DELTA PHI RE-UNION

And 75th Anniversary 1827-1902.

The celebration of the 75th anniversary of the founding of the Delta Phi fraternity began with the informal reception and "open house" tendered Monday afternoon, Nov. 17th, by the members of the Alpha chapter at their house at 759 Nott Street. About 40 men from the other chapters attended and were well entertained by the Union men.

On the same evening about 75 Delta Phians assembled at Hotel Ten Eyck, Albany, for the anniversary dinner and re-union. The ballroom, in which the banquet was held, was tastily trimmed with Boston ferns, potted plants, chrysanthemums and college flags. Yale, Columbia, Cornell, Rutgers, Lehigh, Brown, University of Pennsylvania, Johns Hopkins, New York University, Rensselaer Polytechnic and Union were well represented. Men whose sons had already graduated from college and the proverbial "green" freshman sat side by side on terms of the greatest intimacy.

Music was furnished by Prof. Holding's orchestra and, when at intervals the strains of some familiar college or fraternity air came floating from behind the barrier of ferns, old and young would take up the strain and swell the chorus until the walls echoed and re-echoed again.

When the inner man was more than satisfied, James Duane Livingston, Delta, '76, delivered the address of welcome in his usual, graceful manner. Toasts were then responded to as follows:

"Our Fraternity," John W. Searing.

"The Sister Chapters," William L. Hodges, Psi '94.

"Lambda," Theodore Moore, Lambda, '70.

"Delta Phi as She is To-day," Philip M. Brett, Epsilon, '88.

"The Old Bridge," Frederick W. Cameron, Alpha, '77.

At the close all united in singing "Auld Lang Syne."

Tuesday the Lambda chapter of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, assumed the duties of host and entertained in her usual excellent style. Those who know Lambda realize what that "usual" means. At noon more than forty sat down to enjoy a surpassingly good luncheon and a still greater number were present at the reception held in the evening at the fraternity house.

Among those Union men at the exercises were: Edward W. Cameron, Frederick W. Cameron, Evan R. Cullings, '00; Philip S. Dorlon, J. B. Dupuy, H. V. Mynderse, William T. B. Mynderse, C. B. MacMurray, Chas. H. Mills, '72; J. W. Parry, W. C. Roberson, Frank H. Nenter, '78; T. W. Powell, '03; J. L. Staeber, '03; Albert H. Keesler, '03; Harry R. Andress, '04; Earl W. M'Quirk, '05; J. T. Warren, '05; Daniel Imrie, '06; Lee F. Heacock, '06; Floyd L. Miller, '06; Prof. Sidney G. Ashmore, John DeWitt Pelts, R. C. Prince.

Taken all together the celebration of the 75th anniversary was a very successful affair and much credit is due to the Alpha and Lambda chapters on whom devolved most of the responsibility. That Delta Phi may continue in her present prosperity is the earnest wish of every man in Union college.

Act V.—THE NEW ERA.

1. A Peaceful Revolution.

On Thursday evening the combined Glee and Mandolin Clubs gave a concert at Red Men's Hall in Scotia. Owing to rival attractions the concert was not as well attended as might have been desired.

A few changes in the program as published last week were made so that it is here appended:

PROGRAM.

1. "Winter Song," (Bullard)—Glee Club.
2. "Harmony Mose," (Mills)—Mandolin Club.
3. Cornet Solo. (Selected)—Mr. Rulison.
4. "The Mill,"—Glee Club.
5. The Happy Harp in "Warmed Over Smiles." Characteristic sketch with the kind assistance of the Professor. R. W. Clark, '04.
6. Ha! Ha! Miss Lindy. (Steele)—Mr. Mulleneaux and Glee Club.
7. The Mississippi Bubble (Haines).
8. The Story of a Tack. (Anon)—Quartet.
9. Cornet Duet. (Selected)—Messrs. Rulison and Lundgren.
10. Terrace Song (Ludlow, '56)—Mr. Mulleneaux and Glee Club.

The instrumental club is in fine condition, barring the necessity of using their notes on the stage. Among the best rendered numbers on the program were numbers 3 and 6. The cornet solo by Mr. Rulison was pleasing and his tones are very clear and mellow, lacking that harsh sound so often noticeable in the work of amateur cornetists. By far the best work done by the Glee Club was in number 6. The chorus is a rollicking one, an ideal college club song, and the baritone solo voice was admirably sustained by Mr. Mulleneaux.

While not a strict success from the financial point of view, the benefits derived from this public practice are of no little advantage to all men on the club. An appreciative delegation from the hill attended the concert.

KAPPA ALPHA RECEPTION.

On Friday evening of last week the beautiful home of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity was the scene of a most enjoyable reception and dance. Gioscia furnished the music in his usual inspiring manner and the floor of the three large connected rooms on the first story were crowded with dancers from nine until early morning.

Supper was served by Dobermann about eleven.

The patronesses were Mesdames Lewis, Kriegsmann and Clements.

Among those present were the Misses Kriegsmann, Miss Yates, Miss Ostrom, Miss Lawrence, Miss Strain, Miss Price, Miss Lynn, Miss Bothwell, Miss Button, Miss Coats, Miss Whitlock, Miss Florence Becker, Miss Howe, Miss Anne Becker, Miss Fuller, Miss Pierson, Miss VanDeusen, Miss Lewis, Miss Lay, Miss Bogardus, Miss Griffith, Miss Clements, Miss Vedder, Miss Schuyler.

Messrs. Pritchard, Robert Yates, W. C. Yates, Strong, Lawton, Stothoff, Smallpiece, Wilson, Lawrence, Weed, Stebbins, White, McMullin, Peck, Parker, Mulleneaux, Heath, Stiles, Howe, Clark, Palmer, Hoxie, Rulison, Greenman, McCombs, Durant, Schroeder; and the active chapter, Messrs. G. W. Donnan, R. C. Donnan, Delbridge, Cool, Fiero, Law-sing, Rutledge, West, Simmons, Burnham, Hart, Dwight, Stoney, Lawrence, Lundgren, Sherman.

ALBANY LAW SCHOOL.

Senior class meeting, November 21st. 1902; President Drummond, presiding. Chairman, Marvin, of the executive committee reports on class smoker. Austin moves that the class have a smoker. Carried. Merriman, Whipple and Austin speak on the subject. Minkin moves same be held at the New Kenmore. Carried. Marvin speaks. Minkin moves the date be left in the hands of the committee. Carried. Adjourned.

Hon. Marcus T. Hun, of the Board of Trustees, announces the dissolution of the firm of Hun, Johnson & Hand. Mr. Johnson continues the practice of the law in Albany, Mr. Hand goes to New York to become associated with a leading firm of that city, and Mr. Lewis R. Parker, of the law faculty, becomes the junior partner of the new firm of Hun & Parker.

The Junior class held a meeting on the 17th for the purpose of electing a Court Crier to officiate in their Moot courts, but strange to say the office seemed to go a-begging. Roberts was first unanimously elected, but declined. McInerney and Dugan were then nominated against their vehement protests. The ballot disclosed 49 votes for McInerney and 11 for Dugan, although there were but 30 juniors in the room. This is explained by the fact that there were some half dozen seniors present, and they voted "early and often". McInerney then resigned and Lincoln and Smith were nominated and a division of the house was had which resulted in the election of Lincoln by a vote of 28 to 2, the minority vote being cast by the candidates themselves.

Harold J. Hinman, college 1899, Law 1901, and Melvin T. Bender, college 1900, Law 1902, have formed a co-partnership for the general practice of the law under the firm name of Bender & Hinman, with offices at No. 81 Chapel street, Albany, N. Y.

Among the members of the Aurania Club, whose handsome new club house was formally opened on Thursday evening the 20th, inst., are Merriman, Austin, and Mills, of the Senior class.

N. Y. U. SHUTS OUT UNION And Wins by a Score of 18 to 0.

With the grand stand and bleachers packed to overflowing, the largest crowd that has ever witnessed a football game at University Heights saw the New York University boys defeat the Union College eleven Saturday, at Ohio Field, by a score of 18 to 0.

N. Y. U. put up the best defensive game she has played this year. Union, on the other hand, could scarcely ever show an invulnerable front. Her offensive game was better. New York, when playing on the offensive, tore big holes in her opponent's line, and Reilley and Lorenz, New York's tackles, were shoved through the gaps for large gains.

New York scored twice in the first half and once in the second. In the first period New York kicked off to the visitors, who caught the ball on their 30-yard line. Almost at once they made thirty yards on an end run. New York got the ball at midfield, but losing it on a fumble, Union made another large gain and almost scored a touchdown on a trick play. On her 10-yard line New York braced, got the ball on downs, and on well directed mass plays worked the pigskin down to Union's 20-yard mark.

Here a trial for a field goal went wide. Union punted it to the centre of the field, but they could advance the ball no further. New York's line held them for downs, and the local team rushed the oval down the field. Rielley was pushed over for a touchdown. Connelly kicked the goal.

On the line-up again New York rapidly worked the ball down toward Union's goal by steadily hammering the opposing line. Union obtained the ball on her 20-yard line. Here the leather went from one side to the other on bad fumbles by both teams. New York finally scored a second touchdown, due to large gains by fine line handling by Lane. Connelly kicked the goal.

In the second half Union's offensive playing at first was so aggressive that the visitors carried the ball to New York's 20-yard line. Here occurred the feature of the game. N. Y. U. had the ball.

On a second pass MacDowell, by a quick sprint around Union's right end obtained a clear field. A Union man gave chase, but could not overtake the fleeing runner, who planted the pigskin in squarely between Union's goal posts after a run of ninety yards. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed. Time was called a few minutes later on account of darkness with the ball in Union's possession on New York's ten yard line.

Thanksgiving. The Board of Editors wishes you one and all a happy Thanksgiving vacation. May the turkey be larger, fatter, and sweeter than ever before. Have you ever thought how much a student at Union has to be thankful for? Let us reckon up. In the first place we should be thankful for this grand old college which has withstood all the buffets and storms that have swept over her for nearly five score and ten years. And this gallant fight on and on through the years has been of singular honor to those men whose names are written on Union's roll of fame, for, unlike the other old colleges in the United States, Union has had to depend for her existence not on the lavish munificence of men of great wealth but largely upon the earnest and self-sacrificing labors of her alumni.

This brings us to a second cause for thanksgiving, the alumni.

Did you ever realize how much the alumni are doing for us? A material instance of their constant regard for our welfare is the beautiful building given for the use of the students by Dr. Silliman; another example is the stately Memorial Hall which had its origin in the mind of another alumnus, and whose completion is now a surety through the efforts of other alumni in appealing to the great generosity of the Hon. Mr. Carnegie.

Did you ever express your thanks by word or by action to the Board of Trustees for their gifts to you? Did you ever realize that in years past these same gentlemen of the Board of Trustees have subscribed handsome sums of money to aid in paying the debt of Union? Are you properly thankful to the management of the institution because it has placed Union on a sound financial basis and has solved in the main the problem of problems, how to manage the college within her income?

But if we were to enumerate all of the things for which the Union College man can be grateful this thanksgiving, it would not be possible for this issue to be published a day earlier as is our intention this week. Let it be enough if everyone acknowledges down at the bottom of his heart that it is a mighty good thing to live but a still mightier blessing to live at Union.

NOTICE.—The next number of the Concordiensis will be issued Wednesday, Dec. 10th.

The Plea of a Fish.

Please, Mister, handle me gently,
You don't realize how you hurt.
You scrape off my scales so intently,
And expect me to lie here, inert.
You cut off my fins without mercy,
With never a thought of my pain.
Before you go further, have pity,
And deaden my agonized brain.
Don't let me lie here and suffer
Because I am only a fish,
With one single blow you can kill me,
And grant a poor Cod's dying wish.

J. J. L. (Law '03.)

Frank D. Barker, a graduate of the Albany Law School, committed suicide at Clayton, Lewis county, on Saturday, by drowning. (Albany Argus, Oct. 26.)

CAMPUS NOTES.

The outlook for a good basket ball season is bright, indeed but one thing can prevent a successful year and that is lack of money. If every man in college will pay his football subscription in full there will be funds enough to see the team through a schedule with the best colleges in this vicinity. It has been the policy of the athletic board in the past to refuse to ratify games where there is not money enough in the treasury to cover the guarantee, and the board will strictly adhere to this principle in regard to the basketball team. If all subscriptions are paid promptly games will be arranged with some of the following teams: Cornell, Colgate, Hamilton, Hobart, Rochester, Vermont, R. P. I., Amherst, Dartmouth, Wesleyan, Brown, Amherst Aggies, Watertown and the local militia company.

The management is trying to make some agreement with the Washington Continental management whereby Union can play her home games on the armory court. In the meantime the gym. will be used for practice and will be equipped with new baskets and other material for practice games.

It is earnestly desired by Capt. Anderson that every man who has any knowledge of the game gets out every afternoon and helps the team along. There is plenty of good material in the freshman class and it only remains to be seen how it will turn out. In the upper classes, Pearse, Olmsted, Sherrill, Lawsing and Burnham are among the best. Let all the men come out in order to have two fives on the floor and then develop a strong 'varsity. The athletic board has decided to give U's to the men who play on the regular team.

Practice will begin in earnest as soon as the football season is over, and every effort will be made to turn out a winning team. There is one thing certain, however, if the men want a good schedule they must pay in their subscriptions, for the athletic board is firm in its resolve to see some visible evidence of undergraduate backing before they go ahead and arrange for any games.

The football game between the sophomore and freshman classes was played on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 18. The result was a tie. The teams were very evenly matched although the ball was in the possession of sophomores the greater part of the time. The features of the game were the freshmen holding for downs on their two yard line; Sawyer's punting and Becker's offensive work. Score 1905, 0; 1906, 0. Time of halves 10 minutes.

Owing to the popular feeling that the Monday after Thanksgiving would be a desirable addition to the regular vacation, the following action was taken with the subsequent results:

From the minutes of the Undergraduate Council held Nov. 19, 1902.

"WHEREAS, by action of the Board of Trustees, the college year has been shortened by means of a general reduction of holidays and in pursuance of this policy the Thanksgiving recess is made to end at 8 p. m. Monday, Dec. 1st; and whereas the majority of the students live at some distance from the college so that reopening college on Monday compels them to return on the Sabbath, many indeed on Saturday, the 29th inst., because no railroad connections can be made on the 30th, Sunday, thereby causing them much inconvenience and in effect shortening the recess; and whereas Washington's Birthday, a legal holiday to which the students are entitled, will be officially celebrated on Monday, Feb. 23rd, 1903; and whereas the students would prefer to meet for recitation on Feb. 23rd rather than on Dec. 1st:

"BE IT RESOLVED, that the faculty of Union College be respectfully petitioned to extend the Thanksgiving recess to 7:45 a. m. Tuesday, Dec. 2nd.

"2nd, that recitations be held on Monday, Feb. 23rd, 1903, to compensate for the loss of Monday, Dec. 1st, 1902.

"3rd, that the President and Secretary of the Council be empowered to present this petition to the faculty."

This resolution was submitted to the student body at a special meeting held Thursday morning and was adopted by vote of those present.

"To the faculty of Union College, Gentlemen:-

"Acting in pursuance of the foregoing resolution we petition that the Thanksgiving recess extend from 1 p. m. Wednesday, November 26th, to 7:45 a. m. Tuesday, December 2nd, 1902.

"Second, that recitations be held on Monday, February 23rd, 1903 to compensate for the loss of Monday, December 1, 1902.

"Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) JOHN A. BOLLES,
Pres. Undergraduate Council."

(Signed) S. B. HOWE, JR.
Sec. Undergraduate Council.

"Granted, with the modification that Saturday, Dec. 20, be substituted for Washington's Birthday.

"JAMES H. STOLLER
Sec. of the Faculty."

Thanksgivin'.

O the turkey is a sizzlin' in the oven scorchin' hot
An' th' taters are a steamin' in th' big ol' iron pot,
And the punkin pies are coolin' on the frosty window ledge,
An' the cranbry sass is stewin' and it sets my teeth on edge,
And see ma aroun the kitchen with a red and anxious look,
A spyin' on us fellars who she knows jes like a book,
Fur we're spilin' for a chanst to swipe a yaller punkin pie,
And she know it tu, you betcher, we can see it in her eye.
An' soon at dinner gathered there is paw an' maw an Jane,
An' gramp' and gramma Larkin an' uncle 'Siah Lane.
There's the parson lean but hearty, an' next him me an' Jim,
An' we'll set aroun' the fireplace when the daylight has grown dim.
Now I don't brag some nuther but when turkey roast is come,
You kin bet I'm allus ready for Thanksgivin' at our home.
You kin talk about yer Chris'mas an' yer Fourth so full o' noise,
But a real ol' celebrasun of Thanksgivin' takes us boys.

BARNEY SHANDON—HERO.

The English quarter of Calcutta seemed deserted that day. Only an old Hindu snake charmer was on the street, with his leopard skin and covered basket. A couple of trained cobras went through a series of wriggling antics, to the shrill piping of a reed flute. In this manner the fakir picked up a few pennies, for seven officers of the English army were at this moment lounging on the piazza of a bungalow. There was no drill for the infantry that day. The parade ground was being used by the Sixth battery of field artillery.

Suddenly the snake charmer gave a cry of startled terror. The Englishmen jumped to their feet. Was something going to happen which would change the monotony of the day? A sight which might inspire any soldier met their gaze. Tearing madly down the street was a gun limber drawn by four snorting horses. The Englishmen craned their necks to see the better. It was not the first time that a gun drill had been interrupted by the running away of some frightened horses.

The old fakir remained rooted to the spot. A warning cry went up from the piazza as the horses drew near. But at the instant the leaders were within a few yards of him a horse and rider dashed up to the runaways. As the Englishmen stood dumbfounded, the rider swung his horse before the frightened animals. With a supreme effort he seized the terror-stricken Indian and wheeled to the right just as the plunging horses passed, and after depositing him by the roadside, he galloped up to the bungalow.

This was the first time they had seen him, Barney Shandon, lieutenant of the Sixth Artillery, late lieutenant of the Campbell Horse. He was about twenty-six years of age, tall, broad-shouldered, and as he strode up the steps of the bungalow he looked a typical officer of the line. His kahki blouse was open, one gauntlet was missing, while his boots were covered with brown dust. He carried neither sabre nor revolver.

"Hot work," he exclaimed, with a strong brogue, throwing himself into a rocking chair.

"That was an absurd thing to do," said Lieutenant Melrose, lighting a cigarette. "I wouldn't risk my life the way you did for all the niggers in the country."

The Irishman said nothing, but assumed a more comfortable position by placing his feet on the piazza railing. He was not the least bit agreeable, and the longer he stayed the more the Englishmen became convinced that he did not belong to their social set. Several half audible comments were made as to what should be done with this seemingly illiterate companion. At last one said: "I say, why don't you say something? Where did you come from, anyhow?"

"From London. I am here as successor of Lieutenant Desmond: he's been transferred to the Bengal Lancers."

MODERN FOOTBALL.How to Play It.From the Chicago Tribune.LESSON III.—THE GUARD.

There are several kinds of guards, among which may be mentioned rear guard, advance guard, nose guard, shin guard, right guard, left guard, elevated railroad guard, guard of honor, body guard, black guard, watch guard, guard mount, and the thing on a carving fork to keep you from cutting yourself.

This article, however, has to do only with the right and left guards in a football eleven. They are supposed to have originated in human beings with intelligence, and on the hoof should not weigh less than 225 net. The guards are put on either side of the centre, and are called guards because they are not.

Guards should be taught to cultivate all the instincts of an automobile, except they must not give the customary warning of impending slaughter. In order to prevent this the cow-catcher or pilot of a guard is made of heavy leather straps and a gum arrangement with a gag on the lower end which is jammed between the guard's teeth when he is not biting his opponent.

Any gent with the instincts of a pile driver and the tender sensibilities of a punching bag should make a good guard. In offense he should be an irresistible force, in defense an immovable body.

Our next article will explain the duties of tackles.

American Monthly Review of Reviews
How Can I Keep Up With the Times?

IT is pretty hard to keep well informed on the political news, the scientific news, the literary news, the educational movements, the great business developments, the hundreds of interesting and valuable articles in the hundreds of excellent magazines. About the only way it can be done by the average busy man and woman is to read a magazine like "The Review of Reviews," and, as it is the only magazine of the sort, it is a good thing to send $2.50 for a year's subscription.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT says:

"I know that through its columns views have been presented to me that I could not otherwise have had access to; because all earnest and thoughtful men, no matter how widely their ideas diverge, are given free utterance in its columns."

EX-PRESIDENT GROVER CLEVELAND says:

"I consider it a very valuable addition to my library."

U-PI-DEE.
A new Co-ed has alighted in town,
U-pi-dee, U-pi-da!
In an up-to-datest tailor-made gown, U-pi-de-i-da!
The boys are wild, and prex is, too,
You never saw such a hulia-ba-loo.
CHORUS. — U-pi-dee-i-dee-i-da! etc.

Her voice is clear as a soaring lark's,
And her wit is like those trolley-car sparks!
When 'cross a muddy street she flits,
The boys all have conniption fits!

The turn of her head turns all ours, too,
There's always a strife to sit in her pew;
'Tis enough to make a parson drunk,
To hear her sing old co-ca-che-lunk!

The above, and three other NEW verses to U-PI-DEE, and NEW WORDS, catchy, up-to-date, to many others of the popular OLD FAMILIAR TUNES; besides OLD FAVORITES; and also many NEW SONGS.
