Football

ROCHESTER, 17; UNION, 0.

Last Saturday the Garnet team played its first losing game this season, with Rochester, on their field. The score was due to two things, the fact that Rochester had a little better team, and also that Union had some hard luck, two of her best men being put out of the game in the first half, because of injuries. Yet the team did not seem to have the speed and force that it had in the two previous games. The line held well at critical moments but Rochester had the better of it, with their long forward passes, and many trick plays.

The game was played in a warm, drizzling rain, and the field was in poor condition to play on. There was quite a crowd of Union alumni present at the game, and between halves they formed in line and marched around the field, singing and cheering for their team.

The game was called at 3:10 p. m. and Streibert kicked off to G. Ramaker, who returned the ball 10 yards. They made 5 yards on the next down and then on a forward pass made 20 yards more. Pray made a 30 yard punt to Starbuck and the ball was returned 10 yards. Hequembourg gained 4 yards, Kriegsman 3 yards. Then Streibert went through their line and made a 25 yard run. Streibert then punted to Rochester and by a series of end plays and forward passes, the ball was advanced to Union's 5 yard line, but Rochester lost the ball. Streibert attempted to put out from back of the goal line, but the ball went straight up in the air and landed back of the goal, Rochester receiving a safety.

After the next kick-off Rochester was advancing the ball down the field when they punted. Starbuck received the ball and was making a good return when he was tackled and his hip injured. Rochester was penalized several times and then carried the ball down the field, and B. Ramaker went over for a touchdown. Joy kicked the goal.

On the next kick-off Union advanced the ball to Rochester's 23 yard line, where Doran Brown failed in a place kick. He tried again but this time it was blocked. Walser was taken out with a broken arm.

In the second half the team came back with Stewart in for Streibert, Hurlburt for Walser, and Irish for Starbuck. Stewart received the ball on the kick-off and returned it 20 yards. Kriegsman gained 2 yards., Stewart 2, and Hequembourg 2, but lost the ball on downs. Rochester advanced the ball to Union's 28 yard line, where a goal from placement was missed. Union fumbled the ball and Rochester recovered it making a touchdown.

On the next kick-off Rochester made many gains around both ends and also through the line. They failed in a forward pass, but advanced the ball to Union's 24 yard line and Pray kicked goal from placement.

Score—Rochester, 17; Union, 0.

SPECIAL NOTICE!

AS SO MANY MEN ARE TO BE OUT OF TOWN ON ELECTION DAY, THE FRESHMAN-SOPHOMORE SPORTS HAVE BEEN POSTPONED UNTIL NOVEMBER 21, THE SATURDAY AFTER THE N. Y. U. GAME.

WITH THE DEBATERS.*Colgate May Debate With Union.

Prof. H. G. McKean, President of the Debating Council, has been carrying on correspondence with the Debating Council of Colgate, relative to an intercollegiate debate to be held between Union and Colgate some time this year. Negotiations have not yet been completed, but it is highly probable that a debate will be arranged.

A debate has already been scheduled with Hamilton to be held at Clinton some time in March, so the addition of Colgate to our list would make an excellent schedule.

The Adelphics held their regular meeting Monday afternoon. The subject was: Resolved, That the present tariff policy promotes the best interests of New York State. The affirmative was defended by Dunn '12, Volz '12 and Wachter '09. Coplon '10, Carmichael '10 and Wilson '09 upheld the negative.

The Adelphics are planning to hold a Sophomore-Freshman debate in their society some time during the Fall term.

The Philomathean Society held its weekly debate Wednesday evening. The following subject was discussed: Resolved, That a partisan in politics can serve the interests of his country better than the independent voter. The affirmative side of the question was represented by Van Deusen '10, Hanigan '11 and Gillies '12; the negative by Cavert '10, Faust '11 and Case '12.

TEAM SELECTED.*To Participate In the Cross Country Run.

The members of the team that will represent Union in the cross country run to be held at Clinton next week will consist of Finch, '09; Travis, '11; Ruprecht, '12, and Coward, '12.

The course will be run from the Utica Golf Club into Clinton, on a hard macadam road, exactly four and one-quarter miles long. Coward, '12, has shown up remarkably well and will doubtless prove a strong factor in the run.

The Hamilton team is practicing hard and hopes to retrieve in a measure the defeat sustained two weeks ago at football.

The enrollment of the Freshman class at Princeton is 360—36 more than that of last year.

DOINGS IN THE FOOTBALL WORLD.

No Eastern football team save Yale has reached the middle of the season without being scored on. Annapolis, Harvard, Dartmouth and Lafayette fell by the wayside last week, and the goal line of each of them was crossed. Princeton has been scored on, but by a goal from the field; her goal line is still intact. Yale and Princeton therefore are the only Eastern teams who have prevented opponents from making a touchdown. Princeton's defence, while it has yielded considerably to opposing pressure, has shown a commendable and encouraging faculty of tightening up when near its own goal line and probably has had more fighting the shadow of the goal post to do than any other team to date.

Of the stronger teams only Yale and Cornell have won every game they have played. Harvard, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Annapolis, Carlisle, Dartmouth and Lafayette have not been beaten, but each of them has been tied. It is an exceptional state of affairs, that of finding only two of the stronger group of elevens that have won every game. The Midshipmen still lead in total points and have averaged over 23 points a game. The only other team that approaches this average is Carlisle, with 215.6 points a game, and Williams, with 24 points for four games. Both Carlisle and the Navy have maintained a greater speed than the others, causing some conjecture whether they can keep it up and stay on edge. As to that, it is up to the men in charge, and the latter probably know what they are about. Next Saturday the two speedy ones, Annapolis and Carlisle, will come together, and that ought to be one of the best scraps of the year.

Pennsylvania is the only team besides the Navy and the Redskins that has made over a hundred points, but the Quakers have played more games than any of them. Harvard has averaged 161.2 points a game; Yale, 163.5; Princeton, 12; Pennsylvania, 131.2; Cornell, 13; West Point, 11; Brown, 151.3; Dartmouth, 14; Syracuse, 151.3; games; Bucknell, 51.22, four games; Pennsylvania State, 193.5. The point records follows:

Harvard, 99-6, six games; Yale, 83-0, five games; Princeton, 72-4, six games; Pennsylvania, 110-10, eight games; Cornell, 52-10, four games; West Point, 44-6, four games; Annapolis, 141-6, six games; Carlisle, 132-11, six games; Brown, 92-24, six games; Dartmouth, 70-5, five games;

Syracuse, 92-29, six games; Williams, 96-10, four games; Wesleyan, 55-22, five games; Amherst, 12-16, four games; Colgate, 12-21, four games; Dickinson, 13-26, three games; Lafayette, 63-6, five games; Lehigh, 17-16, three games; Holy Cross, 22-46, five games; Villanova, 0-27, three games; Bucknell, 51-22, four games; Pennsylvania State, 98-18, five games; Washington and Jefferson, 60-49, four games; Tufts, 44-34, five games; Rochester, 55-23, four games; Maine, 84-43, five games; New York University, 12-62, three games; Fordham, 50-17, three games; Stevens, 12-62, five games; Vermont, 22-26, six games; Union, 23-28, four games; Haverford, 17-6, three games; Georgetown, 33-4, two games; Trinity, 23-43, three games; Bowdoin, 57-35, six games; Virginia, 33-0, three games; Andover, 16-5, five games; Exeter, 29-41, five games; Chicago, 79-12, three games; Michigan, 38-18, four games; Minnesota, 21-0, three games.—Utica Herald-Dispatch.

INTEREST IN POLITICS.

Hughes, Taft and Bryan at the Van Curler.

Great interest has been aroused in State and National politics on "the Hill." This has been due in a large measure to the activity of the Republican and the Democratic clubs in college.

It is very fortunate that there has been an opportunity of hearing both of the candidates for Governor and both of the candidates for President.

Monday evening Mr. Hughes spoke in the Van Curler. There was a large delegation present from the college and enthusiasm was at a high pitch. Mr. Hughes was Union's Honorary Chancellor last Spring, and the fellows showed by their cheering and their songs their appreciation for their Governor and honorary alumnus.

Tuesday evening Judge Taft spoke. The weather was inclement, but the opera house was packed to the doors before half-past six, although Mr. Taft did not speak until almost 8 o'clock. Mr. Taft was enthusiastically received and given an ovation. The Taft and Sherman quartette rendered campaign songs and were encored again and again.

William Jennings Bryan spoke in the Van Curler Wednesday p. m. and again the student body attended almost en masse and gave a splendid reception to "The Peerless Orator."

While the football
Two Contests. eleven is battling to-morrow with the gridiron

warriors of Colgate, the Garnet's cross-country runners will be contending for supremacy with our old rival Hamilton. This race marks the inception of a branch of sport which we hope will be continued from year to year. Cross-country runs are of vital importance in sustaining the waning interest in track work during the Fall term, and consequently act in a great measure in developing material for the Spring meets. Moreover they are interesting. There is a charm, a fascination about a long distance run which no other sport seems to possess.

The football team can be depended upon to do its duty. The spirit that predominated at the Wesleyan and Hamilton games still prevails, indomitable and, we hope, everabiding, prepared at any moment to sustain and strengthen the team at critical moments. So, let us hope, that Saturday will witness two triumphs for Old Union that over Colgate in football, and Hamilton in track.

Last Saturday the varsity
Our First met defeat at the hands of Defeat. her old rival Rochester. We own defeat and acknowledge that Rochester played an excellent game but in the accounts, at least, seven of our opponent's points were through our own misplays rather than by skillful playing on the part of Rochester. The usual mid-season slump seemed to be in the team and in the words of one of our players, "we played like a lot of old women." Now none can doubt that this slump was greatly due to the absence of the cheering by the student-body. In the first place, not more than a "Corporal's guard" turned out to see the team off on Friday. The fellows seemed to think that someone else would go along in their place, but all left the matter with others and so the team had poor support in the beginning. This is no way to win victories, by letting the handful of men who compose the squad work hard continually and the rest remain dormant until a home game takes place. Everyone of us is responsible for our victories and with this in mind we should all be on the Campus every night to let the team know that they stand for something. The New York game is now only two weeks away and every man should go down there and wake old New York with his cheering and singing. We can cheer and we can sing for we showed our powers in that line at the Hamilton game, therefore it is up to you to, at least, see the team off on its out of town trips but not forgetting that we are all needed on our opponent's bleachers if we can possibly get there. Let every fellow do his best now for Old Union.

Don't forget the Fresh-Soph Sports Election Day.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS.

On October 22, Princeton celebrated its 162d anniversary of its founding.

A Triangular Debating League has been formed by Harvard, Yale and Princeton.

Dr. Henry Van Dyke of Princeton will give a course of lectures on "The Spirit of America," in the Sorbonne, Paris, this winter.

The intercollegiate cross country run will be held at Princeton, November 21. Yale, Princeton, Michigan, Cornell, Syracuse, Pennsylvania, Harvard and Columbia will compete. In order to encourage the smaller colleges to enter the run the requirements have been reduced from a team of nine men to one of seven, who start and five to qualify in the end. Cornell has already one leg on the cup.

The faculty of Lehigh have established a new conference department by means of which students having difficulty with mathematics, modern languages, physics or chemistry of the Freshman or Sophomore classes may obtain extra instruction under certain members of the teaching force. No charge is made for this help.

At Wesleyan a new system of undergraduate work is in effect. Instead of recitations five days a week as hitherto, they will now be held six days, with half holidays Wednesdays and Saturdays.

A NEW SPIRIT AT UNION.

There's a new spirit in the air at Union College,—a spirit of loyalty and enthusiasm to the institution that has not shown itself to such an extent for a long time.

Nor is the loyalty and enthusiasm that shows itself in a foolish effort to make the college conspicuous through hazing, rushes or the mischievous boyish pranks that at one time students thought necessary to show the rest that they were undergraduates. They still prevail to a healthy degree, but they seem to be going out of fashion. It is not the kind that manifests itself in swaggering and copying the manners of the loafer and the loud-voiced individual who is looking for trouble.

It is the kind which shows itself in the willingness and the eagerness of the student body to give time and work to whatever will advance the interests of the college. The Press Club recently formed is one of the best evidences of it.

A high compliment was paid the institution when the athletic officials and the coach of Wesleyan University wrote a letter to Union after the Union-Wesleyan football game a short time ago, thanking the authorities and the student body for the courteous treatment given the Wesleyan men.

These are little things. Yet they indicate the students of to-day are taking a practical view of the fact that a college is a place to train boys to be men. They are coming to see the value to the college of "making good" before the world outside the campus.

All these things, as well as others, make the promise of Union bright for the future.—The Gazette.

We, on the "Hill" here, realize the truth of the above article, and it pleases us to know that the people "outside the campus" also realize it, and are ready to help us in making it more so.

PROFESSOR MARCH'S BOOK.

Many things which we were taught and believed in our youth we are obliged to hold in doubt when a fuller maturity settles down upon us, for as time advances the state of man's knowledge changes and successive generations hold varying views on almost all great questions. For many generations man has been asking himself the question: What is mind? It is hardly incorrect to say that each generation has produced at least one man who has believed himself to be specifically ordained to answer that question. When I was an undergraduate I was definitely led to suppose that the problem had been solved by Sir William Hamilton and Doctor Laurens Hickok, the former a Scotchman, who never came to America, the latter also a Scotchman, who distinguished himself as President of Union College; and now, a generation later, it happens that another member of the Union College Faculty writes a book to support his theory, on the subject of the origin and growth and activities of that mysterious thing which all the world calls mind.

The source from which the Scotch psychologists obtained their evidence as to the nature of mind was, to use their own language, the field of consciousness. Not only Hamilton and Hickok, whose books I was compelled to read, but also Professor Murray Nairne of Columbia College, whose lectures I was forced to follow, seemed to me to insist that the veritable source of all psychologic truth was the field of consciousness, and the only correct method of research the process of introspection. The result was that I (and others) left college with certain very shallow and contracted notions regarding the nature of mind and its relation to the universe. I believed that the mind was essentially the entire man, and that the body belonged to the man much as a tool or instrument belongs to the worker, that is, as a thing capable of being laid aside without detriment to the user. I believed that, while the mind of a man was immortal, all else, including the entire animal creation, was perishable, and that evidence for this was certainly to be found in the facts of consciousness.

Now comes Professor March to tell us that introspection, so far as the study of mind is concerned, has yielded but little fruit, that the field of consciousness is only a part, and a very small part, of the ground to be covered in the search for evidence, that, so far as science is concerned, there is no more reason for ascribing immortality to the human mind than to the brute-mind, and that not only the Scotch psychologists but the German also (notably the celebrated Kant) have been radically at fault in their interpretation of many psychic phenomena. There can be no doubt that Professor March's book is a scientific book, that it is logical and connected in thought and plan. Its statements are those of a writer who has studied not only human nature but all nature; for it traces the evidence, as nature herself discloses it, from the lowest organisms to the highest, the highest organism being man himself. The book differs chiefly from those above mentioned in that it makes its first appeal to the organic and visible world, while it relegates introspection to the limbo of half-forgotten or semi-useless methods. All nature is its field, and scientific empiricism the means whereby it reaches its premises. It uses the word, mind, in a very broad sense, perhaps the broadest possible. It ascribes the property of mind to all organic matter. It includes in the term, mind, all that is commonly known as instinct or impulse. It recognizes mind in the atoms, molecules and cells of plants and animals. The mind of man and the mind of protoplasm differs only in degree, never in kind. On this principle taken as a basis, Prof. March brings mind and matter so closely together that he practically identifies the two. "Mind is not known to exist apart from matter; any other position rests at the present time on faith." See page 11. To us who have been accustomed to think of them as separate this view

Picture Framing---

seems almost untenable, but Prof. March proceeds to make good his point. He traces the building up of mind from its earliest manifestations in protoplasmic matter, through the various stages of growth with which we associate the idea of instinct, to its fullest development in man himself; and if in man it differs from the intelligence of the brute, it does so only because of the greater complexity of matter as found in man, not because man is more highly endowed from some extraneous source with a spiritual nature not possessed by the brute. In developing his theory Prof. March endeavors to keep within the bounds of the scientifically knowable. Those who are unable or unwilling to separate science from religion are likely to do the book injustice. The facts which are adduced in it to support the theory are drawn largely from biology, partly also from chemistry and physics, but never from the sphere of dogma or of revealed religion. This, however, does not preclude the possibility of occasional references to Christianity and its sources—references that are of interest in the way of illustration or parallel. But the work is neither religious nor irreligious, and it is certainly free from that tendency to confuse the teaching of the Bible with the scientific study of mental processes which both marks and mars the works of the Scotch psychologists. To a person who, like myself, can lay no claim to expert knowledge, Prof. March's book points to a distinct advance in psychologic science, and in doing so is superior to all publications of its kind which have preceded it

THE CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

At the vesper service last Sunday afternoon Rev. Charles A. Conant was the speaker. Mr. Conant is one of the older alumni of the college, having been graduated in the class of '60. He gave an unusually helpful and interesting talk on "The Spirit of Helpfulness." Mr. Conant said that the Christian spirit is one of service, and that there never comes a time in a man's life when he has more opportunity for service than in the four years of his college course. He made the very interesting statement that he knew of no place where more of the young men are Christians than in the college community.

There was no Tuesday evening prayer meeting this week as Mr. Taft spoke in the Van Curler that evening and the Y. M. C. A. wanted to give everyone an opportunity to hear him.

The next prayer meeting will be held Wednesday evening, November 4, owing to the fact that Tuesday is a college holiday. At this meeting Dean Ripton will speak on "The Value of Bible Study." After his talk the Bible Study classes for the year will be organized. A remarkably good meeting is assured and it is hoped that the attendance will be unusually large.

The vesper service next Sunday afternoon will be addressed by Dr. Fred Winslow Adams of the First Methodist Church. Dr. Adams is a frequent visitor on the "Hill" and never fails to give an excellent talk.

COLLEGE BRIEFS.

The Pyramid Club held a smoker in their rooms in North College on October 22. Several of the members responded to toasts and all had an enjoyable evening.

The Freshman football team played a game with the team of Johnstown High School. The Freshmen outplayed their opponents but neither side scored.

There was a bad Frosh banquet scare last Friday. The Frosh were nowhere to be seen and so the Sophs did some great detective work.

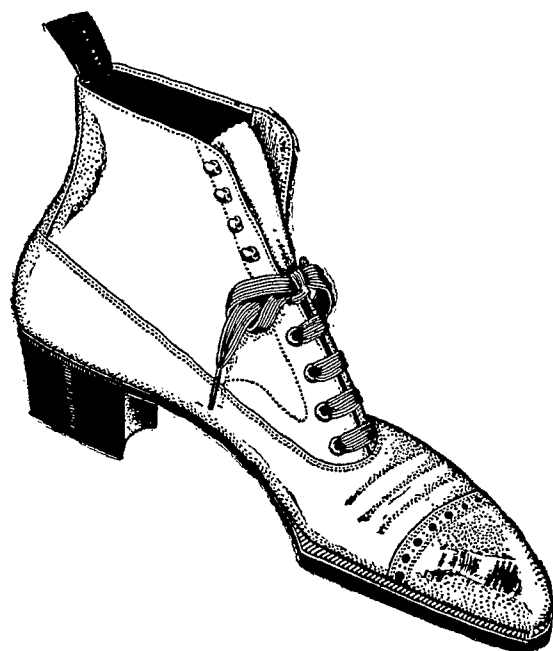

The schedule of the Sophomore football team includes games with Troy Academy, Albany Academy and the R. P. I. Freshmen.

A call has been issued for candidates for the wrestling bouts and tug of war team to compete against the Freshmen on Election Day by President Huthsteiner of the Sophomore class.

J. B. Chapman '09, attended the convention of College Democratic Clubs last Monday and Tuesday.

COLLEGE MEETING.

The interest of the students in hearing a report of the Rochester game brought out a large attendance at college meeting Monday.

After the team and each individual player had been given hearty cheers, J. L. Walton was called upon to tell "How it happened at Rochester."

Mr. Walton attributed our defeat to the more skillful playing of Rochester and the unfortunate injuries of Starbuck and Walser.

Mr. Walton moved that a committee be appointed to draw up a petition to the faculty asking for next Monday off in order that the students might get home in time to cast their ballots.

President Faust of the Y. M. C. A., speaking in behalf of the Association, brought to the attention of the students the Sunday meetings which are being held, and asked that more interest be shown in them and in the Association work. Mr.

Faust also spoke of the defiant attitude of the Freshman in regard to upper classman criticism and gave them some valuable pointers.

President Mould of the Republican Club invited the student body to attend the Republican mass meetings at the Van Curler on Monday and Tuesday evenings.

The minutes were read and the meeting closed with the singing of Alma Mater.

Cornell has followed in the steps of Harvard and Johns Hopkins, and hereafter will receive no one at its medical college who does not have an A. B. degree.

The University of Illinois is the first State university to receive a definite appropriation from a State legislature for the support of the graduate school.

1-4 SIZES

UNLESS you wear Regal Shoes, the chances are that you've often bought ill-fitting, uncomfortable shoes, rather than take the time and trouble to go from store to store, hunting an accurate fit.

That's all unnecessary.

Regal Quarter-Sizes give you double the assurance of a perfect fitting--- because they provide a special quarter-size in between each regular half and whole size.

No other shoes give you this advantage.

The 243 Regal styles for this season are exact reproductions of the made-to-order metropolitan models.

The name REGAL is itself a guarantee of style-correctness and highest quality.

And Regal Shoes are sold directly from the factory to you, with all intermediate profits eliminated. Nowhere else in the world can you obtain equal shoe value at anywhere near Regal prices.

ANOTHER CASE, BUT THEN —

Orders Are Issued at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

As a result of actions on the part of the Sophomore class of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute recently, an order has been issued that hazing at the institute must cease. It is alleged that some of the sophomore class were in attendance at one of the theaters recently and there beheld a number of the "freshies" enjoying the performance. As the story goes the "sophs" made a victim of one of the "freshies" and compelled him to mount the stage and do stunts, much to the amusement of the audience.

The "freshie" did not enjoy the role enforced upon him and at the first opportunity is said to have written about the affair to his parents. The latter in turn communicated the facts to the authorities of the institute, with the result that the order was issued to the Sophomore class. The officers of the class were called in by the directors and after being reprimanded were informed that they would be held accountable for any more outbreaks in the hazing line.

What The Candidate Said

An Election Note

Official endorsement of the Soft Felt Hat

A WELL known public man, who once ran for election as Governor of Massachusetts was asked if he intended to wear his Soft Felt Hat all through the campaign.

He replied: "I would rather wear a Soft Felt Hat than be governor." Any man as sensible as that deserves to be elected. The most comfortable hat ever invented—stylish too—and becoming if you get it here.

Just received a shipment of the "Duke of York" and "Prince of Wales" imported soft hat in the newest shades and shapes.

Vote right and wear a Soft Felt Hat.
