JUNIOR WEEK

The Junior "Prom" and the Sophomore Soiree have come and gone and Junior Week will soon again be a thing of the past. But although nearly past, the memory of the week will linger for months to come, for it is safe to say that no social functions have ever been more enjoyed by Union students and their friends.

The Sophomore Soiree, which was held at the Mohawk Golf Club on Thursday night, was one of the most successful dances ever given by the sophomore class. The program contained twenty-one regular dances and four extras, the music being furnished by Parsons' seven-piece orchestra. Over one hundred couples were present, and the opening dance of the week was enjoyed to its fullest extent by all who attended. The list of dances for the soiree was as follows:

The Junior Promenade, the crowning social event of the week, was held at the Ten Eyck Hotel in Albany last night. The attendance of the students was most gratifying and the dance was a signal success. The best of spirit pervaded the mezzanine; the music, which was furnished by Zita's orchestra, was all that could be desired; the refreshments were dainty and admirably served, and excellent management was evident in every detail.

A REVERIE.

After the "Prom."

The dawn in the east was breaking
As with my cigar alone,
My fancy gently was making
Dreams of the "Prom" that was gone.

She and I were waltzing together
To the music soft and low;
As my arm easily held her,
What wasn't set my heart aglow?

Her modest and downcast glances
Answering some half-uttered thought,
Revealed to me my chances—
What joy in my dream was brought!

But the wreaths of smoke are ended,
The vision has flown afar;
And a smile and a sigh are blended
As I re-light my cigar.

MUSICAL CLUB'S CONCERTS.

The Musical Clubs performed before crowded houses in Gloversville and Amsterdam on the past Friday and Wednesday. The program was enthusiastically received in both places. The Glee Club is learning a new number which will probably be used in Tarrytown and Brooklyn. The Troy concert will be given in the Emma Willard School on February 20th. Tonight the Glee Club sings at the bazaar in the Armory. The remaining dates are: February 20, Troy; February 24, Tarrytown; February 25, Brooklyn; April 21, Albany; April 28, Schenectady.

TEAM MEETS COLGATE TO-DAY

IN HARDEST GAME OF SEASON.

A Victory To-day Will Make Union Champion of the State.

The team left this morning for Hamilton where they will meet the fast Colgate team. As yet neither team has been defeated and it is certain that the game will be a fast one. If Union wins this game, she may well consider herself the basketball champions of the state, as Colgate has already defeated Cornell and Rochester by large scores.

Colgate is at a decided advantage when playing in her own gymnasium, since the court is so small that it takes those who are not used to playing on it some time to get accustomed to it. In all the years that Colgate has been playing basketball, she has been defeated on her own court but twice. The Colgate team has already won five victories this year as follows:

Colgate, 24; Dartmouth, 18.

Colgate, 31; 44th Separate Co., 18.

Colgate, 40; Rochester, 23.

Colgate, 25; Cornell, 20.

Colgate, 20; Rochester, 12.

The line-up for the game will probably be as follows:

UNION.	COLGATE.
McKinstry	Hammond
	Right Forward.
Hequembourg	Kennedy
	Left Forward.
Micks (Capt.)	Loeber (Capt.)
	Center.
Fairbairn	Schraedieck
	Right Guard.
Leon	Collins
	Left Guard.

TRI-LEAGUE DEBATE.

At the try-out held on Thursday, the following men were chosen to represent Union on the Tri-League debate, February 24:

Team against Hamilton, at Clinton: Bray, '11; A. D. Mann, '12; Potter, '12, and Streever, alternate.

Team against Colgate, at Schenectady: Walser, '12; Barclay, '12; Cavert, '11, and A. B. Mann, alternate.

THE QUESTION.

If 'twere over, when 'tis over,
'Twere well to go to the Prom,
And to go in style.
But since Dad will not cough up
And to go, would run me in debt
Some twenty-five bucks;
To go to the Prom,
Or not to go,
Is, indeed, a serious question.

THE COLLEGE WIDOW.

She sat alone in leafy June,
Her heart was sad and aching
Her voice was somewhat out of tune
As if with tears 'twere shaking;
But still she sang in accents low,
While looking up the river,
"For studes may come, and studes may
go,
But I go on forever!"

She heard the college chappies laugh,
As up the hill they wended,
And felt they were too glad by half,
That college life was ended.
She wished—and here her tears did flow,
That studes were fickle never,
"For studes may come," she sang, "and
go,
But I go on forever." '95.

EXTINGUISHED.

"You are the light of my life," said
Fanny, as
She softly kissed him good night.
Then came a voice from the top of the stairs:
"Fanny; put out that light."—Ex.

"To-night," exclaimed the young man with sudden courage, "I shall ask her to be my wife."

But as he rang the bell, he muttered
"B-b-by Jove, I h-h-hope she's out."

WHEN THE WASH COMES BACK.

Why, here's some socks from gay Paree,
And here's a stranger's "B. V. D."
A white vest, whose capacity
Would hold two hippopotami.

Next comes a shirt of faded blue,
A pair of loud pajamas, too.
Unless MY clothes come P. D. Q.
I'll dare not pace the avenue.

Good laundress, if compassion's thine,
Restore the clothes for which I pine;
My heart will beam like bright sun-

If you'll bring back ONE THING THAT MINE.

A STUDENT HYPOCHONDRIAC.

At twelve o'clock, when 'twas pitch dark,
There was a ringing at the bell.
The doctor dressed. "He's dying," he guessed.
"For my, how he does yell."
The door flew ope, in a student broke,
And on the floor he fell.
The youth was frightened, old doc excited,
As he did his story tell.

"O doc, I'm sick, do please be quick,
I'm sure I'm going to die.
O mother, dear, if you were but here."
He did quite sadly sigh
As he spake, he felt an ache.
That almost made him cry.
Old doc came near, with a face austere.
He said, "'Tis naught but pie."

OPTORIAL.

Take a certain number of the Common College Variety of Young Men who have been soaked in studies for half a year, add to this an equal amount of the shorter and prettier sex, flavor with teas of the usual length, simmer for three evenings of the week to waltz music, sprinkle with dinners and theater parties, mix thoroughly and stir constantly for three days. Serve on a stretcher.

Union's prodigal sons again pack away their evening clothes and with the sound of dance music in their ears, the taste of ices in their mouths, and the feeling of fatigue in their hearts, take up the broken thread of college work. Is it any wonder that the students resume their work with such vim that they bolt all the eight o'clocks, and then doze sweetly though the interesting nine o'clocks?

"When," asks the curious observer,
"does the Junior Week vacation begin?"

And the Dean's answer is, paradoxically, "After the Junior Week recess."

A WINNING TEAM. Union's basketball team this season is one that is occasioning much commendation and favorable comment not only from the undergraduate body, but also from alumni, newspapers, and the outside public. The fact that Union has never before had a basketball team that could fairly be called successful is all the more reason for giving fullest credit to the team.

The student body is justly appreciative of the faithful and consistent work of Coach Kuolt and of every man on the team. Winning athletic teams will probably do more than any other thing at present to advertise the college and to promote its growth and welfare.

PRES. RICHMOND'S TRIP. The extended trip that President Richmond is making among Union alumni in the South is one that cannot fail to result in a deepened enthusiasm among our southern graduates. Union has always been proud of the fact that she is the Alma Mater of so many Southerners.

One of the most pressing needs of the college is a more definite and a closer organization of our alumni. It is for this purpose that the Graduate Council has been called into existence, and it is in the interest of the same work that President Richmond is visiting the alumni of the South.

"COLLEGE DEMOCRACY." An editorial in the January number of "The College World," entitled "College Democracy," is evidence of the fact that the work which our Christian Association has begun in enlisting college men to teach the foreign-speaking people in our city, has attracted the attention of some men outside of our own college. The editor of "The College World," in the editorial referred to above, calls attention to this work that Union students are doing for the foreigner, and says that it is a typical illustration of what genuine college democracy should mean.

And, by the way, "The College World" is a good magazine. It is a very attractive and up-to-date periodical, which has just recently begun publication. It is really a college man's magazine.

Alumni News.

EDITED BY GRADUATE COUNCIL

THE COUNCIL AND THE TRUSTEES.

At the January meeting of the Board of Trustees a very important recommendation of the Graduate Council was approved and will be put into effect shortly. This recommendation provides that hereafter the president of the college, the Board of Trustees, and the Graduate Council shall be the only bodies empowered to solicit money from the alumni for college purposes. The aim of this resolution is to replace the many appeals now sent to the alumni, by a regular yearly gift which will be paid to the treasurer of the college and spent by the trustees for the various increasing needs that our development is bringing about. In this way regular financial aid will be secured from the alumni and they in turn will be relieved from the annoyance of many begging letters.

This plan is in general similar to that at Princeton. It does not aim to tie alumni down to one sort of gift for, if they so wish, their yearly subscription will be turned over to such purposes as they direct. It does, however, give the graduates the assurance that their money goes directly to the authorities who are managing the college affairs and it will be spent in the ways most useful. The other advantage which this plan offers lies in the fact that the generous alumni, who are always giving when called upon, can now settle the amount they wish to give this cause and know that they will not be called on for more at odd moments. In a word, it aims at protecting financial support a regular and businesslike matter.

WASHINGTON DINNER.

The Washington Alumni Association held its annual dinner at the Hotel Shoreham on Monday, January 30th. Twenty five guests were present and much interest was shown in the reports of the progress the college has been making. President Richmond and Dean Ripton, who were the guests of honor, made these reports and the speakers that followed were Dr. Seaman Knapp, '56, Judge William P. Rudd, '73, and Hon. Joseph E. Ramsdell, '82. President George C. Robinson, '61, acted as toastmaster. Before the dinner an election of officers was held at which Col. George C. Hazleton, '58, was chosen for president and Mr. Philip J. Ryan, '80, as secretary and treasurer.

"TALKS TO COLLEGE MEN ON FUNDAMENTAL SUBJECTS."

Two Distinguished College Speakers to Be Heard.

February 13, 14 and 15 will be red letter days in this college year at Union. On these evenings Robert E. Speer and "Bob" Davis are to be here and to give a series of three talks on subjects of especial value and interest to college men.

The College Christian Association has been the means of securing these speakers. "Bob" Davis, who is to speak the first two evenings, is a young graduate of Dartmouth, where he was one of the best known and popular men in athletics and other student activities. He has been the assistant pastor of the Brick Presbyterian Church in New York until he was recently called to Englewood, N. J., a wealthy suburb of New York. Union men who have been at the Northfield Student Conference will remember. "Bob" Davis as the jolly, big fellow who used to lead the singing in the great auditorium meetings.

The name of Robert E. Speer is one that is well known to college men all over this country and in other lands. He is one of the most distinguished graduates of Princeton within the last twenty-five years. At Princeton he was prominent as editor of "The Daily Princetonian," and as tackle on the famous football team of '89. He is widely known as a speaker at all of our great universities and as an author of many books dealing especially with the lives of college students. Some of his best known works are "A Young Man's Questions," "Memorial of a True Life," "Christ and Life," "The Principles of Jesus," and "Young Men Who Have Overcome."

At the regular winter meeting of the athletic board on Wednesday night D. W. Whitney was elected assistant football manager for next year.
