ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT RE-ORGANIZED AND IMPROVED.

Professor Steinmetz and R. Neil Williams
Dsserve Most Credit for Change.
Faculty Changes.

Since last year there have been many changes in Union's Faculty. Shortly before the opening of the term Dr. Curtis resigned and Dr. Edward Ellery was secured to take his place in the chemistry department. Dr. Ellery comes thoroughly prepared. After graduating at Colgate he studied in Berlin and in Heidelberg where he received the degree of Ph.D.

Professor G. W. Wright is on leave of absence for a year and his work is being done by Professor Updyke and Professor F. S. Williams, together with Mr. Gervis of the Department of Mathematics. In order to relieve Mr. Garvis, Mr. R. B. Cunningham, LaFayette '02, comes as an instructor in mathematics. Because of the illness of Professor Edwards it will be necessary that his place in the department of Engineering be filled and for this position A. B. Young, a graduate of the University of Vermont, has been secured.

The most important changes of the year have taken place in the Department of Electrical Engineering. Professor Steinmetz and Professor R. Neil Williams being the only members of this department of last year's faculty.

Professor Steinmetz and Professor R. Neil Williams with the advice of some of the foremost American engineers have reorganized the whole Electrical Engineering Department basing it on papers read before the Association of American Engineers held in Great Barrington, in 1902, and without doubt it now gives the broadest and most thorough course in the country.

For this department the college has been fortunate enough to secure Dr. E. F. Creighton who has had training both in this country and abroad. Dr. Creighton is a man of much practical as well as technical experience, having been employed by the Stanley Electric Co., of Pittsfield, and the General Electric Co., of this city—the latter company still retaining him as a consulting engineer. He will have charge of all graduate work giving, at the same time, much of his attention to undergraduate students.

The great importance of a knowledge of mechanical engineering in connection with electrical engineering work has been recognized by the organizers of the course and Professor H. W. Mansfield is to take charge of this phase of the instruction. He will instruct in hydraulics, turbine design, steam engine theory and design, thermodynamics, gas engines and steam turbines.

All undergraduate work in electrical engineering will be under the immediate direction of Professor R. Neil Williams. Professor Steinmetz is the responsible head of this course, giving much of his time to it and it is because of his interest in it that the course has had such a reputation from the beginning.

Prof. FRANK SARGENT HOFFMAN

The philosophical writings of Frank Sargent Hoffman of the chair of philosophy at Union University, have attracted considerable attention during the past four years. His "Sphere of the State" has recently gone into the fourth edition, and a late publication, "Psychology and the Common Life," is meeting with unusual success.

Dr. Hoffman was born in Sheboygan Falls, Wis., February 9, 1852, but nearly all his early life was spent on a rocky farm in New Hampshire. When he was about seventeen years of age his parents moved to Galesburg, Ill. His own intention then was to secure a position as brakeman on a railroad that ran through the place and as soon as possible to become a conductor. He had a distant relative who had long been in the employ of the road and he expected to get an appointment through his influence. To his utter surprise this relative refused to help him in the matter, but allowed him to stay at his house and attend the academy near by till he could obtain some other employment. The result was that he soon was afire with the idea of going to college. With some assistance from home and some outside manual labor he continued his studies for two consecutive terms in the academy and then secured a position as a district school teacher. He "boarded round" in the homes of the scholars and found that about half of his time had to be devoted to the entertainment of the parents of the children after school hours. Sometimes he was at his wit's end to find out just how to fulfill this mission.

After three months in the country he was asked to take the principalship of a grammar school in the city of Galesburg, where he remained a year and then entered Knox College to go on with his studies. There he had Eugene Fields for a chum and classmate. After two years of college work he took a position in the Galesburg High School for one year and then entered Amherst College where he graduated in 1876.

The year after leaving college he was instructor in Latin and Greek in the High School at Princeton, Ill. From Princeton he went to Yale to perfect himself in the Greek language and literature, but finally took the course in theology, graduating with the D. B. degree in 1880. Shortly before Commencement he was assigned to the Hooker fellowship which had just been established in the institution, the income of which enabled him to study theology and philosophy for two years longer at Yale and abroad. Most of the time was spent at Berlin and Heidelberg with Zeller and Kuno Fischer.

On returning to this country he accepted the position of instructor in philosophy at Wesleyan University, which he held until he was appointed professor of philosophy at Union College in 1885.—American Education.

ALUMNI.

'15.—"How soon a man is forgotten is forcibly illustrated by a letter of inquiry received here (Battle Creek, Mich.,) by Battle Creek's oldest lawyer, Charles E. Thomas, stating that a history of the alumni of Union College in Michigan was being written, and that among the alumni was Nathaniel P. Tallmadge, once a politician of national reputation. The history of the man was known to a certain point and there he dropped out of sight. It was thought that the governor had died in Battle Creek. Mr. Thomas called to mind that a man by that name had lived in a community of spiritualists that had platted a village and opened a seminary at the place called Harmonia in Bedford township. By investigation just one other person was found in the city who remembered the man.

Tallmadge was a member of the New York assembly from Dutchess county in 1828; was state senator from 1830 to 1834, and was elected United States Senator in 1833, serving until 1844. September 16, 1844, he was appointed territorial governor of Wisconsin, by President Tyler, and served until May 13, 1845. Tallmadge became imbued with the theories of Spiritualism and the ideas of Fourcism, and co-operative community life being advocated by Horace Greeley at that time, and came here to join the Bedford Harmonial society. He was a very highly educated and cultured man and a gentleman of the old school. He suffered terribly from asthma, and finally died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mary Boardman, in Harmonia, and his remains were taken to Fond du Lac, Wis., for burial."—Detroit Free Press, Aug. 1, 1904.

Judge B. F. Graves of Detroit, recalls another interesting episode in Tallmadge's career. Mr. Tallmadge was one of a number of senators of the Democratic party, who with the Whigs, opposed President Van Buren in his effort to establish an independent treasury to take the place of the State banks. The Democrats formed a distinct body and gave themselves the name of "Conservatives." They found in Mr. Tallmadge an apt representative. In 1840 they helped to elect Harrison and Tyler. "Mr. Tallmadge, however, lost favor as a public man. He failed to be elected senator, and though Mr. Tyler made him governor of the Territory of Wisconsin, his star paled completely and he died near Battle Creek in semi-obscurity. I saw him once during his term as governor, and his presence suggested the possession of commanding ability. One word more: In June, 1841, I found myself at the Hermitage, near Nashville, and was honored by a conversation with Gen. Jackson. He allowed me to ask his opinion of several eminent men, and among them was Mr. Tallmadge. The general was very outspoken, and did not hesitate to question Mr. Tallmadge's politi-

New Instructor in Mechanical Engineering

C. W. Mansfield, a graduate of the University of Maine '02, is the latest addition to the faculty in the engineering department.

He comes as instructor in mechanical engineering, the new department of the university.

Mr. Mansfield while at college took special honors in physics and general honors in all subjects. Since graduation he has been employed in the draughting department of the General Electric Co.

THE BIBLE STUDY CLASSES.

The Leaders Announced.

If there is one book that has stood the test of time and proved that its intrinsic value is far beyond that of all other books, that's the Bible. If there is one book that the average college man knows least about, that's the Bible.

Realizing this in recent years there has been a strong movement among American colleges in favor of college bible study. Classes have been organized in almost all of the best known institutions, and Union has not been behind in this direction.

Last year, the Bible classes under the direction of the Y. M. C. A., though small, were instructive and interesting, and this year the classes have been organized and the work will begin at once. The following are the leaders, their classes and the work to be covered.

Freshman Class—Studies in the Life of Christ, McGregor, '05.

Sophomore Class—Studies in the Acts and Epistles, Lewis, '06.

Junior Class—Studies in the Old Testament characters, Hitt, '06.

The leaders of the classes do not want to pose as teachers, but merely as directors of the courses. A hearty invitation is given to every student who realizes the need of a knowledge of the Bible as part of a full education, to join one of these classes.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The Tuesday meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was observed as Mission-study rally. Dr. Kitchen, who for several years was a teacher in Japan, was the principal speaker. He gave a general survey of the more important mission fields and of the need of Christian men in those places. He concluded by urging the fellows to take up the study of missions, as offered in the Y. M. C. A. course, as a means of becoming informed on one of the great movements of the day.

Mr. Wright, the leader of the mission study class, spoke of the need and benefits to be derived from the study of missions.

Mr. McGregor gave an account of the work that had been done in mission study at Union and at other colleges. He stated that during the year 1902-3, there were 6,674 students, in this country, in mission study classes and that during the year 1903-4 there were 9,027. If the policies of the different associations are carried out, there will be over 17,000 in mission study classes this year. At Union, there were but five in the class last year. This year, it is expected that at least double that number will enter the class.

The book to be used this term is "Effective Workers in Needy Fields." It takes up the lives of David Livingstone of Africa; George L. Mackey of Formosa; Isabella Thoburn of India; Cyrus Hamlin of Turkey, and Joseph Neesima of Japan.

The class will meet next Tuesday after the regular meeting to decide upon a regular time for meeting. All students are invited to join the class.

The meeting next Tuesday night will be led by Nutt, '06. The subject of the meeting will be, "Is it right to steal ideas?"

Through the kindness of the college librarian, the Y. M. C. A. reading room committee has procured the magazine covers formerly used in the college library, and placed them on the magazines in Silliman Hall reading room.

The New York Herald has recently been added to our list of dailies; also several college exchanges.

THE LIBRARY.

Rules Adopted by the Library Committee, October 12, 1904.

Hours: 8-1; 2-6; 7-9 from Monday to Friday. 9-1; 7-9 Saturday.

The library will be closed on Sunday and legal holidays.

The library will be open during vacations at hours to be announced.

Loan of books: Reference, Cullen and valuable books are not to be loaned.

Reserved books may be loaned over night, i. e., from 9 p. m. to 8 a. m. There will be a fine of $1.00 per day or part of a day for each reserved book overdue.

Periodicals are regarded as reference books.

All other books may be loaned, ^{not more than} two at a time, for a period of two weeks and may be once renewed, unless called for. A fine of ten cents per day will be charged for all books overdue and all library privileges will be withdrawn until the book is returned and the fine paid.

Professors will account at the close of each term for books drawn from the library.

The college library wants the following numbers of the Concordiensis and Parthenon to complete its files for binding. The gift of any of these numbers will be greatly appreciated.

“I, I am It' for with my iron toe
I make a deep incision just below
My fierce opponent's little tum-ti-tum
Just to direct him where he ought to go.

But oh the glory in it, how they cheer!
My staunch supporters, when I grip the hair
Of that offending left end in the way,
Rejoicing that I've left him none to wear.

I am quite girlish-hearted in a way
And to my prostrate foe am fain to say
'That sudden jolt beneath your tenderloin
Wakes up your conscience if you want to pray.'

Away with gentle thoughts! Give me my place
Behind the line, then start a little race,
Oh sweet sensation when that tackle comes
Of pressing all four feet against his face.”

SOMETIMES SEEDS ARE SOWN IN AGRICULTURE.

There are many, many ways, for college men to sow their wild oats. It's lots of fun for a while, but it doesn't pay in the end. Many a college man has pushed a plow for that crop who would be better off today if he had taken the Agriculture Course.—Rutgers Targum.

It is not true that the faculty, the alumni the students or anyone who would be apt to be pleased with any improvement at Union, would feel hurt or discouraged if the college grounds were guarded over by a college policeman.

COLLEGE CHEERING.

We do not venture to predict a howling success in Union cheering, even if the students have become dissatisfied with the amount of noise they can make with their natural forces and have enlarged and extended by artificial means the aperture through which the sound usually issues.

Megaphones will increase the volume of the sound; they will ease the see-saw grind on the throat; they will assist the players in hearing every remark made on the sidelines, disparaging or otherwise, and they will somewhat stimulate a temptation to make the former kind of remarks on various occasions.

But Union cheering isn't necessarily going to get first grade marks from now on, however much it may be helped by outside sources. Union cheering doesn't depend on megaphones to make it known from the heights of Hamilton to the plain of N. Y. U. as typical Union cheering. If it does it's going to flunk.

The men in front of the bleachers and the men behind the 'phones are the ones who must transform our cheering from an irregular pastime into a systematized duty.

Three cheering leaders have been appointed. If any new songs are to be composed and sung, if any new yells are to be composed and yelled, if anything in the cheering department is to be done, they must lead.

If the students who will now attend four games on the campus in succession expect the cheering to become an important factor in every game, then they must be led.

Bryon's reputation as a poet and as one able to express lofty sentiments, has been terribly smirched in Sophomore circles. Somebody recalled that he once wrote "On with the dance?"

Just because the days of many-colored Autumn are here is no reason why the idol assumes various hues almost nightly.

TO SEPARATE THE CHAFF.

Section V. of the Constitution of the Concordiensis reads as follows:

"It shall be within the province of the editor-in-chief, with the approval of the remaining senior members of the board, to declare any position on the board vacant at any time during the year in case the holder of the position fails to perform in a manner satisfactory to the senior members the duties of his position. In such case he must enter into competition with all candidates for the position and must stand with them a fair trial as to their respective ability, for a period of not less than four consecutive weeks, after which time the senior board shall select the best competitor to fill the vacant position."

It is a self-evident truth that the mere presence of a student's name on the staff doesn't stand for an increase in good to the paper. Anyhow this paper isn't expecting to go ahead very much by that means. And it won't either.

After patient and careful investigation, the present senior board has failed to find any law or by-law which gives any member of the staff the right to feel that he is performing his duty when he allows the senior editors to chase him all over the valley-green in order to give him an assignment.

Going still further, the editors were unable to discover any legal support to the theory that they are sensitive about having members of the staff approach them with a request for something to do.

CONDOLENCE.

The Concordiensis, representing the student body, extends to Dr. Ellery its heartfelt sympathy on the death of his wife which occurred at Hamilton, N. Y., on Tuesday last.

Dr. Ellery has been at Union only this term and was preparing to move into South College with his family, when the sickness of his wife called him away.

The funeral took place on Thursday from her parents' home in Hamilton, N. Y.

NOTICE.

All Freshmen who desire to register for positions on the Concordiensis staff this college year must hand in their names before Nov. 1, as no one will be considered after that date.

The $1.50 subscription rate will be withdrawn after next week. All students who have not paid must do so before November 1st if they desire to take advantage of the special offer.

COLLEGE BRIEFS.

Junior Hop next Friday night.

The Philomathean meeting was postponed a week.

D. H. Thurber, ex-'07, a student now at Princeton, was on the hill last week.

Business Manager Chapman of the Garnet has a notice out for the Junior pictures.

E. T. Mallery, ex-'02, captain of the 1901 football team, was a visitor at the college this week.

Delta Upsilon fraternity gave its annual fall dance at Yates' Boat House, Thursday evening.

A new tall chimney has been erected over Washburn Hall. 1907 has adequately commemorated the event.

The increase in the attendance of the students at football practice is much encouraging to the coach and players.

Four new lights are going to be added to the illuminating facilities of the gymnasium. No objections have been heard.

The officers of the Philomathean Society are: Elmendorf, president; Sylvester, vice president; Haight, treasurer; Harvey, secretary; Truman, curator; Odell, Raymond, Sylvester, executive committee.

Richards, McClellan, Walters, Bishop, Peck, Shuttler, Moore, Flowers, Truman, Elmendorf, Barley, Lawrence, have been received as members.

In the regular Adelpia debate last Wednesday Lewis and Chapman for the negative defeated Hitt and L. H. Peebles for the affirmative on the question, Resolved, that the U. S. should promise the Philippines independence as soon as they are capable of managing their government.

MacGregor, Hart and Lewis compose the new executive committee, and White, Franchot, Osborne, Kruesi, Cabot and Tomlinson were received into membership.

COLLEGE POLITICAL MEETINGS.

Democrats Organize With Great Enthusiasm.

On the evening of Wednesday, Oct. 12th, the members of the student body who favor the Democratic party, assembled at Silliman Hall for the purpose of organizing a Democratic club, intending it to be an important factor of this fall's campaign. There were present in addition to these, about an equal number of Republicans who happened around for the purpose of being fair-minded. It was their wish to hear both sides of the political argument and they were willing to be converted if the Democrats should advance sufficiently convincing points.

At the present time there are on the roll no names of those who previously claimed to be Republicans, but while there is life there is hope.

L. H. Peebles assumed the chair and called the meeting to order amidst thunderous applause. After stating the object of the gathering he introduced Mr. James Cooper, '97, of Schenectady, as its speaker of the evening. (More thunder.) Mr. Cooper made an excellent address in which he proved without a question that the Democratic ticket was the only one for an ambitious college man to vote for and showed conclusively that the Republican platform is constructed of weak and rotten planks which stand for militarism, tariff and trusts. Mr. Cooper finished with an exhortation to all to join the ranks of Thomas Jefferson's party, and invited the club to attend the Democratic mass meetings in a body.

The meeting then proceeded to elect officers as follows:

President, George Hitt, '06.

Secretary, E. G. Simons, '05.

Those who enrolled for membership in the club are:

Simons,
L. H. Peebles,
J. B. Peebles,

The Republican Club.

At eight o'clock of the same evening, in Professor Hoffman's room, the Republican club held its second meeting which was attended by about fifty men. The platform decoration consisted of a red, white and blue parasol upon which the portraits of Roosevelt and Fairbanks were set forth, and on the handle was fastened a small automobile horn for scaring away bad luck.

President Wadsworth took the chair and in a few words told how gratifying and encouraging it was to see the club turn out in such goodly numbers, and announced that on account of illness Mr. W. Dewey Loucks, who was to have addressed the gathering, would not be present that evening.

Secretary Barnes read the minutes of the previous meeting, and the president introduced as the speaker of the evening Mr. Salmon, Albany Law School, '04, of Schenectady, as the speaker of the evening.

Mr. Salmon delivered a flowery and humorous speech and commenced by declaring it his intention to eliminate the personal factor as he declared that it is not the candidate that the American citizen votes for, but the principles of the party which he represents.

After reviewing the effects of the various administrations upon the country at large and calling attention to the sterling qualities and high morals of the statesman whom the Republican party has advanced, Mr. Salmon proceeded to expose Judge Herrick's machinations and closed his address by congratulating the fellows upon their enthusiasm, and extended his best wishes to them in their endeavors.

The club voted to turn out in a body for the Republican mass meeting which was announced for October 18th.

The following were appointed to compile some songs and yells: Gilmore, chairman; Raymond and Ryder.

The meeting then adjourned after arranging for another meeting on Wednesday, Oct. the 19th.

There were five new names added to the roll. They were: Elmendorf, Bryan, Mooers, Parsons, Hagar.

The membership is now forty-five.

Last Wednesday's meeting was postponed for a week because of its nearness to the mass meeting on Tuesday.

FOOT BALL FOR THE WEEK.

Varsity scrimmage during the week has brought out the fact that Union's players will have to fight hard for the game today. R. P. I. has an eleven which practicing under the greatest difficulty held Fordham down to 22 points. While there is nothing to be derived from comparative scores it may be interesting to note the following:

Fordham, 24; N. Y. U., 0.

N. Y. U., 5; Rochester, 6.

R. P. I., 0; Fordham, 22.

It will be seen that R. P. I. is very nearly equal to Union, inasmuch as N. Y. U. was beaten by Fordham 24-0, and was defeated by Rochester 5-6, the same score which defeated us.

The situation behind the line is not very good. None of the backs are sure in handling punts. At quarter, Robinson, MacNab and Colburn are doing well with chances in favor of MacNab. Reeder is out for end and this is apt to make Davis' position anything but sure. Von Dannenburg, Wright, Dann and Moore have been playing consistently although he fell off a bit last week. Nutt is better than Gilmour on the offensive but Gilmour out-classes Nutt in defense. Kluge is still weak in his position on the defensive.

Bill Smith says that the team ought to win the rest of the games this season.

THE HAMILTON GAME.

Superior Playing Wins Exciting Contest For Hamilton.

On Saturday last the football team of Union College, accompanied by one hundred "rooters," left for its annual battle with Hamilton. The day was as fair as could be desired and the trip very enjoyable. Arrived at Utica the boys went by trolley to Clinton and climbed the long hill which leads up to the college. The west bleachers were filled with the Union enthusiasts and the east with Hamilton men.

At 3:15 the student body of Hamilton marched two abreast and headed by the village drum corps around the campus to their bleachers. At 3:30 the sound of Hamilton's long yell announced the arrival on the field of their team, and in a minute or two the "Ray, Ray, Rah-Rah-Rah, Union!" proclaimed that the boys in Garnet had made their appearance.

Hamilton won the toss and chose the southwest goal. Patton kicked off to Stowell who ran the ball back to his own 25 yard line. Hamilton pushed Mann through the centre for three yards. A shift wing play was then tried and Bramley took the ball for a quarterback run. He was not stopped till he had circled Union's right end for 40 yards and was tackled by Robinson just out of bounds. Again Hamilton pounded the line but Stowell fumbled and it was Union's ball.

Hamilton had got the ball on Union's 20 yard line but was penalized 15 yards for holding. Bramley succeeded in getting away from the Union players and making a spectacular run of 18 yards. The ball was brought back because Hamilton had held again. The same tactics were tried but Wright downed Bramley before he had gained an inch.

Sicard then punted and the ball went straight up in the air. Bramley caught it and for this the ball was given to Union. Harvey and Moore failed to gain and Patton had to kick. Hamilton was penalized 15 yards for holding and Union 10 yards for offside play. Hamilton braced and sent the backs against the Union line which yielded until the ball rested on the 15 yard line when the half ended.

The second half began with a whirlwind start. Union could not gain after the kickoff. Hamilton was then given the ball and started to rush it strongly down the field. Mann and Stowell made good gains through the Union line and Bramley helped along with a trick play culminating in an end run.

Haggerson was shoved along for a good gain and the ball went to Hamilton on Union's two yard line. Mann was shoved over the line for a touchdown and Bramley missed an easy goal. Score 5-0.

Harvey received the ball on the kickoff. The Union line had been battered to such an extent that Cook was substituted for Davis, Norwood for Kluge, Shutler for Wright, MacNab for Robinson, and Becker for Raymond in rapid succession and the ball was on our 10 inch line when the whistle blew. The line up:

UNION (o)		Hamilton (5)
(Cook) Davis	Le Munyan
	Left end.
Patton	Swetman
	Left tackle.
Von Donnenburg	Hemmens
	Left Guard.
Nutt	Nellis
	Centre.
(Norwood) Kluge	Speh
	Right guard.
Dann	Thompson
	Right tackle.
(Shulter) Wright	Sicard
	Right end.
(MacNab) Robinson	Bramley
	Quarterback.
Harvey	Haggerson
	Left halfback.
Moore	Stowell
	Right halfback.
(Becker) Raymond	Mann
	Fullback.

Touchdown—Mann.

The score was 5-0 in favor of Hamilton but it did not show the game. The ball was in Union's territory during the entire game and nearly always in Hamilton's possession. We were outweighed and outplayed but it does seem as if some of the men, especially Patton, Moore and Nutt could have played just a wee bit harder. It is not the purpose of this article to gloss over the game and say that we held them to one touchdown, but to say that it was only by the greatest good fortune that the final score was as it was.

Our team is too slow as regards trick plays. How many times the hearts of the fellows sank when Bramley tried a fake play through the end and then turned quickly back to centre to find it just as he expected, with beautiful vistas of the autumn foliage and the distant mountains appearing where our centre ought to be.

Bill Smith has brought the boys up to play straight football and they can do it too, but they must pay a little more attention to the trick plays of opposing teams.

Credit must be given to Robinson, Wright, Harvey, Von Donnenburg and Davis who got into the game from every kickoff.

Notes of the Game.

Hamilton's songs and yells for the occasion were fine. Union should get busy and have a few new ones for the remaining games.

* * * *

If the seniors, who are so opposed to the old "series," could have heard it yelled at the Utica depot Saturday they might realize that it still has more vim in it than any yell we have.

* * * *

There was a scarcity of Union pennants, megaphones and modern cheering apparatus at the game.

* * * *

Hamilton is to be congratulated on the courteous methods of her treatment toward us.

* * * *

The hill leading to the Hamilton campus made Union men glad that they were in Union.

* * * *

Mr. Garis and Mr. Cunningham are to be congratulated on their college spirit.

* * * *

Would you rather be a "Frosh" or a "Slimer."

About the Trip.

About last Monday the trip looked as if it might be composed of the team only inasmuch as so little spirit was shown. As the time for the trip drew nearer several showed their desire to accompany the team and aid them in their quest for gore. When the 8:46 train pulled out of Schenectady last Saturday it had 100 loyal sons of the Garnet on board. The journey to Utica was a delight both owing to the condition of the weather and the confidence which the fellows had in the team.

The crowd arrived in Utica in good season and amused the citizens of that peaceful town with a few "gentlemanly" college yells, leaving the "osky-wow-wow" off in every case.

From Utica to Clinton the trip is by trolley; jolting, jumping trolley. When you finally disentangle yourself you wake to the fact that there is a hill to be climbed before the college is reached, a hill like the Acropolis at Athens perhaps or similar to Mt. Ararat or upper State St.

The location of the college pays for the climb up, however, and one forgets, in the beauty of the surroundings, the pull up.

The Union boys led by Hunt and the big banner reached the Hamilton gymnasium at 2:30 where they were warmly welcomed and escorted to the north bleachers.

After the game the boys returned to Utica where they took dinner at the Butterfield. They enlivened the air about the depot with good yells until 9:30 when the special car was attached to the fast mail.

FRESHMEN, 5—SOPHMORES, 0. First Class Game.

The first interclass football game between the Freshmen and Sophomores proved to be a very exciting contest.

Barring an occasional fumble the game was one of many individual plays.

The 35 yard run, for a touchdown by Mulrooney in the first half, was the feature of the game.

Maure did good work for the Sophomores by repeatedly making gains of 10 and 15 yards.

After 5 minutes play in the second half the game was called on account of darkness.

Following is the line-up and score.

Freshmen, 5.	Sophomores, 0
Cabot, (Bacon).....	Traynor

Touchdown, Mulrooney; Referee, Bill Smith; Linesmen, LaRoche, '08, Robinson, '07; Timekeepers, Newbury, '06, K. H. Peebles, '06. Time of halves, 15 minutes and 5 minutes.

The next class game will be Oct. 26th. Then the Juniors will meet the Sophomores. The Freshmen will play the Sophomores again on Friday, Oct. 28th.

TENNIS MEET WITH HAMILTON ASSURED.

Hamilton Will Meet Union in the Spring.

While at Clinton last week President King of the Tennis Association spoke to Hamilton representatives in regard to a match with them.

Hamilton is very anxious to play Union and a meet with them in the spring is assured. The meet will take place in Schenectady on the college courts which will be put in repair.

Hamilton Life says of tennis: "There is no reason if Hamilton receives the support in this branch of athletics why she should not rank with the first of the New York State colleges."

The outlook for a successful team is fairly bright here. Some good material has developed in the freshman class and there is no doubt that Union will make the match an extremely interesting one.

At present there is a great deal of interest being taken in tennis and a fall tournament is now going on. Most of the preliminaries have been played and the winners of these will compete this week.

The list of those entered is as follows:

Raymond '05	Read '07
Chapman '06	Colburn '08
E. J. King '05	Vincent '08
Thompson '05	Cabot '08
Dwight '06	Keith '08
Brooks '06	Hoffman '08

BASE BALL AVERAGES FOR 1904. Hagar Leads the Batting—Rider the Fielding.

It is to be regretted that the averages given below have had to be held back until the interest in them is rather lukewarm.

Next spring, the management may introduce an innovation by appointing a regular scorer to accompany the team on its trips, and to keep an accurate record throughout the season of the individual showing of the players. Most colleges do this, but here at Union it has apparently not been thought necessary.

Aided by the kindness of A. H. Child, editor of Hamilton Life, who provided the score of the Hamilton-Union game at Hamilton when the Union record had been lost, the averages can now be published.

The team both in its batting and fielding was decidedly below the marks of Union baseball teams for the seasons of 1902 and 1903. The fielding shows much more consistent team playing than the batting which offers only two men batting over .300.

Figures do not always count however. It happens many times that a player who is not even among the leaders in either his batting or fielding is nevertheless one of the strongest factors on the team for a victory.

THE TRACK MEET.

Good Material in Freshmen Class, Brought Out by Inter-Class Meet Yesterday.

Good material in Freshman Class, as brought out by Inter-class Meet yesterday.

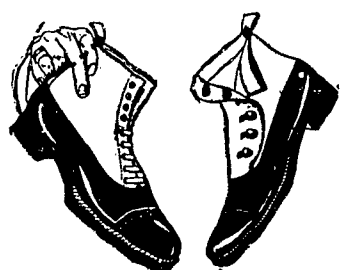

The track meet, which took place yesterday afternoon, made evident the fact that the 'varsity team would be somewhat strengthened by the addition of excellent material from the freshman class. The training for the various events brought out several fast freshmen sprinters and distance men, who with proper training in the spring will make a strong contingent to add to the team for the meets with the other colleges.

Captain Raymond, in an interview, said that his hopes were bright for a successful season. All the sprints, middle and distance runs were covered in fairly good time; the hammer throw and the various jumps brought out able representatives, and so far it is safe to expect at least equal chances with other institutions.

In one respect, however, our team is inefficient. Not enough fellows seemed to take interest in the hurdle races. Now there is no doubt that there is much needed material for the hurdles in college and Captain Raymond hopes that in the spring there will be more interest shown in that event.

Owing to the lateness in the week of the meet, it is impossible to give the winners of the various events in this issue.

The officials who presided were as follows: Starter, Dr. Towne; clerk of course, L. C. Hart; judges at finish, Mr. Pond, W. J. Smith, Mr.

THE EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

The Employment Bureau which was instituted last year and so successfully conducted under the supervision of Dr. Stoller, has again resumed its work and, it is needless to say, every effort is being made by the committee in charge to accomplish the desired purpose of the institution.

Since the opening of the college year, the Bureau has succeeded in obtaining positions for twelve applicants, whereby these students, during leisure hours, may earn from $1.50 to $4.00 weekly.

So far, the results have equalled, if not surpassed the expectations of the student body and the excellent work of the Bureau gives assurance of another successful season.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE

New York City

THE course covering four years begins during the first week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage.

All the classes are divided in small sections for recitation, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction.

Students are admitted to advance standing after passing the required examinations.

The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the State of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised.

The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.
