Union University.

ANDREW V. V. RAYMOND, D. D., LL. D., President.

UNION COLLEGE,
SCHENECTADY, N. Y.

1. Course Leading to the Degree of A. B.—The usual Classical Course, including French and German. After Sophomore year the work is largely elective.

2. Course Leading to the Degree of B. S.—The modern languages are substituted for the ancient, and the amount of Mathematics and English studies is increased. After the Sophomore year a large list of electives is offered.

3. Course Leading to the Degree of Ph. B.—This differs from the A. B. course chiefly in the omission of Greek and the substitution therefor of additional work in modern languages and science.

4. General Course Leading to the Degree of B. E.—This course is intended to give the basis of an engineering education, including the fundamental principles of all special branches of the profession, a knowledge of both French and German, and a full course in English.

5. Sanitary Course Leading to the Degree of B. E.—This differs from course 4 in substituting special work in Sanitary Engineering for some of the General Engineering studies.

6. Electrical Course Leading to the Degree of B. E.—This differs from course 4 in substituting special work in Electricity and its applications, in place of some of the General Engineering studies. This course is offered in co-operation with the Edison General Electric Company.

7. Graduate Course in Engineering Leading to the Degree of C. E.—A course of one year offered to graduates of courses 4, 5 or 6.

There are also special courses in Analytical Chemistry, Metallurgy and Natural History. For catalogues or for special information, address

BENJAMIN H. RIPTON, Dean of the College,

THE TRIP TO PROVIDENCE.

The Garnet Met Its Second Defeat of the Season at the Hands of Brown.

Union was defeated by the Brown eleven last Saturday at Providence, R. I., by the score of 24 to 5. Brown played a steadier and more consistent game than Union except in the first part of the second half when Union by fencing in her ends, and also in sending some well-directed formations against the weakest spots in Brown's line sent the backs and ends down the field for eight and ten yards gains, until Captain Mallery went over the line for a touchdown. The Union team was considerably weakened by the absence from the game of Paige at full-back, and also by the absence of Bryan in the first half and Collier in the second half. Union had considerable difficulty in her punting as the absence of Paige necessitated Raymond's punting. Brown outweighed Union slightly. Union by far excelled Brown in team work, playing a strong game from start to finish, and "it was only by line drives of the fiercest kind and end runs of a telling nature" that Brown made her touchdowns. Brown men showed much better form than they did early in the season, and there were several exhibitions of good individual playing.

Brown obtained the ball on Union's forty-five-yard line on a punt and by end plays and line bucks Brown brought the ball within a few yards of Union's goal line when Greene was sent over for a touchdown after nine minutes of play. After obtaining the ball on her fifty-yard line Brown advanced the ball twenty-eight yards and then Greene made a run of thirty-two yards for her second touchdown. Brown obtained the ball on Union's forty-yard line on a punt and by end plays and line bucks brought the ball over for a touchdown in the first part of the second half. After a run of twenty-three yards Webb made Brown's last touchdown toward the latter part of the second half. Union made her touchdown after six minutes of play in the second half. The Garnet obtained the ball on the middle line on a fumble and by line bucks and runs around the ends brought the ball to Brown's five-yard line when Mallery went through left tackle for a touchdown.

Thebo made good gains and played a good game throughout, and Olmsted a strong game at right end. Mallery and Collier also played a strong game. Finegan played against the strongest man in Brown's line and succeeded in keeping Savage in his place. Greene was the best ground gainer for Brown and made several brilliant tackles. Denico played a strong game and kicked the four goals in the absence of Captain Bates, who did not play owing to injuries received the week before.

Union won the toss-up and chose to defend the west goal. Brown kicked off to Union's thirty-yard line and Mallery was tackled immediately. Raymond punted to the middle of the gridiron. Greene made seven yards through left tackle. Brown lost the ball and Union tried the left end for no gain. Mallery went through right guard for five yards and Finegan circled right end for six yards more, bringing the ball to the centre line. Gulnac went through left guard for fourteen yards, and King made a few yards through centre. Raymond was forced to punt and booted the ball to Brown's forty-yard line. Denico brought the ball back seven yards. Cann went through the line for five yards and after another unsuccessful attempt, Denico punted thirty yards. Raymond returned the punt eighteen yards. Denico ran the ball back twelve yards. By short gains the ball was brought to Union's three-yard line when Greene was sent over for the first touchdown. Denico kicked goal.

Union kicked off to Greene, who brought the ball back sixteen yards. Brown brought the ball up to her four-yard line where she was forced to punt and Denico punted twenty yards. After two downs, Raymond punted and Denico brought the ball back eighteen yards.

Union obtained the ball on a fumble and Raymond punted over the goal line. Denico punted out from Brown's twenty-five-yard line to the middle line. After a few small gains Union lost the ball on downs. Then Brown made several end runs and Greene made a touchdown by an end run of thirty-two yards. Denico kicked goal.

Raymond kicked off and Scudder returned to the thirty-yard line. After a few small gains Denico punted to Union's forty-yard line. Mallery made a short gain around left end and Collier ran around right end for thirty-five yards. Raymond then punted when time was called.

In the second half Union kicked off to Scudder. Brown advanced the ball to the middle line where Union obtained the ball on a fumble. Thebo and Bryan clipped the ends for six yards each. Mallery made an end run of twelve yards and Finegan bucked the line for a couple of goal gains. Bryan and Thebo again circled the ends for small gains. Finegan made three yards around left end bringing the ball to the five-yard line. Mallery went through left tackle for a touchdown. He missed at a try for goal.

Brown kicked off to Union's ten-yard line and Thebo ran the ball back six yards. Gulnac and King circled left end for short gains and Raymond punted twenty yards. Denico made five yards and Farbell twelve yards. Webb and Savage each made short gains. Brown received ten yards for off-side. After a few small gains Farbell went over for the third touchdown and Denico kicked goal.

Raymond kicked off to Brown's twenty-yard line and Scudder brought the ball back fifteen yards. After a few short gains Union was penalized 10 yards for off-side. The ball was brought to the twenty-three yard line and Webb went through the line for a touchdown. Denico kicked goal.

Union kicked off and Crowell brought the ball back twenty yards. Shortly after time was called.

SENIORS, 2 ; JUNIORS, 0.

In an interesting game on the campus Wednesday, November 13, the seniors defeated the juniors by a score of 2 to 0. The inclemency of the weather hindered a fast and snappy game. There was a very strong wind blowing throughout the entire game, as a result fumbling was frequent, especially on the part of the juniors. The juniors made most of their gains through the line, but when they had the ball on their opponent's five-yard line, the senior line stood firm and the juniors lost the ball on downs. The seniors made most of their gains around the ends. At the end of the first half the score stood 0 to 0. In the latter part of the second half the juniors had the ball on their fifteen-yard line and being unable to gain the five yards in two downs, Pritchard punted. The ball went straight up in the air and the strong wind blowing at that time sent the ball to the north behind the juniors' goal line. Pritchard fell on the ball and was immediately tackled by Hawkes, thus making it a safety for the seniors.

The seniors won the toss-up and chose to defend the north goal. The juniors kicked off to the seniors' fifteen-yard line and Anderson brought the ball back fifteen yards before downed. On the line-up 1902 fumbled and lost the ball. The juniors advanced the ball to the seniors' fifteen-yard line where they lost the ball on a fumble. Carver punted fifteen yards and Staeber carried the ball back to the seniors' five-yard line. The seniors line held firm and the juniors lost the ball on downs. Carver punted to the centre of the field. The juniors advanced the ball five yards and then lost it on a fumble. Griffith made a gain of twenty yards around the left end but the ball was brought back ten yards the seniors having been off-sided. Time was called.

The seniors kicked off to the juniors' fifteen-yard line and after a gain of ten yards Pritchard punted to the centre of the field. The seniors fumbled the ball and lost it, but immediately regained the ball on downs. After two downs and no gains Carver punted to the juniors' three-yard line. The juniors advanced the ball to their twelve-yard line and were forced to punt. Pritchard punted the ball behind the junior goal line and fell on the ball, making a safety for the seniors. The juniors kicked out from their twenty-five-yard line and soon after time was called with the ball in the juniors' possession on the seniors' forty-yard line.

HUDSON RIVER SCHOOLMASTERS' CLUB.

The eleventh meeting of the Hudson River Schoolmasters' Club was held in Albany on Saturday, November 16, in the Albany Academy chapel. Among Union alumni present were Superintendent S. B. Howe, '62, Principal W. F. H. Breeze, '99, Principal A. E. Barnes, '95, Professor James L. Bothwell, '62, and A. C. Fenton, '00. In the appointment of committees Dr. H. L. Towne was put on the health of students, or athletic committee.

HON. GEORGE FREDERICK SEWARD TO LECTURE.

The first of the series of lectures for the college year will be delivered in the college chapel on Friday afternoon, November 22. The lecturer will be the Hon. George Frederick Seward, of the class of '60, former United States Minister to China. The subject will be "Public Service as a Career."

ALBANY LAW SCHOOL.

John L. Cummings, of Middletown, N. Y., has entered the junior class.

Morris H. Shedd, of Lowell, N. Y., a former member of the class of 1902, has re-entered the School.

Tibbitts Walker, ex-1901, of Albany, and Robert M. Eames, Union A. B. '99, LL. B. of Albany, were admitted to practice at the November term of the Appellate Division, Third Department.

Mr. B. Learned Hand, the latest addition to the faculty, is a rising young attorney and well known as a deep thinker and a brilliant student. His lectures on "Quasi-Contracts" will add greatly to the curriculum.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees Lewis E. Carr, Esq., '64, was elected a trustee to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late James W. Eaton. At the same meeting Dean Fiero was chosen treasurer of the Board, that place having been formerly held by Mr. Eaton.

The following are the juniors who have joined the legal fraternities: Phi Delta Phi—Hugh H. Leland, Ottawa, Ill.; Edward M. Fuller, Chicago, Ill.; Dwight W. Marvin, Troy; Porter L. Merriman, college '01, Albany.

Delta Chi—General W. Sayles, Rome, N. Y.; Charles A. Dunn, Whitesboro; Lincoln W. Morrison, Thompsonville, Conn., William Rooney, Ballston Spa; William B. F. Rogers, Kingston.

At a meeting of the juniors interested in the formation of a legal debating organization, held on Friday evening the 15th inst., on adjournment from the previous Friday evening, it was resolved to make a practical test of the scheme, and Friday next was set as the time when a regular discussion of some legal topic will be had.

Mr. Taylor, the chairman of the meeting, was instructed to make all the necessary arrangements. There is much need for the organization of a society of this character, and it seems to be left to 1903 to take the first step.

THE MEDICAL.

The attendance at this year's session of the Albany Medical College is very gratifying to the dean, Dr. Albert Vander Veer the registrar, Dr. Willis G. Tucker, and the other members of the faculty. The extension by law of the course from three to four years and the increase in the mental requirements for admission have very naturally contributed to the reduction of the very large classes that were formerly graduated from this institution. One notable result of these bars about the profession, is that the students as a class are better equipped for the study of medicine and are capable of greater endeavor and higher accomplishments. The course has been improved and the students during their last year at college have more practical work and when graduated are better prepared to begin their careers as practicing physicians and surgeons.

The seniors are preparing for what promises to be the most interesting upper class election of recent years. The most sought for offices of president, valedictorian and alternate valedictorian will furnish the chief sources of battle. The eligible list compiled by the faculty was made known Friday. From this list, which will not be made public, the chief officers will be selected. No names are spoken of for office, but the beginning of the week will show the little groups "getting their heads together" in the corridors and elsewhere, to select their choice.

The "sophs" are patiently awaiting the upper-class elections, theirs being next in order.

Freshmen so thickly populate the city that the sophomores are at their wits' end to know how to arrange for a class spread undetected. Where freshmen go is dangerous for sophomores, and freshmen are so plentiful, they are seen in all parts. Freshmen, especially, are longing for November 27, when their first vacation will begin. Lectures will be resumed December 2, and continue until December 23, when mid-winter vacation will begin.

CAMPUS NOTES.

Clark, ex-1903, umpired the Senior-Junior football game last Wednesday.

Professor Ashmore attended the Episcopal convention in Albany last week.

Ostrander, '02, Gillespie, '02, Hoxie, '03, and Drees, '04, visited friends at Williams College last week.

President Raymond delivered an address before the Y. M. C. A. of Johnstown last Sunday afternoon.

The date for the next Junior Hop has been fixed for December 6. The hop will be given as usual in Nott Memorial Hall. The committee intends to give the best dance possible.

The college quartet has been selected and is composed of E. T. Grout, '02, leader, first tenor; W. G. Craig, '04, second tenor; S. D. Palmer, '04, first bass, and A. H. Hinman, '02, second bass.

The following young alumni have been on the hill during the past week: W. H. Swann, '98, S. G. H. Turner, '98, A. O. Casey, '99, W. F. H. Breeze, '99, M. M. Price, '99, C. J. Potter, '00, and E. W. Sylvester, '99.

Pearse, '03, has organized the class for studying the "Acts and Epistles." The class has no stated leader and is not in the form of a lecture. The members of the class meet once a week and discuss the points they have derived from a week's study of the lesson.

Through the efforts of some of the ladies of the faculty and the city and the Woman's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. under the leadership of the president, Mrs. William Wells, a fine upright piano has been placed in Silliman Hall for the benefit of the College Y. M. C. A.

A committee consisting of Hawkes, '02, and G. Donnan, '03, from the Adelpic Society, and Adams, '02, and Gillespie, '02, of the Philomathean has been appointed to arrange a debate with Rutgers College to be held sometime during the winter term, at New Brunswick, N. J.

Saturday, November 23, New York University vs. Union, at New York.

IN accordance with the usual custom during vacation week there will be no paper issued next week on account of the Thanksgiving recess,

IN the game at Providence on Saturday it is the consensus of opinion that Union played poorer football than she has done this season. With Paige out of the game entirely and Bryan being able to play only one-half the game, and Collier, Cronkhite and Finegan being unwell, it is not surprising that the team did not show up to its best advantage. A Providence paper says: "Union played a strong game from start to finish and it was only by line drives of the finest kind and end-runs of a telling nature that her men were downed to the tune of 24 to 5." It says of individual players: "Thebo, the light-haired left end on the Union team, was a tower of strength. He played as good an all around game as anyone on the field. Captain Mallery and Finegan also kept their ends of the fray red hot." The Boston Globe in an account of the game says: "Olmsted of Union was one of the best ends seen on the Brown gridiron this year. Mallery and Collier also played a strong game for Union."

THE Concordiensis is in receipt of a charming volume of verses entitled "In College Days. Recent Varsity Verse" from the publishers, Knight and Millett, of Boston. The selections are chosen by James LeRoy Harrison, editor of Cap and Gown, With Pipe and Book, etc. The book contains 273 poems, specimens of recent college verse collected from magazines of colleges from all over the United States. The collection, as a whole, is very good and contains charming bits of verse. It is with much regret that it is seen that the name of Union does not appear on its pages, while colleges comparatively insignificant have their representatives. The interest in writing and in literary production, among the undergraduates, it must be confessed, is dying out at Union. With more truth it might be said that it is dead and has been for some years, in fact it may be said to have departed with the class of '99. A very occasional bit of verse in the Concordiensis and a few poems in the Garnet represent all that the undergraduates produce in this line. In the volume of the Garnet gotten out by the present senior class there were a batch of poems and a half-dozen prose articles and even these were contributed, for the most part, by men who were taking the engineering course. The decline of the literary spirit may have been caused by the discontinuance of the literary monthly, The Parthenon, in 1899. It was the aim of the editors at that time to make the Concordiensis a combination of the weekly and monthly papers. With what success their efforts were crowned may be judged from the present state of affairs, with the Concordiensis entirely a newspaper and Union represented by no literary magazine whatever.

THERE exists in a great number of American colleges what are known as Sectional Clubs. To explain, all men in college from a certain State or city, or section, get together and organize a club. The purpose of these organizations is twofold, first, in getting men in a college from the same neighborhood to know one another better and secondly, in getting students for the college by working mainly among their preparatory schools. Such clubs cannot but be good for a college and there is no reason why there should not be several such clubs at Union. Although here the large majority of the students are from New York state, yet a good many come from certain sections, from certain cities and certain preparatory schools. There are at present twenty-one men at Union from Albany alone and at least twelve from Troy, and there are seventeen from Schenectady, doubtless a large number being U. C. I. men. Then there are seven men from South Carolina alone, and ten in all from the South. There is no reason, to repeat, why the organization of such clubs should not be effected at once and work be begun in earnest for the college.

A COLLEGE MAN'S BOOK.

It is strange that with the thousands of men who are being graduated each year from our colleges and with the large number of prominent literary men who have been college graduates, there is no description or story of college life that belongs to the realm of true literature. If, as we have so often heard, the four years spent at college be the crucial period of life, the time when character begins to take on its final aspect, when the tastes, inclinations, and friendships of a life time are being formed, it must be one of the most interesting periods of life to study and one about which a master might write one of the world's great books.

Of course, we have Harvard, Yale, Bryn Mawr and any number of other "stories" which are interesting in their way, but which no one would think of as great. Then there is "Tom Brown at Oxford," but that is too little read, especially by college men, to deserve serious consideration. Yet there is a book whose greatness no one questions and which, though not dealing to any considerable extent with college affairs, yet because of its spirit and general character may truly be called a college man's book. I refer to Thackeray's "Pendennis." It is true that "Pendennis" appeals to many persons who have never been in a college class just as the "Complete Angler" appeals to many persons who never fish. Universality is a requisite of all true literature, yet as the "Complete Angler" does not appeal to a person who has no sympathy with out-door life, so "Pendennis" never appeals to one who does not sympathize with college life; who has not some of the college man's spirit in his or her breast. This statement is borne out by the fact that so few young ladies are able to appreciate the character of "Pendennis," while there are few college men, so far as I know, who have read the book and do not like it.

"Pendennis is a conceited fool, and none too good either," some one may say. Well, he is conceited, he does not exhibit any unusual brilliancy and he certainly isn't an angel, but he is, nevertheless, as humble, as wise and as good as is the average young man. It is because he is a typical college man that the book is so attractive. There is nothing unusual in his life. He has his boy's love for a girl far beneath him, for whom he is willing to die, but he gets over his passion, as we all do, and goes to college. There he spends too much money, is a trifle wild, neglects his work, and is finally "plucked." Then he goes to London to read law, falls in with Warrington, another college man of the rare type that is in one's good fortune to meet occasionally, and we have delightful description of their Bohemian life which, so far as I know, is the best thing of its kind written. What an ideal life they lead, not a strenuous nor a wicked one, but a charming, easy-going style of living, savoring of beer and tobacco as well as of true manhood and friendship. They have no particular responsibilities nor restrictions except self-imposed ones. They stay out all night if they please; there's nothing particular to do in the morning, wandering around the city, watching the people, singing in the "Black Kitchen," and talking about everything conceivable. Pendennis is sorely tempted and does not come out with any great glory; at one time he becomes worldly wise and rather blasé, as we all do some time or other, and almost marries for her money a shallow society girl. Yet through his weakness we see his real manliness; if he is vain and foolish he is also kind and noble and whatever he does you feel that his heart is right.

There is, as has been said, a spirit in the book, an understanding of the life of a young man with its hopes and aspirations, its temptations and weaknesses which make the book peculiarly attractive to college men. It is the life of a young man much like the rest of us having similar tastes and experiences, and if we are inclined to be too hard on Pendennis or our college mates whom he represents, let us remember the words with which Thackeray closes the book: "We perceive in every man's life the maimed happiness, the frequent falling, the bootless endeavor, the struggle of Right and Wrong in which the strong often succumb and the swift fail; we see flowers of good blooming in foul places, as, in the most lofty and splendid fortunes, flaws of vice and meanness and stains of evil; and, knowing how mean the best of us is, let us give a hand of charity to Arthur Pendennis, with all his faults and shortcomings, who does not claim to be a hero, but only a man and a brother."—The Campus.

JUDGE LANDON TO RETIRE.

Hon. Judson S. Landon, one of the trustees of Union College, and judge of the Court of Appeals, will retire from the bench on January 1, 1902, on account of his having reached the constitutional age limit. Judge Landon is not incapacitated, however, for work on account of his age and it is to be regretted that the state will lose the service of this able legal mind because of the constitutional limit in regard to age. Judge Landon has won an enviable record for himself as a jurist. His service on the bench has extended over a long period and has been marked by close and diligent application to duty and a demonstration of ability that few Judges have been able to reach.

Judge Landon has been a trustee of Union for some years having been made one in 1878. From 1885 to 1888 he acted as president of the college performing the duties of the position in a most satisfactory manner.

SOIREE MEETING.

A meeting of the Sophomore Soiree Committee was held on Tuesday of last week. It was decided to give the soiree, as usual, sometime in February. The following committees were appointed:

Music—Sherrill, Palmer, Treder, Langlois.

Patronesses—Palmer, Watson, Drees, Sherrill.

Invitations—Wateon, Johnson, Glutzbeck, Andress.

Decorations—Drees, Gardinier, Langlois, Glutzbeck.

Heating and lighting—Andress, Johnson, Treder, Gardinier.

THE ALUMNI COLUMN.

Interesting News About Union Graduates.

[Every alumnus and undergraduate of Union is invited to send to the Alumni Editor items of interest for insertion in this department. News of a personal nature, about any alumnus, will be gladly received and printed.]

'54.—A portrait of Major Austin A. Yates by the artist Theodore Gegoux was unveiled in the State Armory in this city on November 13. Major Yates was largely instrumental in securing the state appropriation for the erection of this armory.

'63.—Dr. Gerritt D. Van Vranken, who has for many years been connected with all the church and philanthropic movements of the eastern section of Long Island, died at his home at West Hempstead, on November 1, after a lingering illness of several months. Unostentatious to plainness, Dr. Van Vranken won the respect and esteem of everyone with whom he came in contact, and his death is deeply regretted by every resident of Hempstead.

Dr. Van Vranken was born July 2, 1841, at Clifton Park, Saratoga County, N. Y. He graduated from Union College in the class of 1863. He afterwards studied medicine at the Albany Medical College, and later at the Philadelphia Medical School. For some years he practiced at Stillwater and Jonesville, in Saratoga County. Later he was for several years the house physician at Dr. Strong's Sanitarium, at Saratoga Springs. He was also for some time professor of science at the Jonesville Academy.

While residing at Saratoga he was always much interested in church work, being Superintendent of the Saratoga Methodist Sunday School, and a member of the Board of Trustees. Shortly before his removal to Hempstead in 1877, he received the degree of A. M. from Union College. In 1877 he married Miss Hannah Kellum of Hempstead. For the past seventeen years he has been Superintendent of the Hempstead Sunday School, and also one of the church trustees. For a number of years his summers have been spent at Round Lake, where he was a member of the Camp Meeting Association held there. He was taken sick there two months ago and taken in a private car to his Long Island home.

He leaves a wife and two children, Miss Anna Van Vranken and John Van Vranken.

His funeral services were held at his residence at West Hempstead, November 4, at noon, and at 1 o'clock from the Hempstead Methodist Church. Interment was made in Greenwood, Brooklyn.

'72.—In the November number of the New England Magazine there is a twelve page article containing many cuts from photographs of the Shelburne Farms owned by Dr. W. Seward Webb. The farms are situated in Vermont near Burlington, and border on Lake Champlain in a country noted for its beautiful scenery. Dr. Webb entered Union with the class of 1872, but did not graduate. He went from Union to Columbia, then studied medicine abroad for some time and upon his return entered and graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York city.

'76.—Homer Greene will contribute to the Youth's Companion for the year 1902 with the following story, "Mary Harper Post, G. A. R."

81.—William B. Landreth, a brother of Professor O. H. Landreth, was recently appointed Resident Engineer at Albany.

'93.—H. A. Van Alstyne, C. E. of Union, has been appointed Division Engineer with headquarters in the State Engineer's office at Albany.

'99.—A paper on "How to promote Individuality in the Pupil" was read before the Schoharie Teachers' Institute by William F. H. Breeze, Ph. B., Bd. B., at a recent meeting. The paper was so well indorsed that the institute will have it published.

Syracuse University contemplates making E. R. Sweetland head of all athletic branches in that university.

ATHLETIC RECORDS ESTABLISHED.

The Amateur Athletic Union of the United States held a meeting on November 18 in New York city. Representatives from the different associations were present. The most important business of the meeting was the establishing of records that have been recently made, a great number during 1901, the most prominent one being John Flanagan's 16-pound hammer throw of 171 feet, 9 inches, made on September 3, 1901.

THE SECOND HOP.

The Junior Hop Committee have decided to hold the second of their series of dances on December 6 in Nott Memorial Hall. The committee is working hard to make the dance a success, but its efforts will prove futile unless more men from the other classes will attend the dance thereby making it a success.

DR. HALE TO LECTURE AT CORNELL.

The following is taken from a recent number of the Cornell Daily Sun:

"Among the lecturers at the next session of the summer school will be Professor von Klenge of the University of Chicago, Professor Edward Everett Hale, Jr., of Union, and Professor Howard, formerly of Leland Stanford."

INTER-COLLEGIATE.

The oldest college in the world is Mohammed College, Cairo. It was 1,000 years old when Oxford was founded.

Harvard's cross country squad now numbers 100 men. All of these take part in the practice runs which are held three times a week.

There are seventy-six tribes represented in the Carlisle Indian School. There are twelve hundred and eighteen pupils this year.

Three men were expelled from Trinity last week for removing the knobs from the doors of the institution bearing the seal of the college.

Harvard has the largest college library in this country. It has 700,000, while Yale has 200,000, Cornell 126,000, and Columbia 133,000 volumes.

Undergraduates of Harvard University are attempting to arrange an international debate, with Yale and Harvard on one side and Cambridge and Oxford on the other.

The inauguration of Dr. Ira Remsen, as president of Johns Hopkins University, will take place February 22, 1902. This is the date of the sixty-sixth commemoration of the founding of that institution.

John D. Rockefeller has offered to give Barnard College $200,000, provided the college will raise a similar sum before the first of next year. The college will attempt to meet this requirement.
