. dashes with Patterson, and probably second in each. Kilpatrick, for Union, is sure of the half and the mile, and if Sands is not able to run the quarter, can also win that. Union is also pretty sure of second in both the quarter and the half. In the hurdles Williams will very likely take first in each, but Union will make a hard fight for second and third. In the bicycle Union is looking for first and second, but Williams may have a dark horse. In the mile walk Williams may get first, but Union stands a fighting show for that, and is sure of second. In the hammer and shot Union is pretty sure of first, but it is understood that Williams is developing some good men in both these events. Union is pretty sure of first in the running high jump, and Williams will get the broad. The pole vault will also very likely go to Williams; but it is an uncertain event, for some of Union's candidates are showing up well. This estimate makes a tie for first places. One thing, however, is certain, and that is that the meet will be an unusually close one, and the college that wins will have to depend a great deal upon second and third places. The contest from the first will be a warm one, and it is more than likely that the last event, as it has done for the past two years, will decide it.

The annual spring meet will be held at the Schenectady Driving Park on May 4th and the preliminaries for the same on May 1st. The points won by each class will be reckoned by the percentage system and will count for the inter-class banner. Each class may only enter four men in each event, and any man may not compete in more than five, three of which may be either field or track events.

The events are:—100 yds. dash, 220 yds. dash, 440 yds. run, 880 yds. run, mile run, mile walk, 2-mile bicycle race, 120 yds. hurdle, 220 yds. hurdle, putting 16-pound shot, throwing 16-pound hammer, running high jump, running broad jump, and pole vault. The executive committee in charge of the meet consists of Manager Barnes, '95; T. F. Bayles, '95; T. Gordon, '96; H. Hennig, '97; W. E. Merriman, '98.

Five seniors, two juniors, one sophomore and two freshmen will strive for honors in extemporaneous speaking next June. The men chosen to speak in the Alexander contest are: Bayles, Cox, Guernsey, Pollock and Potter, '95; Craver and Young, '96; Pershing, '97; Fairweather and Reed, '98. The men were chosen at a preliminary contest held on Tuesday, regard being had for their respective scholarship in the English department. At the preliminary contest the question was debated: "Resolved, That the multiplication of millionaires in this country ought to be regarded as a favorable sign."

Union 24--Trinity 4.

On Monday, April 22, the first ball game of the season on the home campus was played with the crack nine from Trinity College. The afternoon was raw and rainy, and the diamond in a decidedly poor condition for a good exhibition of ball playing, nevertheless Umpire Estcourt called the game shortly after four o'clock with Union at the bat. In the first inning Union piled up nine runs, while Trinity was shut out. In the second Union added seven more, knocking Coggesall out of the box. The heavy hitting of the home team was one of the features of the game. In this inning Trinity put three men across the plate, and then Graves took the box, holding Union down to two runs. Again Trinity was shut out owing to the remarkable pitching of Sturdevant and his excellent support. In the fourth inning both teams scored one run; and in the fifth, Union added five more, while Trinity was again shut out. At this point the game was closed on account of darkness, leaving the total score 24 to 4 in Union's favor.

Is Protection Justified By Science?

This is the question discussed by Hon. Ellis H. Roberts on Friday afternoon, April 19, in the chapel. Mr. Roberts is a graduate of Yale in the class of '50, for some time editor of the Utica Morning Herald, congressman, chief of the sub-treasury at New York, and at present President of the New York Franklin National Bank. A man with such varied experience, it is needless to say, was able to treat his subject in a most practical, interesting and instructive manner. His first words of "fellow students," drew the attention of his audience at once.

The speaker said that science is the master power of our times. It reaches out in every direction, extending its arms from world to world. Under these circumstances it would be strange if science had not been busy with all that concerns government. The three beautiful graces of this latter part of this nineteenth century are political economy, political science and social science. Taken together these treat of the laws by which nations become rich, prosperous, and civilized.

Some of the foundation principles concerning these sciences laid down by the lecturer were: That sciences which relate to civil and social work are for social man and not for money-making purposes; that morality underlies both the State and society; that for the State, society, and the individual, the highest progress springs from industrial prosperity; and that all countries protect commerce according to laws.

From these principles the speaker showed how the industries of a country are the bulwarks of a government; and that any move of the government for the protection of these industries is for the people. And since a protective tariff accomplishes this it is for the best interests of all, and is a product of these political and social sciences.

AS WE go to press word is received from the manager of the Williams track and field team breaking his agreement with Manager Barnes for May 11.

AT a recent meeting of the student body the election of Mr. A. S. Derby, '96, as Manager of the Musical Association was unanimously approved by the house. The success which has already attended Mr. Derby's efforts bears conclusive evidence of his ability to fill the office.

WE wish, in behalf of the college, to thank Mr. C. E. Franklin, '83, for his valuable services in behalf of the musical clubs when they visited Albany. It was largely through his wise counsel and local influence that the concert in the Capital City was such a decided success.

CAPTAIN HOWARD is to be congratulated upon the recent marked improvement in the nine. We were informed a couple of weeks ago that the nine couldn't hit a pitched bat, to say nothing of the horsehide sphere, but we have heard no such criticisms since the game with Trinity when two base hits, three base hits and home runs were the features.

NEVER before has a football manager succeeded in scheduling such a large number of excellent games this early as has Manager Greenman. His energetic work in behalf of football will be greatly appreciated by Union men. A few of the best games on his schedule are as follows: Oct. 19, Amherst; Oct. 23, Princeton; Nov. 2, Williams; Nov. 9, Tufts or Rutgers; Nov. 16, West Point.

THE hospitable reception tendered the musical clubs by the Albany Club after the concert on April 24, was one of the most pleasant events of the trip. It is not generally known that there was an understanding between the Fort Orange and Albany clubs whereby the former, which contains a large number of Union men, should entertain the Williams clubs on their visit to Albany, and that the latter, which contains many Williams men, should open their doors to Union.

NO ONE doubts but that the musical association will in the future be a permanent college organization. The college now possesses three clubs, in either of which membership is an honor; and in future years it will be as eagerly sought after as membership upon any other college organization.

TO those who have worked long and earnestly for the perfection of the clubs, the college is greatly indebted; but especially are we under obligations to Mr. Joe O'Neill, who for the past two years has devoted his time, his energy and his remarkable talent to the accomplishment of the end which has recently been attained.

Here and There.

FALLEN FROM GRACE.

There is an angry landlady in Schenectady. "Angry" hardly expresses it. I might say mad. There is also a Freshman looking for a new berth. He is a slick Freshman, with a smooth face and a bland smile. I publish this description so that landladies in town may beware of him when he calls. He has been rooming on Union avenue, and not long ago, while "the missus" was out he stole into her sanctum sanctorum, and removing her "unmentionable" from beneath the bed pillow, he cooley sewed it shut across the middle and replaced it. He then made the bed up "French fashion"—I believe this trick originated at Vassar—and then placing a cocoanut under one pillow and a cobblestone under the other, he quietly stole away. In the front hall hangs a crayon portrait of "the missus," and the Freshman pasted on the glass over the face a huge baboon's countenance which he had cut from a newspaper.

When "the missus" prepared to retire that night, she got half way into that "unmentionable" and—no farther. And when she got into the bed she got half way and—no farther. And when she struck that cocoanut and that cobblestone she arose in her wrath and carried them to the front door and cast them into the street. It was then that she discovered her portrait. That is why she is "mad." That is why the freshman is looking for a new berth.

TOWN AND GOWN.

I was pained to learn of the free fight that terminated the game of ball between the freshmen and "Classicals" the other day; but not nearly as much pained as the gentleman from town whose head got in the way of the hard side of a freshman's fist, which little occurrence lay him out as flat as a sardine in a box. That same freshman just happened into the sanctum to leave a local note or two, and to incidentally "hit" the editorial pipe, so I took occasion to ask him why he should sally forth to tickle the ribs and chuck the chin of a poor, defenceless man.

"The blokey," said the freshman, "he was bigger'n I."

"Well, what if he was," I said.

"Didn't he call me a 'frosh,' and give me the guy, and d'you 'spose I'd stand around and let a sub-frosh, er a towney, run th' campus? Didn't he stand around chewin' a rag with th' rest of th' gang? So I up and told him to close his face, when he began to shy his dukes at my peepers, so I poked his jaw."

"Yes, and you knocked him clean off his feet."

"I know it; what of it?"

"Nothing of it—its only too bad he didn't get up so you could knock him down again—but by the way, where was Jim the copper all this while?"

"Goin' around pickin' up the pieces!"

Sophomore Class Banquet.

The Sophomore Class banquet held at the Edison Hotel Friday evening, April 26, was a great success. At about eleven o'clock thirty-five enthusiastic sophomores gathered around the festive board; "Pop" Sweetland and Toastmaster Cady being seated at the head of the tables which were arranged like a letter T.

About two o'clock Toastmaster Cady arose and addressed the class. His remarks were apt and provoked numerous outbursts of laughter and applause. He then proceeded to introduce the speakers of the evening, all of whom acquitted themselves in a highly creditable manner. The following toasts were responded to:

FRANK T. CADY, . . . . . TOASTMASTER

"Lay on Macduff and damned be he who first says,
'Hold! enough.'"—MACBETH.

ALMA MATER, . . . . . RAYMOND D. FULLER

"Happy be with such a mother."—TENNYSON.

RETROSPECT, . . . . . J. C. MERCHANT

"We will review those times, and in our memories Preserve, and still keep fresh those happier days."

THE "FROSH," . . . . . BENJAMIN BURTRESS

"No more like my father than I to Hercules."—HAMLET.

OUR POLLERS, . . . . . IRA HOTALING

"My life is one dem'd horrid grind."—DICKENS.

THE FACULTY, . . . . . HERBERT H. BROWN

"Grand, gloomy, and peculiar they sit upon their thrones, Wrapped in their own originality."—PHILLIPS.

THE LADIES, . . . . . GEORGE EDWARD WILLIAMS

"But what is woman?"

Only one of nature's agreeable blunders"—MRS. COWLEY.

'97 . . . . . HIRAM CHARLES TODD

"Fame points your course and glory leads the way."—PYE.

HON. JOHN H. STARIN, . . . . . PAUL CANFIELD

"Than which no star in the whole firmament shines more brightly."

THE PROPHECY, . . . . . WM. H. ROBINSON

"Oh heaven! that one might read the book of fate
And see the revolution of the times."

Obituary.

M. RALPH BAKER, '98.

No sooner did the college open for the term than the community was saddened by the intelligence of the death of M. Ralph Baker of the class of '98, at his home in Saranac Lake, after an illness of 17 days, from typhoid fever.

Mr. Baker entered the Plattsburgh Academy in the fall of 1887 and was graduated with the class of '91. The following year he became a student at the Normal, taking a two year's course in one. He then became a teacher in the Saranac Lake Academy, resigning in the fall of 1894 to enter Union College. He was to supplement his collegiate studies with a course at the Albany Law School. While at school in Plattsburgh he was considered one of the best general athletes in the academy, and was often called upon to uphold the honor of his school on the cinder path and diamond. Immediately after associating himself with the college, his interest in athletic sports became evident, and by hard and faithful work he secured a position upon the 'varsity eleven. He was also in training for the track team in anticipation of the spring meets.

Although connected with the college but a short time, he made many friends who will keenly feel his loss. Especially will he be missed in the local chapter of Psi Upsilon, of which fraternity he was a loyal member. A representation from Psi Upsilon was present at the funeral ceremony, and bore a beautiful floral tribute from the chapter.

After Wednesday's fiasco with Union, the Gloversville's released four of their star players and Manager Geer left town for the purpose of bagging something else.—Amsterdam Democrat.

An interesting and instructive lecture was delivered before the engineers and many others on Friday afternoon in the chapel. The speaker was Col. Henry G. Prout, of New York, who is well-known in engineering circles as the Editor of the Railroad Gazette.

Col. Prout is an eminent authority upon railroad engineering, particularly on permanent way; and from his large fund of experience, he drew up the many interesting features into one attractive whole, and used as his theme, "The Steel Rail as a Factor in Railway Development."

Mr. Flinn, of Albany, was on the track recently giving the field men "pointers" on throwing the hammer and putting the shot. Mr. Flinn was one of the best athletes in Albany a few years ago.
