A PRESIDENT'S TRIBUTE

Ex-President Cleveland on Morton

As mentioned in the alumni notes, a statue to Hon. J. Sterling Morton was recently unveiled in Nebraska City, Neb. The most eloquent tribute to the memory of Mr. Morton was that paid by Ex-President Cleveland, in whose cabinet Mr. Morton served.

Mr. Cleveland said in part:

I have not come to the surviving family of J. Sterling Morton and to those who were his intimate friends and neighbors for the purpose of bringing from afar superfluous recital of his virtues and mental endowments. You who, within the sacred precincts of his home knew of the warmth of his love, you who daily found cheer and delight in the sunlight of his steady constant friendship, and you, his immediate fellow-citizens, who have been stirred to admiration and attachment to his unselfish and effective labor in behalf of those with whom his lot was cast, need no words of mine to arouse in your minds the sentiments which befit this commemorative occasion. Even though all were silent, the beautiful monument here erected would itself eloquently signify the love and friendship and admiration which are today revived by the recollection of an affectionate, dutiful and useful life.

But I am not here without a mission. I would fain interpret this monument's message to me, as it recalls my close companionship and co-operation in the discharge of the highest public duty, with the man we honor. I am here to give evidence concerning the things he revealed to me in the light of that companionship and co-operation. This is but to testify to his lofty civic righteousness, his simple and sure standards of public morality, his stern insistence on official honesty, his sturdy adherence to opinions deliberately and conscientiously adopted, his generous concession to others of every result of their efforts, and his passionate desire to serve the best interest of his fellow countrymen.

I am not required, for the sake of exaggerated tribute, to insist that in the mere possession of these virtues our friend was distinguished above all others. But it must be said that he stood out from amidst a vast congregation of others who believed and knew the right, because in defence of the right, as he believed and knew it, he was willing to fight and suffer not only in a small arena of private and social existence, but in the fiercer, deadlier amphitheatre of public life. He believed that the same care and good faith exacted by a trust undertaken by an individual were due to the people from those who assumed official responsibilities and he believed that waste in public expenditure was sin. These beliefs were not, in his mind, mere comfortable sentiments, mildly stimulating to self-righteousness, but were active incentives to battle. The noxious atmosphere of governmental extravagance could not blind his eyes, nor could the ridicule of those who had learned to scoff at official economy, or the threats of those who perfidiously contrive to appropriate public funds, to private gain, drive him to compromise with wrong. Bold and defiant in the midst of it all he took brave counsel of conscience.

As did the dauntless Father of the Reformation who cried out to his tormentors: "I cannot and will not retract anything; for to act against conscience is unsafe and unholy."

Thus it was that our friend's fine moral perception and his love of rectitude shed a bright and unwavering light on the path of official obligation, and thus did his clear discouragement of duty lend impressions to his efforts toward the highest usefulness in public office. It was, however, his keen intelligence and his worldly wisdom that taught him that an effective equipment for the best public service needed a large admixture of sterner stuff; and there was never a servant of the people who, in their cause, met misrepresentation and unjust accusation with more fortitude or saw the submergence of friendly relations with more resignation, or dealt harder blows to dishonesty and wrong whether lurking with friends or foes.

Christian Association

SUNDAY VESPERS: Mr. Adams of the State Street M. E. Church will speak on "The Challenge of the Cross."

There will be no Association meeting Tuesday because of election.

..Levi Parsons, '08, has been sent as a delegate to the "Student Volunteer" convention held at Auburn, Nov. 3-5.

Vesper Service

At Sunday's Vesper Service Rev. John Calvin Knox of Luzerne gave the address, the subject of which was "What Christ Has Done." Mr. Knox spoke of the two pictures of Israel given by the prophet Israel, the fallen Israel and Israel redeemed and as a text took the twenty-second verse of Isaiah 44, "I have blotted out as a thick cloud thy transgressions, and, as a thick cloud thy sins; return unto me; for I have redeemed thee."

Mr. Knox said in part: "The purpose of God's love is to redeem men from their own passions and to make them free to walk in the world choosing for themselves. We have all done wrong and many times do and the law which we break is the schoolmaster bringing us to Christ. A man by law may be imprisoned to be kept from drink but when he is out his thirst is the same. Jesus has given his blood to redeem us. The moment we believe the moment we surrender our will to his, the transaction is complete. We are like streams of water to be turned from our beds to some good use. Many strive by their own power to be good but they cannot.

"It is the purpose of God, not to save us in Heaven, but to save us from ourselves here on earth. We must choose the good things here. God wishes men to be so free as to walk uprightly, and Christ comes to make our lives strong, healthful and useful."

Y. M. C. A. in Other Colleges

Mr. William S. Pettit, Williams College, 1905, has returned to his Alma Mater this year as the general secretary of the college Association, under appointment by the Alumni Committee. The Association Bible study work has been thoroughly reorganized by the introduction of the group system. Already the enrollment includes a majority of the students registered.

Wesleyan's Appreciation.

After the Wesleyan game the men of the team were put up over Sunday at the various houses. Their appreciation is expressed in a letter from Manager Atwater to Manager Vedder, a part of which is quoted below. As expressed there, the feeling between the two institutions is most cordial and it is our earnest hope that it may continue so, now that annual contests are again to be held. The part referred to follows:

"I want to thank you for the pleasant time you gave us while we were at Union and I wish you would express my official appreciation to all those who helped give our team the good time. We think we know how to entertain here at Wesleyan but I am sure we have all learned much of the art from our visit with you; we are looking forward to a time when we can practice what we have learned at Union by entertaining some Union men.

With best wishes for the rest of your season, I am

Cordially yours,

(Signed) C. W. Atwater.

"Hurry Up" Yost

Fielding H. ("Hurry Up") Yost, has recently published a book, "Football for Player and Spectator." The book is all that can be desired from an artistic standpoint, in binding and contents. Its cuts and diagrams show elaborately the common plays of football, dealing with the game from the spectator's as well as the player's standpoint. It gains in value because of its authorship, for Mr. Yost is regarded as the greatest coach of the West and by some, of the whole country. Because of his tactics he has been nicknamed, "Hurry Up." He devotes a chapter to "Hurry Ups," some of which follow:

Hurry up.

Hurry up and be the first man to line up.

Hurry all the time; football is not a slow or lazy man's game.

Hurry up; football is a game of hurry, hurry, hurry.

Hurry up if you are behind in any play. Then is the time you need most to hurry.

Hurry up and get into play. Football is played by 11 men. Spectators are not wanted on the field; their place is in the grand stand.

Hurry up and be the first man down the field on a punt or kick off.

Hurry up and help your own runner with the ball; never let him go it alone.

Hurry up and follow the ball. No one can play the game unless he is with the ball all the time.

Hurry up and fall on every fumble; either by your own side or an opponent. This is very important.

Hurry up and block your man hard when you should block.

Hurry up when given the ball for a gain. You must hurry or the opponents will be all over you in an instant.

Hurry up and learn the signals. You cannot play a fast game unless you know them instantly.

Hurry up and learn to control your temper. If you cannot do this you had better quit the game.

Hurry up when you are about to be tackled. Put on "more go." Don't slow up, for this is the time of all others when you need all your speed.

Hurry up and get versatile. Do not be a machine player in your individual position.

Hurry up and score in the first few minutes of the game, before your opponents realize what is going on.

Hurry up and play football. Do not slug, for slugging prevents any man from playing the team-play that he should. You will be kept busy performing your part in the game.

Hurry up even if you are tired; do not slow down. If you cannot stand the pace get yourself in better condition. Football is a strenuous game.

Law School Notes

No lectures at the "Law" during the Halloween Carnival.

The Senior and Junior Classes have held their annual election of officers; the class presidents are; Senior Herbert D. Harmon, Brockport; Junior, J. F. Wellington, Troy.

We regret to announce that on account of poor health, Judge Albert C. Tennant will be unable to resume his work at the school this year. Arrangements have been made for his part of the curriculum by having Frank B. Gilbert, author of Gilbert on Domestic Relations, and several other legal works, take up Real Property, with the Seniors. The Trustees are to congratulate on having secured a man, so well known in the profession, as an author and scholar of high standing. An excellent course in this very important branch of the law is assured. George Lawyer, a member of the firm of Buchanan, Lawyer and Whalen and an alumnus of the school has taken the work with the Juniors on Contracts. Judge Tennant's syllabus is used as a basis for his lectures, Mr. Lawyer is proving a thorough and popular instructor.

The year promises to be one of the best in the history of the school. The addition of Frank White, the well known writer and authority on Corporation Law, as a lecturer, on that subject, and the probability that Dean Fiero will give the entire course of lectures on Evidence, gives the school the assurance of a course of instruction that would be hard to improve.

Tennis

The unfinished tennis matches in the fall tournament resulted as follows: Colburn beat Rowe, Schaupp defaulted to Meeker, Bayless defaulted to La Crosse; Colburn beat Snow, King beat Meeker, Vincent beat La Crosse; Fuller beat Colburn and Vincent beat King. Fuller and Vincent will meet in the finals.

The doubles have also been drawn and it is hoped that these may be played off in a somewhat shorter time than the singles.

The drawings of the first round follow: Dwight and Hoffman vs. Miller and Merrill; Fuller and Yates vs. Colburn and Brooks; Vincent and Brown vs. McCormick and Snow; Curtis and Potter vs. Cabot and King.

College Meeting

President Chapman opened the meeting. Capt. Dann spoke on football praising the squad's work and dwelling especially on the Hamilton game.

Reed announced the regular rehearsals of Glee and Instrumental Clubs. Capt. Dann spoke on paying up dues for the skating-rink, which is now being rapidly prepared for flooding, and urged all to pay immediately.

Miller announced the opening of registration of candidates for Assistant Manager of Concordiensis. He also announced the renewal of the Shakespeare Club.

The meeting was adjourned till Nov. 6th.

College Pharmacy Notes

School opened again Wednesday, with a full attendance, notwithstanding the fact that for two days and nights ghosts and all sorts of unearthly visitants have frequented our streets. Some of the fellows, judging from appearances, would be helped by being locked for a few hours in the arms of slumber.

College exercises will again be suspended Monday and Tuesday, in order that the students may vote at home.

Although the score was large, we have no right to feel discouraged over the result of last Saturday's game. We even did better than we had a right to expect. We scored, a feat which Columbia was unable to accomplish. And that score came as a result not of any fluke, but of as brilliant and straight football as our team has shown this fall. To hammer through a team averaging twenty pounds more to the man than ours and to throw them back steadily for nearly fifty yards for a touchdown, showed well the quality of our team.

Most encouraging of all was the fact that the team didn't give up. Even when Wesleyan's terrible weight force was telling the most the men played like very demons. Time after time the seemingly irresistible charge was broken up and smothered by our light line. In the last few minutes of play, Wesleyan was held for downs with less than ten yards to go for another touchdown. It is this never-say-die spirit, shown best in this game, that holds most of promise for a successful conclusion of the season. The team deserved great credit for its plucky up-hill fight against overpowering odds.

"Around the World in Ninety Days"

Frederick Chamberlin, the well known lawyer and author of Boston, has written a light racy book of a trip around the world in three months, which he recently took, at an hours notice, while engaged in a secret mission to the Philippines. The work will be called "Around the World in Ninety Days," and the C. M. Clark Publishing Company of Boston, announce it's publication date as some time in November. The work will have more than three hundred half-tone plates. Substantially all of these views are reproductions of snap-shots taken by Mr. Chamberlin, of native life in Hawaii, the Philippines, China, the Midway Islands, Guam, Ceylon, Africa, Arabia and Italy. They are such views as can only be made once, and no other book of travel that has been issued since Mr. Stanley's African books, is so rich as this new work, in valuable and unique pictures.

It is further to be noted that there is a historical value to some of Mr. Chamberlin's material; for example, he is the first to publish a complete account of the Midway Islands, the strangest land belonging to our country, and he is the first American author to print a true account of Liliu-okalani. As one of her counsel for years, the writer has gained a knowledge of her that in the nature of things can be shared by but few, and probably by no other white man. This chapter is profusely illustrated with many different pictures of Her Majesty and of her estates.

A chapter containing a long interview with Aguinaldo, is of much interest to any who desire a true picture of that celebrated man. This chapter is accompanied by a picture of the Filipino leader given by him to the author. Stories of exciting days in Canton among 3,000,000 hostile Chinamen, and other days scarcely less stirring in Singapore, Ceylon, Arabia and Egypt, follow one another rapidly. The crowning event of all is the account of Vesuvius while in eruption, and a number of pictures taken in the midst of flying lava.

The book promises to be very handsome. If one desires to read or present to another at Christmas, a book of travel, the publishers assert that "Around the World in Ninety Days" is far more attractive, instructive and interesting to the average reader than any other in the market.

Certainly that a man could see so much in a mere summer-time is most remarkable.

Wesleyan 26, Union 5

The game last Saturday against Wesleyan was undoubtedly the most clever exhibition of good football that has been the good fortune for Union students to witness this season and although ending in a victory for the visitors, it has proved that the Union men are still in the game and that no superiority of weight tends to discourage them.

Throughout the entire game play after play was made which fairly made the spectators rise from their seats, so sensational was its appearance. Again and again did Moore get around his end for long runs and in turn the Wesleyan men retaliated with equally good playing. The entire team played together and too much credit cannot be given to Union's good work.

Handicapped as we were in facing a team much heavier than ours, Moore who, with Davis played brilliantly, started the playing with a 5 yard run and in less than 5 minutes the ball was pushed over Wesleyan's line for a touchdown. So is there little wonder that Union's rooters gave vent to their joy in a manner, only appreciable to those who were there. That squad of big Wesleyan men, appeared dumfounded and were completely taken off their feet. However here Wesleyan displayed great power and only went into the next play with a still firmer determination to accomplish greater wonders.

Much can be said in favor of both teams for the clean playing and when Wesleyan made her sensational plays the Union boys stood up and applauded with a will. This little touch of courtesy created a general good feeling and is something that should never be forgotten especially on our own campus.

The outburst of enthusiasm and good will which prevailed between the halves gave to us an example which we would do well to emulate in the future.

The game was called at 2:30. Union won the toss and chose to defend the north goal. Here Wesleyan made a good kick-off, scoring for them two points. The ball was kicked over the goal line and downed for a safety. Moore then punted off from the 25 yard line and soon obtained the ball on a fumble. Union was then given a chance with the ball and improved the opportunity as was seen when Moore went around his end for a sensational 55 yard run. This carried the ball close to the goal line and a few line plunges rushed it over for a touchdown. The goal was missed and score was 5-2.

At the next kick-off, Wesleyan proved herself worthy of her reputation and with the aid of Van Surdan's 45 yard run, they succeeded in making a touchdown. They missed the goal and the score was 7-5. With the exception of one more touchdown made by Wesleyan during the first part of the half, the game was evenly played and good⁴ consistant work was done by both teams, Union held for downs several times. The end of the first half resulted in a score of Wesleyan 12, Union 5.

SECOND HALF.

Union kicked off to Wesleyan's 10 yard line and through a fumble obtained possession of the ball. Union, however, lost it on downs and again Wesleyan tried for her yards. She did not gain the required distance so the ball again went to Union.

Here Moore punted to Wesleyan's 40 yard line and Van Surdan advanced it 20 yards. Steady gains were then made by Wesleyan and she soon had the ball over our line for another touchdown. This time Wesleyan kicked the goal. Score 18-5.

Wesleyan again kicked off to Union and the ball was advanced to the 40 yard mark and there lost on downs. Van Surdan again proved himself equal to the occasion and by clean maneuvering rushed the ball down the field, and was downed on our 6 yard line. In two more rushes the ball was over. Score 24-5.

At the next kick-off Wesleyan obtained the ball through a fumble on our 5 yard line. But one more rush was needed to send the ball over when it was fumbled and the Union man was forced over the line for the second safety of the game. Moore again punted out and the rest of the half was fiercely contested. The game ended with the ball in Wesleyan's possession on our 20 yard line. Final score, Wesleyan 26, Union 5.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

1909, 11-S. H. S. 6

Last Friday afternoon the Freshmen played a hard game with the Schenectady High School team, winning by the score of 11 to 6. The game was marred by frequent disputes.

tributed much towards the Freshman victory. Porter, at quarter, showed up well and Walton made several good runs on tackle formations. At the end of the game, High School was using end runs with great effectiveness and rapidly nearing the goal.

1909, O.-A. H. S. 2

Monday afternoon the Freshman team played Albany High School at Ridgefield Park, Albany. The game was viewed by a large crowd of spectators who were in attendance on the Hallow E'en Carnival. The contest was evenly played and would have resulted in no score but for an unfortunate mistake. One of the Freshmen, who was still stunned from the effects of a hard tackle, obtaining the ball on Albany's fumble, ran behind his own goal and was tackled there, the play resulting in a safety.

Hamilton vs. Union

The crucial test of the team's ability comes today in the game with Hamilton. For the past three years Hamilton has defeated us by decreasing scores, last year the game proving a battle royal, being lost by a score of 5 to 0. Now, however, there is a settled feeling of confidence among the fellows as to the outcome of the contest. At any rate the game will be close and hard fought.

The line-up will be about the same as before. The quarter back position has been harder fought than ever this past week with Shutler and Potter added to the squad. In practice Capt. Dann received a bad cut over the eye which may keep him out of the game, in which event Nutt will take his place. The rest of the men are in good shape.

Hamilton's men have been saving themselves for this game and they are particularly anxious to win. They will be represented by a good crowd of rooters, whose ability we know from experience. At Syracuse, though far outnumbered, their rooting was much superior to that of the home team. We must win this afternoon and one of the surest aids will be good cheering. Everybody out!

Style is King in Shoedom these days, and that is no merry jest either. The careful dresser considers well the looks of his shoes—the shape, finish, all the little points, from heel to toe, which taken all together means “smartness.”

These details are added to the very best in quality of leather and workmanship to make our $3.50 Nabob Shoes.

NOTES

Get out and yell. It will help the team win. Now is the chance to break our losing streak to Hamilton.

Hamilton was beaten at Syracuse, but outclassed her victors in rooting, on a strange field at that. Will that happen here today? Its up to the fellows.

On account of the faculty rule regarding the stopping of games at sundown, the game today will be started 2:20, to allow full time.

The west bleachers will be occupied by the large Hamilton contingent which is expected.

Get out! Yell! Sing! Show your spirit! We must win today!

One week from today the team plays Union at Schenectady. A goodly corps of rooters ought to accompany the team, for the game will be a hard one and the players will need what little inspiration yelling and singing can give.—Hamilton Life.

The Freshmen at Yale are more than usually vigorous this year. On October 8th members of that class residing in and near Pierson Hall carried their wild pranks to the limit. For nearly two hours they blocked the street and allowed nothing but trolley cars to go through and these on an irregular schedule. A squad of policemen raided the vicinity but failed to lay hands on a single Freshman.

THE course covering four years begins during the first week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage. All the classes are divided in small sections for recitation, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advance standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the State of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.
