FOOTBALL.

M. A. C., 6; UNION, 6.

Union Shows Up Well in First Game.

The first football game of the year resulted in a tie Saturday on the Campus. Our opponents were the Amherst "Aggies," a very worthy opponents they were, greatly outweighing our team.

The college is represented by a very fast team this year, and it deserves the strongest kind of support. The new men played well, Fairbairn's work at quarterback being very good. With "Bumble" Brown back on the line, the team will doubtless play a better game. The greater part of Union's gains were made by Shutler, Stewart and Captain Hequembourg, while Roberts was Amherst's star player. For the most part Union played straight football, the forward pass being attempted but once, and that unsuccessfully. Amherst played a kicking game, being forced to punt continually.

The Game—First Half.

Stewart kicked off for Union, and the ball was returned a short distance. Amherst was then forced to punt. Fairbairn received the ball, and made a long run. Union then lost the ball on downs, but Amherst did no better, Roberts again punting. Union did better this time, Shutler repeatedly gaining around right end, until the five-yard line was reached. There Amherst regained the ball, and immediately punted. Union again advanced the ball by straight football and seemed about to score when the whistle blew.

Second Half.

The second half opened with Miller at right end in place of Irish. Roberts kicked off to Hequembourg, who carried the ball to the thirty-yard line. Shutler went around right end again and again for large gains, until the one-yard line was reached. Amherst fought hard but "Heckie" made the touchdown. Shutler then kicked the goal, making the score six to nothing in Union's favor.

Smith had already replaced "Hank" Stewart, who was compelled to drop out, his knee being wrenched. Kriegsman took Skutler's place at left halfback, and Riley was substituted at quarterback for Fairbairn. Dunbar and Kittson were given chances at either end, and later Atkin replaced Micks. Thus, with six new men playing, Amherst had an advantage in the latter part of this half. Roberts kicked off over the goal, and the ball was given to Union on the twenty-five yard line. Here a forward pass was attempted but failed, giving Amherst the ball. Union fought hard, but Amherst's weight told, though their gains were barely sufficient to retain possession of the ball. After making a touchdown, they tied the score by kicking the goal.

Smith kicked off to Amherst, who made a large gain on a fake punt. They then carried the ball to Union's five-yard line, and it is probable that they would have crossed the goal had not the whistle blown.

Although Amherst had the advantage at the close of the game, still the honors seem to be Union's when one considers that they had possession of the ball almost all the first half, Amherst not once making down during that time. Amherst showed a superiority in kicking and punting; while Union surpassed in defence work, especially secondary defence. There is no doubt that Union would have been victorious could she have retained the regular players throughout the game. The line-up follows:

COLLEGE MEETING.

Monday noon President Richmond prefaced the business of the college meeting with an announcement that there would be a holiday granted Friday of this week, to give the students an opportunity to attend the Hudson-Fulton celebration at Albany. He mentioned that the honor of the college is in the hands of the students at all times and urged them to keep this in mind and to act accordingly.

The meeting was formally called to order by President Cavert.

Hequembourg was called upon to speak for the football team. He expressed gratification for the excellent showing of the eleven in Saturday's game against Amherst Aggies, but criticised the lack of spirit shown by the students in not having more men out for the daily practice. He also called attention to the fact that the local papers' reports are not what they should be and suggested that some plan for getting accurate and complete accounts of future games be formulated.

Potter, '10 took the floor and explained the existing conditions in regard to getting reports of college events in the local papers and said that the Press Club had done its best to adjust these matters but without result.

Dennis, '10, spoke for track. He announced a novice (handicap) track meet for Wednesday and an open track meet for October 15th.

Chaffee urged better support for the Concordy and announced that registrations for assistant manager of the Concordy were due.

Otto Faust and Harold Baker were unanimously elected members of the executive committee of the gymnasium movement to take the place of Potter and Mead, who graduated last year.

Slutter announced Mandolin Club rehearsal for Monday evening and Ferguson made announcements for the Glee Club.

Van Deusen announced Concordy board meeting and stated that all freshmen wishing to try out for reporters should attend.

The George Junior Republic recently played a 0-0 game with the Rochester 'varsity.

"JACKSON'S GARDEN."

One of the places which is especially sacred in college history and which holds a warm spot in the heart of every true Union student and alumnus, is the beautiful portion of the grounds known as "Jackson's Garden," or as it was termed by the students during Dr. Jackson's lifetime, "Captain Jack's Garden."

Probably but few know of the real history of these gardens, of the painstaking work and untiring care of those who developed the once rugged and uncultivated spot into what is now the pride of all connected with the college. The artistic possibilities of the spot first appealed to Dr. Thomas Macaulay, Professor of Mathematics from 1811 to 1822, who began the work which was taken up in 1831 by Professor Isaac W. Jackson. For forty-five years or until his death in 1877, the "Garden" was Dr. Jackson's special care and pride, and became one of the noteworthy places of interest on the "Hill." During the later years of his life, he spent most of his time when away from the classroom, in the quiet of this retreat, and, when he died, his funeral services were held in the "Garden" beneath the spreading branches of the "Old Nott Elm," where in life he had so often rested from his labors. So completely did this grand old professor become identified with the Garden that it is still, after a lapse of over thirty years, called by his name, a name which will always be remembered at Union College for the sake of the Garden and the interest that he took in the college as a whole.

Since his death, his daughter, Mrs. Samuel Benedict, whose home is within the garden arena, has generously assumed the responsibility of its care, and to her labor of love, entailing great personal sacrifice, the college is indebted for the preservation of its beautiful and its most distinctive possession.

For many years, one of the principal features of Commencement Week, the Class Day exercises, have been held in the Garden beneath the "Old Nott Elm." A pretty picture, indeed, does it make as the seniors, dressed in academic costume march down the walks between the rows of shrubby and blooming flowers, and take their places beneath the old tree, while on the grassy banks close by sit groups of relatives and friends. At these exercises a certain charm and inspiration is present, which is seldom experienced at similar gatherings, and is due not so much to the words that are spoken, as in a large measure to the enchanting effects of the sylvan scenery.

PRESS CLUB.

Committee Appointed.

The Press Club's first meeting was held last Wednesday. Although there was a good attendance the men present were chiefly from the three upper classes. The freshmen did not turn out as well as was expected. Faust and A. C. Potter spoke on the accomplishments of the club last year and its prospects for the coming year.

The only business transacted was the appointment of committees as follows:

Bulletin Committee—Trumbull, '12; J. H. Potter, '12, Butler, '12.

Post Cards—Bates, '12, Case, '12.

Personals—Hand, '12, Odell, '11.

Personals (students)—W. D. Cavert, '11, Hangan, '11.

It may be well to mention again the meetings that are held in Silliman Hall on Sundays and Tuesday evenings. At the Sunday Vesper Service there is always a speaker who delivers a very interesting and helpful address. Many times they are clergy from the city, who take a deep interest in Old Union and who are always willing and eager to do what they can for the College. The point is that these meetings are very poorly attended at all times, and it is not treating the speakers fairly to turn out in such small numbers. Seeing that the meetings take up about three-quarters of an hour, it does not seem that lack of time should be a sufficient reason for staying away. It is one of the duties of us here in college to attend these meetings, and by so doing we help the college and reap a great benefit for ourselves. On the coming Sundays it is expected that several men from out of the city will be here to speak, and it seems but fair that we do what we can to support them by coming around in good numbers. Just think it over and decide that it is the thing to do. We are sure you will not regret it.

Each year for the past few years some men in college have written words to be set to some popular music, and these songs have been used for the football games. This is a very good plan and one that should not be neglected, especially this year, inasmuch as the principal game in which such songs are used is to be played off of the campus. We are certain that these songs help the men of the team very much when they are doing their very best to win, and we certainly want to do all we can to help our team along to victory. So we suggest that some men who may have any talent along this line write some songs which may be sung to popular music. These words may be given to the cheer leaders and it is certain that they will appreciate this aid very much. This is one of the ways in which the men on the side lines may help them. So, make the attempt at least, and offer your services willingly to help along a good cause.

Cheering and Singing. We do not wish to do any knocking, but merely to call the attention of the students to the matter of cheering and singing during games on the campus. That is one of the important things in a contest on our own campus, and so should be taken seriously by the men on the bleachers. The cheer leaders are not entirely to blame because the cheering is not what it should be. Every man should feel that he is working for and with the team and so use his voice for that purpose. In cheering, always watch the leader and follow him and thus avoid making a fizzle of the cheers. This fact was demonstrated last Saturday, when half of the men were two words or so behind the rest of them, and the leaders should make greater efforts to get the men to follow them in the cheering.

Elsewhere in this issue Intercollegiate Rifle Shooting will be found a letter received from the secretary of the National Rifle Association of America. We print it for the consideration of any students who might be interested in this branch of sport. It appears that Rifle Clubs are being established in many colleges of the country, and these afford men a very excellent chance for practice in this very interesting and important sport. At present it seems hardly feasible to attempt the formation of a branch of the Association here, yet it might be the means of interesting certain men in the college who are not engaged in some other sport. Any information in this line would be gladly furnished by the secretary of the Association.

The International Arbitration Essay Each year there is a prize offered to the undergraduate students of any American college or university for the best essay on the subject of "International Arbitration." Last year the prize was awarded to a Sophomore in Johns Hopkins University and honorable mention was made of several others. The purpose of the prize is to arouse a greater interest in the very important world-wide question of Arbitration, to stimulate the college men to a further study of this matter and so to make them able to do what they can towards its practical realization. We think that there are many men in this college who are capable of writing such an essay, and one, too, of sufficient merit to win this prize. It would not only be a means of helping the individual, but would also be a great help to the college, and we hope that some will consider this matter. On another page will be found particulars concerning the competition.

THE GARNET, THE COLOR WE LOVE.

The following song was written by C. E. Franklin, Union '83, but it is one that has not been sung on the campus for some years. Franklin also wrote "Old Union, Beside the Mohawk aVle." The words are very good and it would be well to learn them. Mr. Franklin is a superintendent of schools in Brooklyn and is to be with us within a short time. He will be here to speak at the vesper service, probably within two or three weeks. He is a man who is very much interested in the college and we should make a special effort to hear him speak. It would be an excellent idea to memorize his song and sing it at that meeting. Following are the words:

The Garnet, The Color We Love.

Words by C. E. Franklin, '83

Air: "Watch on the Rhine."

A village man is ever true,
To Alma Mater's fav'rite here,
The color dearer far to him
Than all on earth above;
Old Union's sons will e'er revere,
The emblem that we hold most dear,
Our Pride, the Garnet, the color we love,
Our Pride, the Garnet, the color we love.

A symbol 'tis of four years' life
Ne'er forgot 'mid worldly strife,
Neath noble men in friendship rare
And the delight thereof,
Of work and pleasure each no lack,
Of many sports on field and track,
Strong for the Garnet, the color we love,
Strong for the Garnet, the color we love.

When our life's sands are nearly gone,
And hopes and friends alike we mourn,
Thro' fortune's charge of lot and place,
This joy stands free above.
Old Union's walls we view once more
And live in thought those glad days o'er
Seeing the Garnet, the color we love,
Seeing the garnet, the color we love.

TRACK NEWS.

Unusual interest is being manifested over the fall track prospects. A novice and an inter-class meet will be held this fall, beside the cross-country run with Hamilton on October 30. The run this year will be held in this city. Four men from each college will participate in the meet, and according to the method of scoring, the first one to finish wins eight points; the second, seven, and so on to the last who wins but one point. The run which was held at Hamilton last year was a tie, but this year the prospects are much brighter, and Union hopes for an easy victory.

A large cross-country squad is practicing daily, and frequently competitive runs are held. The fellows who are trying for the team are: Coward, La Barron, Westcott, Fiskley, Slade, Rogers, Streever, Randerson, Scott, Wallace, Travis, Ruprecht, Bentley, Braman, Davis, Daly, Vedder, Gardner and Kimberly.

The novice meet which is run off is a handicap meet and equal chances are given to all. The events and the maximum handicaps are as follows:

50 yard dash (trial heat)—5 yards.

12-pound shot—10 feet.

50 yard dash (final heat).

440 yard run—25 yards.

High jump—6 inches.

One mile run—80 yards.

The meet on October 14, which is an inter-class meet and is open to all, promises some good contests in the following events, with the stated handicaps.

100 yard dash (trial heat)—10 yards.

880 yard run—50 yards.

12-pound hammer—25 feet.

100 yard dash (final heat)

2 mile run—scratch.

Pole vault—1 foot.

Arrangements are fast nearing completion for the so-called university day to be held about the third week in October. The object of this gathering is to promote a closer friendship between the Albany Departments and the college proper.

The following letter was recently received from the secretary of the National Rifle Association of America:

Office of National Rifle Association of America,
Hibbs Building:

Washington, D. C., Oct. 1st, 1909.

To the Editor:—

I beg to hand you herewith a pamphlet which is being sent out by the War Department to promote rifle shooting in the schools and colleges throughout the country. I hope you will quote extracts from it as well as publish the following article.

Very Respectfully,

ALBERT S. JONES,
Secretary.

RIFLE SHOOTING IN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES.

With the opening of the schools and colleges the National Rifle Association of America from its offices in Washington, D. C., has begun an active campaign to organize rifle clubs in institutions of learning throughout the country. During the past year it has been the recipient of several trophies for student competition which during the winter will be put in competition.

Circular letters have been addressed to all colleges and universities urging the organization of rifle clubs so as to be in position to train and select teams later for the inter-collegiate matches. The practice of these college clubs, when no range is available in the institution, is, in most cases being carried on at the local National Guard range where facilities are always gladly offered. In some cases the rifles also are loaned to the college riflemen. Although rifle shooting is a new departure of college sport it is nevertheless growing in popularity as is shown by the fact that seventeen colleges now have active and flourishing clubs. These institutions are: Universities of Yale, Harvard, Cornell, California, Columbia, Idaho, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Nevada and George Washington; Mass. Agricultural College, Utah Agricultural College, Michigan Agricultural College, Washington State College, Delaware College and Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Cocks, Union, '98, to Speak Tuesday Evening.

At the Y. M. C. A. meeting Tuesday evening, Rev. Orrin G. Cocks, Union, '98, now pastor of the Church of Sea and Land in New York city, will speak. Mr. Cocks, who is a member of the Kappa Alpha fraternity and was in the Union delegation at Northfield last July, is already well known to many of the fellows and a fine meeting is expected.

While at Northfield Mr. Cocks was the leading spirit in the delegation, not only in religious matters but also in the athletic affairs and in preparing for the Fourth of July celebration. Mr. Cocks, who will take as his subject, "Problems of the City," is well qualified to speak on this theme, having had extensive experience in slum work in New York city while pastor of the Church of Sea and Land.

At the Sunday afternoon vespers, Rev. B. W. R. Tayler, rector of St. George's church in this city, will speak.

At the vesper service last Sunday Dr. Hoffman gave an unusually interesting talk on the celebration held at Geneva last summer to commemorate the 400th anniversary of the birth of John Calvin, and the 350th anniversary of the founding of the University of Geneva. In his talk Dr. Hoffman described what he saw and heard while present at the conference as the representative of Union College. He said that in his opinion it was the greatest celebration ever held, for there at Geneva assembled delegates from all parts of the world, including Asia and Africa, to do honor to the memory of a man who was not only a great religious teacher but, also, a person who was very influential in civilizing the world and in bettering humanity.

One of the principal features of this celebration was the laying of the cornerstone of the Reformation Monument. This monument when completed will be about as long as North College Lane. On it are to be placed four pedestals on which will stand statues of Calvin, Béze, Farel and John Knox, four of the great reformers. Below these will be smaller statues representing men from all countries who were influential in propagating the movement. Among these will be statue of Roger Williams, the founder of Rhode Island, who will represent on the monument the person that more than any other, furthered the movement in America.

The talk was unusually interesting and it is hoped that the students will have another opportunity to hear more about this unique celebration held in Geneva.

FIRST CAMPUS MEETING OF THE YEAR.

The first campus meeting of the year was held on Friday night before the Amherst "Aggies" game. In spite of the coolness of the evening a large representation of men bundled up in sweaters and overcoats and turned out to the meeting. Considerable enthusiasm was aroused among the students as they listened to the speakers and each fellow determined in his heart that he would be present on the following day to support the team in every way possible.

President Richmond, the first speaker, spoke on the prospects of the coming game in a humorous manner and said that he expected that all members of the team would come out to the field like Kentucky thoroughbreds, full of spirit, and that every student should be out to support them.

Dr. McComber, who came next, encouraged the students to stand by the team, and said that inasmuch as each member of the team was the best person in college for the position, no knocking should be allowed on the field.

"Bill" Murray, who for almost the first time, addressed the students, had nothing to say about the coming game. He merely expressed his heartfelt thanks at the kind treatment he has received during his stay at the college, and encouraged the fellows to get out in the air, and take part in football or some other form of manly, healthful athletics.

"Johnny" Bennett, as usual greatly pleased the students with his humorous speech. He said he understood that the coming game was to be played with farmers and that inasmuch as he

DEBATING NEWS.

Triangular Debate May Be Held Between Union, Hamilton and Colgate.

More than the usual amount of interest is being shown in debating this fall. Both societies have already held meetings and plans have been talked over for the Allison-Foote debate, and for the triangular debate which will probably be arranged soon.

A committee of three men, one professor from each college, has been appointed to attend to the inter-collegiate debating between the three colleges. If present plans mature a triangular debate will be held during the latter part of the winter. This will mean that each college is to prepare two teams, one to debate on the affirmative side of the question and the other on the negative. Each college will keep one team at home, and one will go to one of the other colleges, thus making two debates for each college on the same night. This will increase the opportunity for making the team as it will be necessary to have eight men. Although there are only two men in college, who participated in inter-collegiate debating last year, it is expected that good material will be developed during the fall and winter.

The freshman class of Rutgers numbers 158 men, that of Hamilton 69 and that of Rochester 110.

The Rochester University Council at a recent meeting appropriated twenty-five dollars for the use of the musical clubs.
