The 1908 Garnet

At last the joyful news has arrived that the 1908 Garnet is due, the first copies being expected today. The publication has been slightly delayed by a number of causes, chiefly the fact that there has been a much greater amount of material sent in for approval than usual. The Board has worked very hard in the effort to make this year's class-book the best in the history of the college, and it is sincerely hoped that their labors have been successful in attainment.

Probably the chief feature of the book is the artistic work, which, under the direction of LaRoche as Art Editor, is unusually good as regards both quantity and quality, the chief contributors being LaRoche, Vogt and Stevens, all of 1908. Several plates for the Medics have been drawn by Ayer, Medic, '10. In all there are about 175 plates. The cover design, stamped in garnet on grey cloth, was drawn by Vogt, and represents a Campus scene centering at Nott Memorial Hall. Immediately following the introduction is the dedication to C. F. F. Garis, Ph. B., of the Department of Mathematics, whose active interest in all college work since his arrival at Union has well merited the tribute of appreciation.

The subject matter is much the same as in previous years, containing as usual the Faculty and Undergraduate lists of all of the University's branches, with cues of the members of 1908, class photographs, fraternity lists, athletic events (edited by Fuller, '08), clubs and societies, organizations, and literary matter. The last-named department consists of really a fine lot of poems, sketches, and storiettes. The "calendar," adorning as usual the advertising pages, is by far the most entertaining that has appeared in a long time.

The Board is composed of the following members: Carl H. Vogt, Editor-in-Chief; Mark Watson, Business Manager; M. H. Weyrauch, Literary Editor; Arthur LaRoche, Art Editor; E. J. Fuller, Athletic Editor; H. L. Meyer, Secretary; R. P. Harris, Assistant Business Manager; Andrew V. V. Raymond, Jr., Royton F. Wheadon, John LeRoy Sawyer, Augustine Marx, Philip L. Classen, W. E. Barth, S. P. Brush, D. C. Newton, G. B. McMurray, Assistant Editors.

The books may be obtained from the Business Manager, and also from the city book stores, at $1.75, or $2.00 postpaid. The number published is smaller than heretofore, so that to insure getting one, prospective purchasers must order promptly.

The Senior final examinations will occur during the week beginning the twentieth inst. That day will be moving-up day in the college, and the regular moving-up festivities will occur then. This early period for examinations will give the Seniors nearly twenty days' vacation before commencement.

A canvass of the Senior class as to the coming occupations of its members has resulted as follows: A large proportion of the engineers graduating in the electrical course will enter the General Electric Works in town. This includes in its list Avery, Bishop, Cantwell, Davis, Dillon, Langley, Moore, Nicht, Osborne, Reed and Sterns. Rodrigues and Pyles will spend a short time in the Works and will then return to their home in Brazil, where they will enter into business as Electrical Engineers.

Pennett will enter the College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York and expects to stay there until he gets his M. D. degree.

Brennan will enter the local civic service as an engineer on the staff.

DeMey will continue his studies at Union and expects to take an Engineering degree in two more years.

Girvin is going to make a specialty of the science of chemistry and will assume a position as an analytical chemist this year with that end in view.

Harvey is going into business in Central New York.

Hill is going to assume a position as regular reporter on the Schenectady Gazette's staff until fall, when he will enter Albany Law School.

Noble will enter into business with the Vrooman Hardware Company.

Parsons, entering the hotel business, is this summer going to be assistant manager of the Hotel Wawbeek at Upper Saranac.

Waters will be with the State Engineering Corps on their surveying work.

White is going to enter Harvard Law School in the fall.

The other men have not as yet fully decided upon their immediate future. These include Butcher, Fairbairn, Franchot, Gardiner, MacIntosh, Newton, Trumbull and Wadsworth.

College Meeting

Chapel meeting last Monday was not marked by any very exciting incidents. Dr. MacComber was present and gave a good talk on the baseball team. He said that very good spirit had been shown at the Pratt Institute game, and that the yelling was fine. Concerning spirit he said that it was a very good thing to have when a team was winning, but that the real test was to show an equal amount of enthusiasm when everything was apparently going wrong. The team might always be counted upon to do its best and it is up to the student body to show that they reciprocated in kind. That is the factor that counts, and the thing that will turn out a winning team. In regards to the track prospects, Dr. MacComber made the announcement that Union's team would contest this year in the New York State Intercollegiate League. What we ask for now is to get a representative team on the field, and the only way that that can be done is for every one to come out and try in competition for some of the open places on the team. The prospects thus far have been very encouraging, and a number of enthusiastic freshmen are out for the team.

Harvey, '07, spoke on baseball. He made no report on the game on account of the fact that it had taken place on the campus and all the fellows had seen the contest themselves. He found difficulty, he said, in impressing the squad with the fact that it would be a good thing to come around when a notice to do so was posted for their benefit.

Waldron, '07, spoke on the interscholastic track meet that is to be held on the campus on the 17th of this month. Although the meet is not under the direct supervision of the Union management it would be a good opportunity to show the young fellows what a good place Union really is. His motion to have a committee appointed to make arrangement for the proper reception and entertainment of the out-of-town men was unanimously carried. A campus meeting was the form of entertainment decided upon, the meeting to take place on the evening of the meet.

Manager Brennan of the baseball team found fault with the way that the Press Club of the college, that he supposed to exist, sent in the reports of games to the New York papers. He said that hereafter the Press Club would be relieved of its duties and that he, as baseball manager, would make himself personally responsible for the appearance of the accounts of all our games in all of the New York papers. This report was hailed with an outburst of applause from the student body and the "Press Club."

Captain Flowers of the track team announced our first meet as the one against R. P. I., to be held on May the 11th. He wants all the men to come out for daily practice so that the team will be able to make a good showing against our opponents from Troy.

Manager Noble announced that five men who composed the basketball team would be awarded the basketball "U" as soon as the committee decided who was entitled to wear it. Upon motion it was then carried that the basketball players be awarded a regular "U" without any qualifying letters to indicate the branch of sport. The report of the committee was then upon motion accepted. Five players will be awarded the "U" and others deemed worthy will be given the "aUa."

Christian Association

Vesper Service, Sunday—Speaker, Dean Ripton.

Tuesday Evening Prayer Meeting—Northfield Rally. Leader, J. H. Safford, State Student Secretary.

The Dean's talk is to be of the same sort as his address of last term. It needs no higher recommendation. His subject will be "A Queer Story from the New Testament."

The Northfield Rally Tuesday night is of special importance, not only to those men intending to go, but to everyone interested in the Association. A great deal depends upon sending a large delegation to the Northfield Conference, and it is all a matter of the amount of enthusiasm we are able to raise. A large delegation should be sent from Union, both for the good of the fellows themselves and more especially to have the College well represented among the other institutions that will be prominent there.

Six men have already decided to go, and if six more could be added, Union would have a very creditable representation. The Conference at Northfield is to be held from June 28th to July 7th. All fellows interested in the matter should keep these dates in mind in making out their summer programs, and should come around Tuesday night and learn the details. Moreover, Mr. Safford is a speaker well worth hearing on any subject.

Alumni Notes

✓ '64. Rev. Chauncey Elliot Van Allen died at his home in Springfield, Mass., on Monday, April 22d. After attending Union College and the Union Theological Seminary in New York City, he was ordained in the Presbyterian Ministry in 1867. Later he left the Presbyterian Church and was ordained as a Baptist clergyman, and had many charges in the central and northern portion of New York State, until he retired from active work in 1900.

'98. The office of Deputy Auditor of the State of Pennsylvania will soon be filled by a Union College graduate—Thomas A. Crighton, of Wellsboro, Pennsylvania. The office is an important one and Auditor-General-Elect Young paid a tribute to Mr. Crighton's ability in appointing him to be his chief assistant.

After winning football fame in college, and graduating with distinction in '98, Mr. Crighton was employed at Mercersburg Academy for two years as instructor in English, Oratory and Mathematics. He studied law with Mayor George W. Merrick and Robert K. Young at Wellsboro and was admitted to the Tioga County Bar, after passing one of the most brilliant examinations of its history. He practised law for a short time and then assumed a civil service position in the Pension Office at Washington, where he stayed for three years. While there he took a course in the National University Law Schools, in which he carried off every honor for which he competed but one. In December, 1903, he married Miss Frances Potter of Washington, D. C.

In announcing the appointment, Mr. Young said:

"The office of Deputy Auditor General is a very important one, not only to the people of the State, but to the Auditor General himself. It is a purely personal appointment and peculiarily so in this instance, politics having no part in it. The selection of Mr. Crighton was made for two reasons: First, I wanted a man whom I know from the ground up. In my absence the deputy is authorized to sign warrants and do other important acts which bind his principal. So important does the State consider the deputy that he is bonded in twice the sum of the Auditor General for the faithful performance of his duties. Secondly, I wanted the best lawyer to be had for the salary attached to the office, who had the other requisite, and in Mr. Crighton I am satisfied that I have secured both."

✓ '00. A daughter was recently born to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin T. Bender. Mr. Bender was graduated in the class of 1900.

Seniors, Attention!

Gallaudet College for the Deaf, Washington, D. C., offers yearly to graduates of colleges of good standing, a course in the science and art of instructing the deaf, which is open to a limited number of young hearing persons who wish to become teachers of the deaf. The course of instruction is thorough and comprehensive, and lasts one year. The degree of Master of Arts is conferred upon those graduates of the course who have previously taken the Bachelor's degree and who have done satisfactory work during the year.

Through the liberality of Congress, a number of Normal Fellowships have been endowed, and those receiving appointments as Normal Fellows are entitled to free tuition, board, room-rent, lights and laundry and the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars in cash. These Fellowships are open to both men and women, and previous experience with, or knowledge of the deaf is not a pre-requisite for the granting of the Fellowships, as they are usually awarded in order of application. Only those of excellent character, of clean habits, not addicted to the use of tobacco or liquor are desired as applicants. Good positions are assured each graduate of ability. Only last summer, four of the Normal Fellows were elected as Principals and Superintendents of schools for the deaf. The demand for college trained men as teachers of the deaf is greater than the supply. The opportunity the position offers of a year in Washington should not be overlooked in estimating the advantages to be derived from such a course. It is very desirable that applications for fellowships, accompanied by their testimonials, be forwarded as soon as possible to Dr. Edward M. Gallaudet, President of the College, in order to be acted upon in time for the next college year. Any further information will be gladly furnished by addressing Edward Perkins Clarke, Principal, School for the Deaf, Rome, N. Y.

SEE WHAT'S HERE—THE GARNET.

Beautiful Spring.

Again the soft sunshine and softer rain admonish us that Spring, gentle Spring, is here in all her verdant glory and coquettish weather. Now, she smiles and now, she weeps and oh, what tears. How they fill The Brook, run rivers down Union Street hill and cause "Prex" to give another hitch to his trousers. But sunshine or showers, all the world rejoices.

The awakening power of beautiful Spring should not be forgotten. In fact, it might be called Time's annual alarm-clock. And this year we think that the clanging of the bell must have been unusually loud, for it has aroused our venerable trustees. Doctor Hoffman will tell you that sleep is the normal condition of animal life, at least, that is what he used to tell us, and that wakefulness is abnormal and a matter of degree only. And can we even hint that our trustees are abnormal? Hardly.

But this year they appear to have waked to a little matter which has needed attention during the past hundred years or so of their encumbency, and that is, an appropriation for the improvement of the appearance of the campus. "Johnnie" Bennett once wrote in this periodical, "A college may consist of a log, an instructor seated on one end, and a student on the other, with a soap-box of books between them." True. We all know it, but let's advertise. Let the billboard read Dry Paths, Close Cropped Lawns, A Drop of Paint."

Remember how the grounds always looked in Spring Term? Mud ankle deep, rank weeds and grass knee high and the paint in scaly blisters. A pretty picture? No, but an uglier reality, especially so to the stranger who must perforce judge by appearances. Let us throw out our chest and put up a front. Sort of say to the possible freshman, "Have a look. Aint we a beaut?" We crave "Spike's" pardon for the "Aint," also for the "beaut."

So here is to our trustees. Asleep or awake, normal or abnormal, they have done a good job this beautiful Spring. More power to them.

Intercollegiate.

In the Beilage zur Allgemeinen Zeitung for January 9, Dr. Rein of Jena reviews a recent book, "Deutsche Universitet und deutsche Zuhurft," by Frederick v. d. Leyer, in which the author takes a thorough pessimistic view of German universities. One must not be deceived, he says, by the rapid growth in natural science and medicine, nor by the increasing number of students. Since 1850 the universities have been going steadily to their place. They are today only the highest technical schools for specialists and training institutes for government officials.

V. d. Leyer also sharply criticizes the profession. Independent personalities, he says, are rare among them, but of virtuosos, clever poseurs, unscrupulous office seekers and bureaucrats there is no lack. Their lectures are no longer influential in the building of character, but rather bring about bewilderment, dilettanteism and pseudo knowledge. The physicians on the faculty regard their own practice as more important than their duties as instructors, and have, indeed, condescended to university work only in order to better their social condition and be able to demand higher fees from their patients.

This criticism of German universities is especially interesting because of several recent articles criticizing our American universities. It is noteworthy that these critics have two points in common: (1) Over specialization; (2) The failure of instructors to exert an inspiring influence toward character formation.—Daily Nebraskan.

THE '08 GARNET

The Junior Class Publication has made its appearance from the press and is ready for distribution among the fellows. The work is really a good one and is well worthy of preservation as a memoir of college days. As we know college annuals, this year's Garnet ranks with the best. The art work is all original and good. The skits are timely and interesting and, best of all, the book is out early enough to be interesting to us. Manager Watson has put in hours of time and the Board has done its level best to insure the success of the publication. It's up to you, student, to further the good cause and incidentally do yourself the credit of showing your college spirit.

THE RUTGERS-UNION DEBATE

From the Rutgers "Targum" we clip the following:

"Preliminary trials preparatory for the Union-Rutgers debate were held in Kirkpatrick Chapel last Wednesday evening. A small number of students contested. The following eight were selected: Leukel, Esberg, Stockum and Woodruff, '07; Feller, '08, and Devan, Potter and Shafer, '09.

"The Union debates will undoubtedly be the most difficult contest in that department, scheduled for the year, and upon which depends the continuity of our unbroken record. The expression of student interest is here most desirable and we should miss no opportunity to be of benefit to the team either by word of encouragement, suggestion or assistance."

We would second, from our end, the Rutgers idea of arousing student interest in the debate, and we heartily agree in the desirability of such a feature. Our team has met a number of defeats and we want to break the evil spell. If you can't do anything else, at least come around next Friday night and display your spirit in that way.

WHOSE IS THE CAMPUS?

The annual invasion of the army of the town's youngsters has arrived. At practically every moment of the day, outside of school hours, the college grounds are overrun with a horde of young terrorists. The track team finds practice a work of difficulty with an army of kids swarming over the field—the runners are hampered and the weight men dare not throw the hammer for fear of blotting one of the miscreants out of existence in too sudden a manner, although the temptation sometimes is great. The baseball team in practice is disturbed by the same horde of pests, and to all appearances, nothing can be done to lessen the evil—"de gang" always hobs up in the proverbially serene manner.

We may or may not accept this as a matter of course, but the height of indignity was the manner in which this invading army was allowed to act on Wednesday afternoon at the baseball game. Not within our recollection at least has such a thing even been allowed to occur. It has always been bad enough to endure a swarm of kids during the week, but at baseball games they have, we believe, generally been consigned to the Terrace Wall. The vision of a mob of youngsters filling the east bleachers struck us as peculiar, but when a fistic combat between two of them was allowed to withdraw interest from the game in the way it did, it seemed as if Campus dignity had received a staggering blow.

Can we not have some semblance of protection?

And diphtheria worms"—

TWO VICTORIES FOR THE GARNET TEAM

Union 3, Pratt Institute 2

In the first home game of the season—the one against Pratt Institute last Saturday—our baseball team gave a fine exhibition of their mettle in one of the swiftest games ever played on the campus. Every player was in the game from the start and the game was practically a perfect one. Eleven innings were necessary to bring the winning run across the plate for Union, the score up to that time from the sixth standing 2—2.

The Pratt Institute team came to bat first and were retired without making a count. The Garnet's first inning also resulted in no score. It was in our half of the second that two runs came in for us. King made a safe hit through the infield, and got to first. Unaccustomed to left-handed pitchers, the coach on the base line allowed him to be caught off the base and he was retired. A base on balls and another infield hit put two more men on bases, when Ladue came to bat. He located the ball for three bases and brought in the two runs. No more scores came in then until the last inning. Pratt Institute brought in a run in the third and one in the sixth. In the fourth inning Stewart made a fine three base hit into deep right field. An attempt to work the "squeeze play" resulted in a pop fly and the batter was caught out, Stewart being caught at home plate. Ignorance of the left-handed pitcher's swift throws to first again caught one of our men there in this inning and kept out a run. In the eleventh Bergen crossed the plate for the winning run.

The game was hotly contested every instant, and every player proved himself a star. Davis in the box and Ladue and Stewart at the bat were the particular stars of the game, and the two three-base hits were an indication that our batting was taking a decided brace. Diver distinguished himself in the second inning by making a fine catch of a fly with his bare hand after a backward run. Hoffman, in the seventh, by a fine throw from deep right field, kept out a run.

Union 6, A. L. S. 1

The game against Law School on Wednesday afternoon was not at all a spectacular game. Eleven errors against the visitors and eight on 'Varsity's side of the score card are indices of the laxness of the playing. The feature of the game was Stewart's fine pitching for the Garnet. At no time during the game did he lose control, and the visitors were confined to three hits. Our poor fielding almost let in runs at critical periods several times during the game, and in a number of instances Law went out with two and three men on bases. Stewart was always ready, however, and pulled the team out of a bad hole several times. His control was perfect and his swift, straight delivery over the plate kept the lawyers guessing. He also has a good assortment of curves and should make a fine showing in Union's future games.

'Varsity was not in good baseball trim when they played the game. Osborne and King were both lame, from injuries received during the week, and the entire team seemed possessed of some of the visitors' lack of snap. The batting was very good, and 'Varsity found Wilcox for nine hits. The base running was also good and every chance was successfully taken by our team.

The score of the game is as follows:

UNION.	H.	R.	P.O.	A.	E.

Dear Newt: Of course we read the advertisements in the Concordy, and of course we patronize your advertisers—when we happen to be in their stores when we want to buy something. We have had the same difficulty that you have in regards to the first ad. on page 14. Of course, if Manager Watson wants the individual pictures by Dec. 1st I suppose he will get them. Yes, it would be necessary to go to the photographer in that event immediately, if not sooner. Never too late to mend, you know.

Affectionately,

Mamie.

Johnnie: No, you must never bother the children when the poor little things are enjoying themselves on the campus. If you find the running track blocked by them, try taking a little Pooruna. That will give you ample exercise for a week or two. No, never stay up after two o'clock when you are in training. I don't know if girls always like boys or not. Mame.

Dear Frosh: I don't quite gather the gist of your question, but on the whole I think it's a good plan to laugh whenever a Prof. cracks a joke. The laugh might distort your face, but it will improve the looks of your report card at the end of the term. No, never bolt when you are out of town, unless you have good reasons.

Mamie.

Deary: I would not pay that musical club tax if I thought there was any danger that the clubs would again visit my native burg. Otherwise I would not pay it at all. In either case don't pay, and you can't lose.

A.B.C.: A good way to remove dirt is by the application of soap and water semi-occasionally or oftener. This has often been found to give almost immediate relief. If the case is obstinate a road scraper and a massage by Eddie Feldhausen will be beneficial. Yes, drinking fountain-pen ink is l'able to give you the blues. Water will quench the thirst if you are far removed from civilization. Otherwise be careful.

"The Ecstasy of Love."

O maiden fair, thou art divine,
Thine eyes like stars of heav'n do shine;
Thy ruby lips, so fair to see
Keep me ever in mind of thee;
With auburn locks and grecian nose,
And cheeks which bloom like fairest rose,
Thou thou alone art that she
For whom I pine both night and day.
What would I not give to be the one
Who, luckiest mortal 'neath the sun,
Some day in soft caressing tone
Shall call thee his, and his alone.

AFTERTHOUGHT.

O maiden fair, since thou hast come,
At class your a student dumb,
Thy auburn lips, thy ruby nose
E'en now disturb my sweet repose.

"And will you allow me to marry Algernon?" asked the breathless, tearful daughter.

The adamantine parent smiled. "Yes," he answered, "yes, when——"

"Oh, dear papa!"

"When the Michiganensian comes out!" he concluded.

The College Man's Favorite Store

"Varsity" chaps hereabout are deucedly partial to Holtzmann's dontcher-know—they like the little "quips" and turns (if we may be allowed the expression) in Tailorcraft that makes their ready-for-wear gorments for fresh, middler, soph and seniors so typically collegian. Boys, we just want to say that your favorite store is ready to make you look every inch the college man. You know quite well that college cut clothes are the characteristic of the College spirit. No young man can be said to be thoroughly inoculated with the indefinable exuberance who is lax in this particular. The rah! rah! rah! cannot be evoked with the same gusto in an ill-fitting suit, so get ready to "holler" in a Holtzmann's Perfection fit college tog. Hats—Haberdashery.
