UNION WINS AGAIN

Hamilton is Defeated by a Score of 9 to 4.

In a loosely played but lively game Union easily beat Hamilton on the Campus last Saturday afternoon. From the first inning, when Union scored four runs, the game was never in doubt, although there was excitement enough to make the game an interesting one. Errors were plentiful on both sides. Union's hits were well bunched but Davis kept those of Hamilton well scattered except in the first when four were made. There was no scoring however due to Union's fast fielding and Hamilton's poor base running.

The special features of the game included the batting of Bergan and Captain Rider and a pretty catch in the fourth of a difficult ball well out in center by Hildreth. In the fourth inning with two men out and bases full Capt. Rider came to the bat. After two strikes and three balls had passed he drove out the longest hit of the year, scoring three runs and making second base. Later in the same inning he scored on a pretty single made by Hagar. Bergan was the only man on the home team to make two hits. Hagar as usual played his brilliant game in centerfield. Osborne, in right was weak and in the sixth was replaced by Vanderbosh, who, although given no chance in the field, made a timely hit when at bat.

Clark, who played short stop for Hamilton, outshone the rest of the team. Havens was erratic at critical times. Davis although hit pretty often pitched a good game, allowing no one to walk and striking out five men.

Hamilton's runs were made in the fourth, fifth and ninth innings.

The score:

CLASS OF 1876

Reunion to be Held During Commencement.

The program for the reunion of the Union College class of 1876 is practically complete in so far as its main features are concerned. At 9 a. m., June 13, a business meeting of the class will be held in the old physics room. The room has been remodeled but as all the associations of the class are with the gray buildings it has been determined to hold the session at the structure where Prof. Foster and Price taught. At one o'clock in the afternoon speakers will be selected to represent the class at the alumni collation given at that hour to all the classes as the guests of the college.

During the morning the members of the class will call on Prof. William Wells, the only member of the faculty of the college of their time who is now identified with the college.

Faculty in '76.

The full faculty of that time was: President, Dr. Eliphalet Nott Potter; Dr. Taylor Lewis, the eminent Greek and Hebrew scholar; Dr. John Foster, and Dr. Isaac W. Jackson, whose semi-centennial of college service was the notable event of the commencement of '76.

Others of the faculty in their time were: Dr. Whiteborne, successor to Dr. Lewis in the chair of Greek; Dr. Robert T. S. Lowell, author and professor of Latin and brother to James Russell Lowell; Dr. Maurice Perkins, professor of chemistry; Dr. Ransom B. Welch, professor of rhetoric, late professor of Christian theology in Auburn seminary and donor of the Welch Memorial chapel at that institution; Dr. Johnathan Pearson, treasurer, and father of Dr. William L. Pearson of this city; Dr. William Wells, professor of modern languages; Prof. Isaac B. Brice, adjunct professor of physics; Dr. Cady Staley, professor of engineering, late president of the Case School of Applied Science of Cleveland, O.; Gen. Thomas Ward, United States Army, professor of military science; Dr. Harrison E. Webster, department of natural history, late president, ever regarded by the members of the class with an affection that deepens with the passing years. Dr. Egbert C. Lawrence, tutor in mathematics; Dr. Thomas P. Featherstonough, tutor in mathematics and history, and brother of George W. Featherstonough of this city.

Of these only Dr. William Wells remains with the faculty as emeritus professor at the age of 86. All the others have died except General Ward, Dr. Staley, Dr. Featherstonough and Dr. Lawrence.

The afternoon will be spent in visiting Jackson's garden and in observing the development of Old Dorp in the three decades that have intervened since the members said farewell to their alma mater.

The class dinner will take place at the Mohawk club, where the members will be the guests of Mayor Jacob W. Clute. The floral decorations for the dinner will be contributed by the wives of the local members. There will be no set toasts at the dinner. Every member of the class who is present will have a share in the relation of the experiences that have come to the various members since they left the walls of the old college thirty years ago.

Rochester Game Postponed

The game with Rochester scheduled for last Wednesday was postponed on account of rain. It was thought up to the last minute that the game would be played but when time to call the game came, it was decided by both teams that it was too wet.

It was a deep disappointment to the members of the college, for an interesting game with good chances for success had been promised. Rochester had played two games, one with Hobart won by score of 13 to 4 and one the day before with Hamilton lost by 10 to 2. If comparative scores are any criterion this would mean victory for Union.

The Rochester team is on an extensive trip scheduled as follows:

Hamilton at Clinton Tuesday.

Union at Schenectady, Wednesday.

University of Vermont at Burlington, Thursday.

Dartmouth at Hanover, Friday.

St. Lawrence at Canton, Saturday.

The team line-up is:

Sullivan, C., Capt.

Russell, R. F.

Harrington, P.

Munger, 1b.

Grant, S. S.

Mac Dowell, 2b.

Lawless, L. F.

Reed, 2b.

Bedell, C. F.

The first junior hop of the term will be held tonight in Yates' Boat House.

THE NORTHFIELD CONFERENCE

What It is and What It Means, Matters of Interest to All Students.

During the summer months, Northfield Seminary, situated at East Northfield, Mass., is the scene of several conferences on Christian work, each lasting from a week to ten days. One of the most important of these conferences and certainly the most valuable one to college men, is the student conference.

Last year the Student Conference occurred during the first ten days of July and was attended by upwards of 650 men, representing 131 colleges of the Eastern States and Canada. This year the conference will be held a week earlier and preparations are being made for a still larger number.

Northfield Seminary is a beautiful college built up in the hills of the Connecticut valley, just south of the border point of Vermont, New Hampshire and Massachusetts. The country is of the finest to be found in the New England States, and the seminary itself is but little less picturesque. During the ten days of the conference the delegates live in the dormitories or tents on the campus and board at two or three of the college buildings. "Camp Northfield" higher up in the hills also furnishes an abode for some of the students.

The Student Conference is under the direction of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association and has as its supreme purpose the training of students for Christian service in their after life as well as in their college career, whether their chosen life-works are distinctly religious or purely secular. To this end the program of the conference is composed of Bible study classes, "platform" and "round top" held meetings in the morning and evening, while the whole afternoon is given over to out-door sports.

The platform meetings are held in the large auditorium and are open to the public as well as to the delegates. They are addressed by some of the best and ablest speakers of the American and English pulpit. Thus the conference affords to those who attend, an opportunity to hear men whom they probably would not have the opportunity to hear under other conditions. There are also abundant opportunities of meeting and talking with them privately as well as hearing them in formal addresses.

"Round Top" is a knoll on the Southern side of the campus from which a fine view for miles up the Connecticut valley is obtainable. Here the delegates gather directly after supper to listen to short informal talks on the opportunities for Christian service which are offered in the different walks of life. It is taken for granted that most of the men have chosen their life work, that most of them have chosen secular callings and that all of them are anxious to do what good they can for their fellow-men. "Round Top" is a great inspiration to all the men who attend the conference and is one of the longest remembered and most pleasant of Northfield experiences.

The first two hours after breakfast are given to Bible study and conferences on Christian work in the colleges. The Bible study will be carried on under the group system, with about ten or twelve men in each group. These groups will be taught by men who are authorities on the subject of Bible study, and these teachers will in turn meet each day for instruction by some of the best Bible teachers in this and other countries. The conferences on personal and association work will also be held in as small groups as possible.

In order that the conference may not be at all tedious and that everything possible to develop men in all branches may be offered, the afternoons are given over to the men to use as they choose. Walks are arranged through the country and athletic events are scheduled for each day. A baseball series, a tennis tournament, cricket, basketball and lacrosse games, a track meet and swimming form some of the athletic events.

In previous years the Fourth of July celebration has been one of the most interesting features of the conference. The celebration begins after sun-down in the auditorium which is gaily decorated with national flags, pennants and colors of the different colleges, each delegation sitting beneath its distinctive emblem.

After patriotic speeches by one or two of the prominent men present, each college having a delegation of five men is called upon for a college yell, and each delegation of twelve or more men for a verse of their college song. Needless to say the whole scene is a most inspiring one. Directly after this an immense bonfire, nearly a hundred feet in height is kindled and the delegations dance around it singing and chering for their colleges and for each other. Although the conference this year will not include July Fourth, the celebration will not by any means be omitted.

Probably the one thing that impresses a delegate to Northfield more than anything else is what may best be described as the "Northfield Spirit." No other phrase exactly expresses it, and no number of phrases can exactly describe it. It is college spirit of the finest kind, an enthusiastic, trustful feeling of good fellowship and a manly Christian earnestness. If a man received nothing else from Northfield it would be fully worth his while to go there simply to come in contact with the "Northfield Spirit," feel its influence, and be a part of it.

Last year Union was represented at Northfield by only three men, so that the privilege of giving a yell at the Fourth of July celebration was denied. For the same reason, Union yells at meal times were decidedly few and far between. This year Union should send enough men to give a verse of "The Song to Old Union" at the celebration. That means twelve men. The Christian Association will have a large enough fund to pay a considerable share if the expenses of that number of men. The men will not be chosen from the membership of the Association, but from the college at large. The conference begins on June 22nd and continues until July 1. Special rates will be made by the different railroads. Information about the conference may be had at Silliman Hall, and it is hoped that any man who may be able to go will make the fact known. This is a great opportunity and should be taken advantage of by a large number of students.

Musical Club Notes

The present musical season is one which has reflected great credit on Union College considering the handicap placed on the clubs early in the season. It was very difficult to book good dates and much valuable time was lost in getting ready for the initial performance which took place during Junior Week. The following concerts have been given to date:

February 17—Schenectady.

February 23—Rexford Flats.

March 29.—Troy.

April 26—Gloversville.

April 27—Oneonta.

The clubs are booked to appear soon at the following places:

Stillwater.

Salem.

Cambridge.

Ellenville.

and will end their season with the usual concert at Commencement.

Manager Parsons is already at work on a schedule for next year and it is confidently expected that at least one extended trip will be taken. The clubs have been supported entirely by private funds this season and deserve the support of the student body next year.

The election for Assistant Manager will take place next Monday evening at 8 P. M., in Silliman Hall, the candidates being Henry Bell and Mark Watson both of the Sophomore class.

38.—Organization of the Presbyterian Church, started three months ago by the Rev. William Bishop Gates, will take place tomorrow evening, a commission having been appointed by the Presbytery at its last meeting for the purpose. The name of the church is to be the Wells Memorial. Through the generosity of R. T. Stokes, who was a warm friend of Dr. John D. Wells, after whom the church is named, a plot of ground 100 by 100 feet has been put at the disposal of the new church for building. Fifty people will unite to form the charter membership.

The chairman of the commission of organization is the Rev. Newell Woolsey Wells, son of Dr. Wells and pastor of the South Third Street Presbyterian Church. The section where the new church will stand is one of the rapidly growing and most beautiful sections of Brooklyn. The site is at Argyle and Glenwood roads. The Sunday school roll has grown from nothing to over sixty names in ten weeks. Twenty of those who form the church come in on confession of faith. The services are now being held at the temporary chapel, 1045 Coney Island Avenue.—Brooklyn Daily Eagle, May 5th.

He was born at Moravia, N. Y., June 24, 1828. His parents, Chauncey and Mary L. Wright, were prominent citizens of that town. Mr. Wright attended the Moravia Academy and later graduated from the Cortland Academy. He came to college so well prepared that he was allowed to enter the Senior class. He became class president and was a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity. He returned to Moravia, after graduation, to study law. A year later he was admitted to practice at Auburn. He did not at once begin the practice of his profession, but taught for a number of years. At the outbreak of the Civil War, Mr. Wright joined the 158th Regiment of New York Volunteers as a private soldier. After the war he began the practice of law at Dryden, N. Y. He soon moved to Waverly and several years later to Cortland. He came to Auburn about 1867 and has resided there ever since. Mr. Wright was a member of the Central Presbyterian Church for many years and had been a trustee for many terms.

MOVING UP DAY

Of the many college customs that can be called to mind, it is safe to say that none have greater possibilities than the somewhat recent practice of "moving up" in chapel. The ceremony may be performed in a highly dignified and creditable manner or it may partake of the nature of an all-day carousal. One cannot fail to see that if the latter course be pursued, the very object of the ceremony is defeated. It is highly gratifying to know that the sentiment of the present senior class is opposed to such a course. It is the idea, however, to maintain the good points of this interesting custom. Such an idea must of necessity be above unfavorable criticism. It is only through the maintenance of college customs that the best spirit is cultivated. This custom is peculiarly adapted to the cultivation of such a spirit, provided always that it be attended with a spirit of order and seriousness. It is undoubtedly true that on previous occasions many undesirable features have been present. But it is also true that the most praiseworthy features have been partially obliterated as a result of thoughtlessness and disorder. Be this as it may, the fact still remains an indelible impression has been made upon the minds of the three upper classes. It is well that a similar impression be made upon the minds of the freshmen for in after years the remembrance of such an occasion will stand out in bold relief. Accordingly it would be the height of folly to miss a single incident of the ceremony. There is no doubt but that the entire student body will be on hand Monday morning.

Michigan's new athletic field covers thirty-two acres. It will not however be completed this year, owing to the lack of funds. It is large enough to afford plenty of room for two or three gridirons and diamonds.

SUNDAY VESPER:—Mr. J. H. Safford, Student Secretary of the State Executive Committee Y. M. C. A., will deliver the fifth address in the series of "Life Work Talks" on "The Secretaryship."

TUESDAY EVENING:—Subject, "Self Examination," Leader, Raymond, '08.

At the Vesper Service last Sunday afternoon Dr. Lunn of the First Reformed Church delivered a very interesting talk on "The Ministry."

Some Further Discourse of the Statues

After my first experience with the statues in the chapel I went often to my hiding place to watch them. Several weeks passed by and nothing happened so at last I began to believe that my experience was only the result of an overwrought fancy goaded on by that monstrous voice.

One night after a feast at Devine's, that region of good things. I made up my mind to give the statues one last trial. So I entered the chapel by a window that I had purposely kept unlocked, and hiding behind one of the museum cases sat down to wait for the "ghost to walk, as a man of the quality would put it.

For full half an hour I sat there and not a sound anywhere in the chapel. I had just determined to leave; when Pheobus Apollo gave a mighty yawn. And such a yawn! It was as if the thousand sleepers had all come back to life at once. Straightway all the other statues woke, and then began a great babble that went up even to the throne of Zenus. A babble like the Magpies make as they flit from branch to branch of a flowering tree in the early springtime. There gods and goddesses forgot their dignity in the eagerness to tell what they had been considering for so long in their mute stone hearts. They talked of every thing from transcendentalism to Least Squares. Poetry, song, history and learned discourse fell from those lips in such a confused jangle that I could scarce understand any of it.

At length when the last argument had been argued and the last reason reasoned, all ceased as suddenly as they had begun. After a short silence lame Vulcan, his voice hoarse with much talking, thus addressed Mercury, "Ah! Noble Messenger. I take great delight in my new temple that has been builded for me at the edge of the sacred grove. Great zero! its tall stack sends forth more good black smoke than my own forge was wont to do on the summits of Mt. Olympus. Soon will I have the ear-splitting steam whistle in its place; and my anvil will be moved up from the Locomotive Works across yon fertile pasture.

Then, small care will I have whether college keeps or not, for I at least will have my pleasure, the rolling smoke will rise like the savor of a burnt offering at morning, at noon and at night; and with my anvil and whistle of shining brass I can delight myself with noise."

Then Venus interrupted his easy flowing speech and told of the night when they had all gone out to parade upon the Campus in honor of a victory for the "Sacred Garnet." She told how they had tried to play the game of baseball and how the early dawn had come upon them ere they were aware, how they had been turned back to stone right where they stood on ever they had time to reach the friendly shelter of the chapel. Then all applauded the telling of the tale and they laughed to think how the blame for their adventure had been put upon the underclassmen.

Thus one after the other each had his say. One prophesied, another sang, and still another told stories of the olden days when the college was young.

At last Athena began with an history and a prophecy of much interest to all.

SENIORS TO MOVE UP

Interesting Custom to be Observed.

Monday morning is the time set for the moving up in chapel. The Seniors will appear in cap and gown and the ceremony bids fair to be a noteworthy one. The class song will be sung for the first time before the student body.

Cornell has a Cosmopolitan Club which boasts of members of more than twenty nationalities.

A very enthusiastic campus meeting was held last Friday night. The attendance was unusually large. Vedder of the Terrace Council presided and called upon the following for speeches: Prof. Williams, Captain Rider, "Doc" Moon, Hagar and Imrie. Bell, '08 led the singing.

The tennis tournament is not very well advanced as yet. The college courts have not been completed on account of the lack of laborers and the weather, too, has not been propitious for much tennis.

The match with Syracuse is not far off now, and the men that have entered into the tournament should try to complete their matches as soon as possible, in order that the four men chosen may do some good work in practice.

The matches that have been played off are as follows:

Potter defeated Keith 6-0, 6-1.

Fuller defeated Brown 6-0, 6-0.

A. B. King defeated Snow 6-2, 6-2.

THE RUTGERS DEBATE

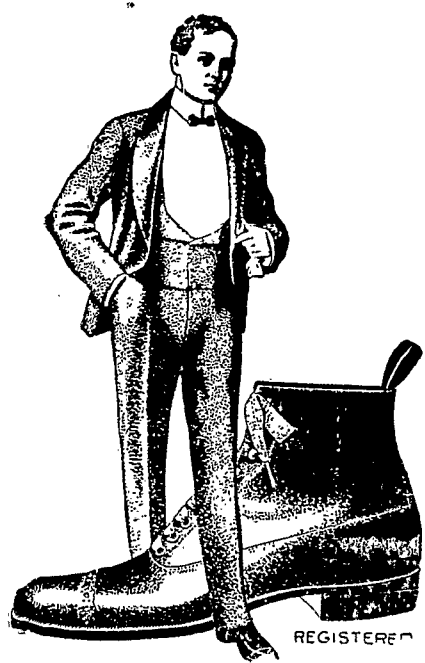

Our Opponents Again Victorious.

Union's debating team was declared defeated when the judges brought in their decision before the audience in Kirkpatrick chapel at New Brunswick last Friday evening; and Rutgers thereby added one more victory to her list.

The question, Resolved, "That Civic Interests are Best Subservied by the Municipal Ownership and Operation of Public Utilities", was advocated by Union in the affirmative under three heads. Viz: That it is practical; that it is economical; and that it would lessen corruption among public officials.

Reed, '06 led the attack by stating that, both in this country and in other lands where it has been tried, municipal ownership has been an unparalleled success; and he cited numerous cases to bear out his arguments. Bevier, '06 of Rutgers stated that the tack of the negative would be to prove that well enough should be let alone, and the succeeding Rutgers speakers Senkel, '07 and Kain, '06 followed out this line of argument.

Putnam, '06 and Lewis, '06 showed respectively how municipal ownership was economical and how it would lessen corruption.

The contest was keen from start to finish and the arguments were most ably handled. At the close of the debate the judges consisting of Rev. Linn E. Wheeler, pastor of the First Baptist Church, of New Brunswick, Edwin C. Broome, Ph.D., Rutgers, of Rahway, and Senator W. H. C. Jackson, trustee of Rutgers College, of New Brunswick brought in a decision awarding the debate to the Rutgers team.

The Rutgers men stated that this has been the closest contest in their debating career, and we may be well assured that the Union team upheld the honor of the college to the fullest possible extent.

An Admirable Letter.

The following letter was recently received at the college office. On account of the tone of true loyalty and faithful devotion it is very fitting that it be published in these columns, in order that all Union men may know of such loyal spirit:

New York, May 4th, 1906.

Mr. Frank Bailey,

Treas. Union College, Schenectady, N. Y.

Dear Sir:—

It has always been my ambition to repay Old

Union a not less amount than she gave me, that it might be passed on to others as needy as I was. But the profession I have followed has not led to wealth, though Old Union's gifts to me have made me useful to others. With a degree of regret that would be shame if it were not that it is the best I can do, I enclose a Five Dollar note. Nothing but outright inability restrains me from the much larger amount which it is in my heart to give. I am profoundly and continually grateful to the Old College, and wish you every success.

TRACK TEAM TRY OUT

Some Good Individual Work.

In anticipation of the meet with Rochester this afternoon, the track squad had a try out last Monday afternoon. Considering the fact that the day was raw and cold and that the track was not in the best condition the results were very satisfactory. The team work appeared to be somewhat loose and undeveloped but some excellent individual scores were made. There is no doubt but that we will give Rochester a good rub this afternoon.

Hafley, running alone, covered the hundred in good time. Hendricks won the first heat with McNab a close second. In the half mile Sammons took the lead and held it throughout although hard pressed by Raymond. Von Dannenburg won the quarter with Gardiner second. Capt. Waldron was unable to show much form because of his recent illness. The high hurdles were run over a course of 100 rather than 120 yards. Streibert gave evidence of the best form but nearly fell when the race was half over. Flowers covered the mile in remarkably good time winning out by a large margin over Finch and Sammons. Closson did well in the hammer throw. Rankin gives promise of good results in the shot put. Weyrauch jumped well in the high jump coming within $2\frac{3}{4}$ inches of the college record. The broad jump was unusually well done. Although Streibert won out Hagar showed a great improvement over last year.

There is something distinctive about the clothing we sell, that feature which marks it as decidedly different and gives each garment individuality. A few years has wrought wonderful changes in the clothing trade, a change that makes possible buying clothing, ready to wear, excelling in every way the handiwork of the ordinary tailor.

The "K. B." shoulder and coat front is the lasting foundation upon which our clothing is built. Over this foundation is carefully marked by hand the perfect fitting, shape retaining garment we sell.
