American Monthly Review of Reviews How Can I Keep Up With the Times?

It is pretty hard to keep well informed on political news,
the scientific news, the literary news, the educational movements, the great business developments, the hundreds of interesting and valuable articles in the hundreds of excellent magazines. About the only way it can be done by the average busy man and woman is to read a magazine like the "Review of Reviews," and, as it is the only magazine of the sort, it is a good thing to send $2.50 for a year's subscription.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT says:

"I know that through its columns views have been pre-cause all earnest and thoughtful men, no matter how widely their ideas diverge, are given free utterance in its columns."

VOL. XXVII.

UNION COLLEGE, OCTOBER 28, 1903.

No. 5.

AMHERST 16: UNION 0.

Last Wednesday afternoon Union's football players took a decided brace over their playing of last Saturday, and held Amherst to only 16 points, and all these were made in the first half. Amherst tried her best to score in the second half, but was unable to do so. Union played on the defensive all through the game, and when they got the ball generally punted, Amherst made gains almost every time they hit the center. However, when they tried end runs they were nearly always held for no gains. It is very doubtful if Amherst would have run up the score that she did if three of the Union men had not been out of the game on account of injuries. This is a very small score considering that Amherst beat Harvard 5 to 0 and held Columbia to 12 points. The game was a very clean one, and there was practically no dirty playing. Every man on the hill is highly jubilant as they expected that Amherst would run up a large score.

FIRST HALF.

Amherst kicked off to Union and Kluge obtained the ball on the 40 yard line and advanced it about five yards. Here Union lost the ball on a fumble. Amherst by steady line plunges forced the ball over the line for the first touchdown, and kicked the goal. Union kicked off to Amherst, who lost the ball on a fumble. Union was unable to make her yards and was obliged to punt. Amherst forced her way over the line for the second touchdown by repeated line plunges, but did not kick the goal. Union kicked off to Amherst. Amherst was obliged to punt and Union punted back again, but had to over again on account of off-side playing. Amherst then forced the ball over the line for another touchdown. The goal was not kicked. Union had just kicked off to Amherst when time was called.

SECOND HALF.

Union kicked off to Amherst who lost the ball on a fumble on their five yard line. Cook tried to drop a kick goal but failed, but got a touchback. Amherst then punted from their 20 yard line and Union punted back. Amherst forced the ball to Union's 15 yard line where she lost it on a fumble. Union punted to their 50 yard line. Then Amherst forced the ball to Union's 15 yard line. When Amherst was penalized 20 yards for holding, Union obtained the ball on downs and tried to punt but the kick was blocked and Amherst obtained the ball on Union's 10 yard line. At this point time was called, without Amherst having made a single touchdown in the second half. The line-up:

INTERCLASS TRACK MEET.

The annual fall inter-class meet was held last Saturday afternoon on College oval, the sophomores winning by a good margin, this being the first time in several years that the sophomore class has won an event of this kind at Union. The score by points was as follows: 1904, 1; 1905, 2; 1906, 57; 1907, 45.

From the first event the meet, which developed a considerable amount of good material from the freshman class, resolved itself into a bitter struggle for supremacy between the two lower classes. The stars of the day were Waldron, '06, and Colburn, '07, these two capturing 24 and 28 points respectively. The time in some of the sprints was remarkably good, considering the cold wind which blew over the field.

The results were as follows:

100 yard dash: Waldron, '06, first; Wait, '07, second; Richardson, '07, third. Time 10 4-5 seconds.

120 yard hurdles. Colburn, '07, first; White '07, second; Eldridge, '07, third. Time, 22 4-5 seconds.

One-quarter mile run: Waldron, '06, first; Fairbairn, '07, second; MacGregor, '05, third. Time, 57 3-5 seconds.

220 yard hurdle: Colburn, '07, first; Vondannenburg, '06, second; White, '07, third. Time, 29 3-5 seconds.

One-half mile run; Reed, '06, first; Vondannenburg, '06, second; MacGregor, '05, third. Time, 2 minutes, 39 2-5 seconds.

220 yard dash: Waldron, '06, first; Wait, '07, second; Richardson, '07, third. Time, 24 3-5 seconds.

Broad jump: Waldron, '06, first; Hagar, '06, second; Colburn, '07, third. Distance, 18 feet 8 inches.

High jump: Waldron, '06, and Colburn, '07, tied for first place; Lawsing, '04, second. Best jump, 4 ft. 8 inches.

One mile run: Colburn, '07, first; Reed, '06, second; Osbourne, '07, third. Winning time, 5 min. 5 4-5 sec.

Shot put: Vondannenburg, '06, first; Colburn, '07, second; Cantwell, '06, third. Distance, 31 feet.

16 pound hammer: Colburn, '07, first; Reed, '06, second; Vondannenburg, '06, third. Best throw, 81 ft. 8 in.

Cancellation of The Cornell-Union game which was to the Cornell Game. have been played at Ithaca on Oct. 24th was cancelled by Manager Guardenier of the Union team during the early part of last week. Some of the Press comments on this subject which have come to the sight of the Editors are most unfair to Union. On the 17th the Garnet wearers were defeated by Hamilton after an exceptionally long and hard fought game. With a partially crippled team, Union met Amherst on the 21st. The team, although in poor condition from the loss of three Varsity men, made a remarkably good showing against the Harvard conquerors. The Union management considered the question from all points of view and came to the decision that it would be impossible to send a team to Ithaca which would fairly represent Union. Union regrets that there has been any feeling over the matter.

A Mistake. It used to be customary at Union for all students to speak when they pass each other. It is a mistake for the freshmen to think that they need a formal introduction to every man in college before they may in all propriety greet their fellow students. We are, as it were, brothers in the house of our Alma Mater and our numbers are not so great as to warrant any disregard of the usual courtesies.

The New Instructors. The editors regret that until this time no pointed words of greeting have been extended to the new instructors at Union, thro' the columns of the "Concordiensis." Their position in the matter may, however, be explained by a word. An article appears in this issue on "The New Instructors" and it seemed more fitting to reserve the editorial welcome until now, so that the two mentions could be brought out in the same issue. In behalf of the student body we greet you and sincerely trust that your years on the faculty may be long and happy and that your efforts may be crowned with that success which is always the reward of earnestness.

Football. No one is sorry that he went over to Albany to see the Amherst game. Every one came back feeling almost satisfied and with the stimulating assurance that our team is capable of playing good football. It was proven too, and a large crowd of Union men witnessed the proof. The significant feature of the game was this—that, after doing with us almost what she pleased in the first half Amherst couldn't score in the last half. It is not so often that anything like this happens in any game.

It is hard, for a losing team to forget, as it were, the score, and play as if it were the winner. And when it does, we may count on that team having a great deal better stuff than that of which dreams are made. We were outplayed and outclassed, but we showed our teeth. Once, on Amherst's five yard line, we actually growled. Next Saturday, with the same courage and spirit, let's bite.

Q. E. D., '05

Hamilton's Attitude. From the issue of the Hamilton Life for October 24, we make the following excerpt:

"During the Union game of last Saturday there were many happenings and occurrences which are not allowed under this year's edition of the football rules. The principal fouls were slugging and unnecessary delay of the game. When the umpire attempted to penalize the offending team he was threatened with forcible expulsion from the field. That such actions should be allowed on a college football field shows poor management to say the least. No doubt the Union men desired to be gentlemanly and sportsmanlike in every detail, but the excitement proved too much for their self-control and better natures. They did not play a clean game and also greatly stretched the restraint placed upon Hamilton's players. But thanks to their good bringing up, our team acted the gentleman always and gave its supporters, together with its opponents, no chance to cry 'dirty.'"

That Hamilton should take such an attitude towards Union is to be regretted; but that Hamilton should seek to preach "gentlemanly conduct and sportsmanlike spirit" to Union is rather inconsistent with their bearing. The game referred to was full of disputed decisions, unfortunately, and fairer umpires have, at times, been seen on the campus, but is that any reason why, after all the hopes and wishes of the best men in both colleges seemed realized, the organ of Hamilton should take upon itself to open the wound of three years ago? Those who say that Hamilton was not treated justly are merely looking for a new break between the colleges. Union desires to maintain cordial relations with the college at Clinton and cannot understand why, if a similar feeling exists at Hamilton, why the "Life" should publish such unfair, one-sided and discourteous remarks on the recent game.

FOOTBALL SONG.

It is suggested that every man in college commit the words of this song in order that it may be sung at Saturday's game.

Tune "Marching through Georgia."

Old Union's men are right in line and ready to begin,
Her football team is strong and fast and full of dash and vim,
And with Smith-ie as our coach, we know we'll surely win,
And raise the white and garnet standard high.

Chorus.

Hurrah! Hurrah! Old Union is in line!
Hurrah! Hurrah! For the white and garnet sign.
We can buck the line and skirt the ends, our quarter
tackles fine,
While we are playing for Union.

Our center is a hummer and our backs are good ones too;
Our guards are strong and honest and they make a hole straight through
With two strong men at tackle we will make you feel quite blue

And our ends—they will do you up for ever.

Hurrah! Hurrah! Old Union is in line!
Hurrah! Hurrah! For the white and garnet sign.
We can buck the line and skirt the ends, our quarter
tackles fine,
While we are playing for Union.

THE FLOWERS.

Seeking an answer to my prayer,
I looked into a quiet flower's face
And found it there.

Seeking some comfort for my grief
I read the depths of a flower's eyes
And knew relief.

Seeking some pity from the skies
I wept into a violet's bloom
And dried my eyes.

Knowing not how to calm my fears
I cried alone with a still, white rose.
Sweet were my tears!

S. G., '04.

THE PHANTOM FUTURE.

"Graybeard crept through a village street,
His head was bowed, his weary feet
Were bruised and torn.
A staff in his right hand he bare,
The wind played with his silver hair—
His coat was worn.

"Onward he passed through golden corn,
Weary with toil from early morn
He cast him down.
A youth and maiden came along,
Grave she; but he, with noisy song
Learned in the town.

"What seek you in this sunny field?"
Graybeard, to whom he thus appealed,
Slow raised his head—

"A Phantom Future I pursue!"

* * * * *

"Methinks we seek the same as you,"
The maiden said."

SELECTED.

HELPFUL EDUCATION.

[Professor Trueblood of the University of Michigan is teaching the young men in his classes the proper way to make love.]

Professor, O professor, when you've trained each budding mind

And stocked it with instruction in the course you have outlined,

When you have taught the pupils how to hold a lady's hand

And how to make her think that love is something truly grand,

When you have shown him how to slip his arm about her waist

And how to squeeze precisely, when his arm is rightly placed—

When you have drilled this knowledge into every intellect,

Go on and add some teachings that should have a good effect.

The Romeos you're training should be bidden to acquire
The wisdom that will aid them to concoct a kitchen fire,
And how to beat the carpets and to keep coal in the bin;

You ought to show them plainly how to dodge a rolling pin,

Give them some elocution—not this namby pamby stuff

Made up of "ducky," "dove" and "dear"—it isn't strong enough,

Guide them along the pathway that they'll have to take through life

And show them how to gesture when explaining to a wife

About the cause that kept them out at night till almost day;

Professor, O professor, tell your pupils what to say!

A course in matching ribbons would be excellent for all.

And couldn't you, professor, let some pearls of wisdom fall

Concerning who's entitled to the latchkey to the flat,

And how to make her happy, but not buy her a new hat,

And how to mail her letters? Oh, professor, teach them this

As well as "The Relation of the Googoo Eye to Bliss!"

—Chicago Tribune.

DICTES AND SAYINGS.

Better pass a danger once than be always in fear.

Contentment is a crown which may be worn without the consent of fortune.

A man void of temper is weak but he who cannot control it is weaker.

There are two doors to enter the house of Fortune; the one, Industry, and the other Frugality.

A civil denial is better than a rude grant.

'51—The following is from the Charleston, S. C. News and Courier. Of Dr. Charles S. Vedder and his trip abroad this summer, that paper remarks:

"The services were resumed yesterday at the Huguenot church. The discourse of the pastor only contained such allusions to his summer trip abroad as related to religious matters, in connection with his own and other churches. He had visited the great Cathedral of Canterbury, England. Dr. Vedder had opportunity to convey the greetings of the Huguenot church of Charleston to the sister church in England, and to express, in an address to a large assemblage of tourists, thanks to the great English church for its welcome and long hospitality to the Huguenot exiles. In the cathedral, and very near to the tomb of Edward, the Black Prince, is the sarcophagus of the brother of Admiral Coligni, who died a refugee in England.

Dr. Vedder also visited St. John's hospital, from which William Enston received the inspiration which issued in the William Enston Home of Charleston.

In Holland, the Huguenot pastor stood at Delft, on the stairway where William the Silent, the Washington of the Netherlands, and who left as a widow the daughter of Coligni, was assassinated, and in the room where he died. And at Leyden, where the pilgrims of New England lived eleven years before sailing to Plymouth Rock.—The pilgrims who learned the principles of religious liberty in the Netherlands. Dr. Vedder visited Dort, at whose great synod the pastors of the French Reformed and Dutch Reformed churches signed each other's creeds and catechisms. At Leyden the Huguenot pastor saw the inscription which American Congregationalists have placed on the church where, or near which, the Plymouth pilgrims worshipped, and visited the home in which the famous John Robinson lived and died. These and like things of Dr. Vedder's experience were listened to with much interest, although they were only introductory to his formal discourse. He was warmly welcomed home."

AMERICAN COLLEGES IN TURKEY.

(From the Boston Transcript.)

Owing to the widespread interest regarding the imperiled American Christian colleges for young men in Turkey, the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions is about to issue a report on the subject, translated from the Turkish. It comes from Aintab, central Turkey, and contains the following:

These colleges, according to the order of their dates of establishment, are: Robert College at Constantinople, Syrian Protestant College at Beirut, Central Turkey College at Aintab, Euphrates College at Harpoot, Anatolia College at Marsovan and St. Paul's Institute at Tarsus. Beirut College, in the growth of its courses of study, variety of branches, accommodation of its buildings and completeness of its equipments and apparatus, has been making very rapid progress, so that the value of its present property is not less than 100,000 liras, nearly $400,000. The number of its teachers in various branches is more than forty, ten of whom are professors. There are now 1,489 students in the colleges, 771 of whom are Armenians.

There is one point in which none of the others can be compared with Robert College. The latter holds the greatest number of the officers in governmental departments. It is able to show among its graduates Lieutenants, Generals, Commanders, Judges, Mayors, Governors, Embassadors, and even Cabinet Members and Prime Ministers, and these are not merely some exceptions, but nearly one-fourth of its graduates have attained one or the other of these high positions. This superiority may be ascribed partly to its high standard of education, and largely to its important geographical situation in the central point between Asia and Europe. Many famous Armenian professors in Constantinople, also, well known merchants, physicians and editors, are graduates of Robert College. The Euphrates College has suffered most from the disturbances. The tendency in its vicinity to leave the country has been so strong that, besides the number of the students being diminished, many hopeful graduates and even teachers of the college have left the country for foreign lands.
