BASEBALL SEASON OPENED.

Rochester Defeated by a Score of 10-6.

The good coaching received by Union's representatives on the diamond this spring from Dr. Towne, showed itself repeatedly on the field last Saturday, when the first game of the season was played with the Rochester University team. This game was a rather important one to begin the season with, as the result will help towards the securing of the Baseball Championship of the N. Y. S. I. C. A. A. again this year.

Rochester came to Schenectady last Saturday with a record of three games already played. She had held Cornell down to 9-6, and had defeated Colgate 8-7, and Hamiltan 12-6. With this showing they had already made on the diamond, the Rochester men could hardly have been otherwise than confident of the result of the game here.

Witbeck, Delaney and Terry were all up from the Law School. "Whit" was in his usual good form, and it was due more to his mystifying twirling that the visitors were shut out from scoring for the first five innings. In the middle of the sixth inning, Witbeck was unfortunately taken ill, and compelled to retire, after having struck out four men, and allowing the Rochester men to secure only a few scattered hits. Mallery was then put in the box and did good work for Union, though he was somewhat inclined to be erratic. The visitors gained only one run until the eighth inning when the wearers of the Garnet made several fumbles and Rochester increased their score by five runs, leading Union at that point in the game by one run.

McPherson pitched good ball for his college, though the players on the home team soon found his curves and hit him quite freely. He, however, shut out Union in the first, fourth, sixth and seventh innings, and struck out five men.

Union gained five runs before McPherson gave way to Captain Webster, in the middle of the eighth inning.

Captain Parker, taking Mallery's place, kept the visitors from scoring in the ninth and the game ended with Union the winner.

For Rochester, Love, McPherson, Lawton and Webster played the best ball. The Rochester men put up a good clean game and kept Union guessing until the end. All of the wearers of the Garnet did their duty and it is hardly possible to praise one man over another. Of course, the Witbeck-Griswold combine was invincible as ever. The score:

WITH the budding of the trees and the general rehabilitation of nature, everyone's thoughts and desires naturally lead him out of doors. It is about time that a series of campus meetings be commenced. Other colleges have them. In what way can enthusiasm be better generated than by listening to good, inspiring speeches and by singing college songs? With three athletic meets this spring and a number of important baseball games in the future nothing is more needed to inspire the representatives on the track and diamond than for them to feel that the student body is with them. Interest and enthusiasm have always been aroused by these campus meetings. Let there be more of them.

THE game on the campus last Saturday with Rochester was an excellent beginning for the season. When the fact is taken into consideration that this was the first game that Union had played and the fourth for Rochester, the cause for satisfaction at the outcome is increased. The game was not only the first one of the season but also the first league game. It was clearly shown that the batting practice that the men received in their games with the second nine contributed largely to make the score what it was.

THE fortieth anniversary of the class of 1861 occurs in June and in accordance with the attempt of this paper to stimulate interest in class reunions we take pleasure in presenting in this issue the names and individual histories of every man of that class. Copies of this issue are being sent to every living member whose address is known and we hereby assure each alumnus of a hearty reception upon his return in June.

In next week's issue will be published the class records of '71, and it is desired that all information concerning its members be handed in at the earliest possible date.

THE NEW YORK TRIP OF THE MUSICAL CLUBS.

The first concert of the trip was given at the Nelida theatre, Catskill, Wednesday evening, the 24th, where the clubs were greeted by a large audience. The numbers were well rendered and encores were numerous. E. B. Slack, '01, as Sousa, was inimitable, and carried the audience with him every time. The Glee Club never was better, the voices harmonized well and the selections were catchy and full of humor. The mandolin and banjo clubs played some very snappy music and were called out again and again. The quartet was a prominent feature of the program and was heartily encored.

At Poughkeepsie the clubs gave a matinee in the Masonic Temple, which was very successful in every way. In the evening a concert was given at Fishkill under the auspices of Col. V. E. Stolbrand, '78, who is connected with the Mt. Beacon military academy, one of the leading institutions of its kind along the Hudson.

On Friday evening the clubs entertained a large and very appreciative audience at the Fee Academy of Newburg.

The last concert was given at Carnegie Lyceum, New York. The house was, as usual, a large one, and nothing but the most favorable criticism was made of the entertainment. The clubs used all their extra numbers in responding to encores. The result of the Union-Rochester game was announced during the evening, and the applause which followed was very gratifying.

For the last number on the program the alumni gathered upon the platform and joined with the Glee Club in the "Song to Old Union." The program given on the trip was as follows:

INTER-COLLEGIATE ORATORICAL CONTEST.

Won by Frederick M. Robinson of Rochester.

On Monday evening last occurred the long deferred contest of the Inter-collegiate Oratorical League in the Second Reformed church of this city. Syracuse's representative was Lewis Erwin Carter who spoke on "Ingersoll and Moody." Rochester was represented by Frederick M. Robinson whose subject was "Henry Ward Beecher and his Relation to the Slavery Question." Union's representative was John McNab whose subject was "The Ambition of Aaron Burr."

Dr. Hale, in opening the exercises, mentioned the contests as held in turn at each of the three colleges—Syracuse, Rochester and Union. The theme of the first speaker, Mr. Lewis Erwin Carter of Syracuse University, was "Ingersoll and Moody." Mr. Carter said in part:

"We shall not judge these two men from a theological standpoint, else we must condemn the one and uphold the other. Let us judge them by the consistency of their lives with their creeds and the influence on their fellow men. Both were self-made men, both of wonderful genius; each true to friends and the tender affections of home.

"But there was a contrast between them. The one witty and in the same breath sarcastic, a negative force, destroying life, the other a positive force, building up. The one a born orator who could not be surpassed by any man of his time.

"Ingersoll did not argue against Christianity. He hurled stinging epithets. Sarcasm is not argument. He centered his energy on the medieval conceptions of Christianity. The great agnostic did not live consistently. Disrespect for every one who disagrees with one is the essence of intolerance. His creed: 'To love justice, to make others happy, cultivate hope, to see the calm beyond the storm, the dawn beyond the night—a noble creed not unlike the teachings of Christ.'

"But because he could not reason it out concretely, he was traitor to it. Ingersoll, why did you use your grand eloquence and your magnetic influence to ridicule the name and refuse the life of Him who made you?"

"Let us turn to Moody. Words do not do him justice. This only can be done by his memory that lives in the hearts of men. He was a king on the platform, clear, forcible, sincere; a power in pathos; a man that inspired confidence because he practised what he preached. He preached Christ, not denominationalism. He respected those who disagreed with him, Christians and infidels alike. His strength was as the strength of ten, because his life was pure.

"Agnostic or Christian? The influence on men's lives can best answer this question."

The next speaker was Mr. Frederick M. Robinson of Rochester, who spoke on "Henry Ward Beecher and his Relation to the Slavery Question." He said briefly:

"Great reforms show two phases of development: The one a gradual drifting away from established customs; the other a period of intense activity resulting in the overthrow of those principles against which Christianity has arrayed itself. The rebellion was but the culmination of a long, slow movement through years of ceaseless activity. Henry Ward Beecher did not belong to the pioneer band of anti-slavery agitators. But as he himself said he had 'prepared for the fight throughout his whole life,' beginning in his college days. He had arrived in Brooklyn before his fame as an orator became prominent. He gave his congregation to understand that he would be bound by no precedents. The characteristics of his words were vitality, vivacity and velocity of expression, coupled with cleanness and humor.

"Beecher's voice arose above the storm of the rebellion loud and clear through faith in the ultimate triumph of the right. He went to England and there battled against the movement to recognize the independence of the Southern States." Mr. Robinson then dramatically pictured the wonderful eloquence of Beecher in his memorable speech on the 16th of October, 1863, at the Philharmonic hall, Liverpool.

Mr. John McNab, Union, 1901, spoke next on "The Ambition of Aaron Burr." He said in part: "Formation of character is one of the opportunities of youth. Youth is the spring-time of life. Because traits of character are formed that influence after life, the child is in a sense the father of the man.

"Aaron Burr was a quiet man, endowed with beauty, wealth and grace of manner. But these proved misfortunes in disguise. His parents died while he was but a child. Thus he came to know, to love nothing but self. He sacrificed his all at the altar of ambition. He would conquer all at the cost of friendship, respect and honor.

"The times were ripe for ambitious gratification. The revolution gave opportunity to Burr's bold and courageous spirit. Washington admired his bravery but made no attempt to love the man. Thus admired by the people but distrusted by the government he sought new fields and entered the profession of law. He took advantage of the tottering condition of the government.

"He entered politics, revered by his friends, held in awe by his enemies. He was defeated for the presidency by but a single vote. Then his real designs became apparent and he lost his hold on the people.

"The shot that ended Hamilton's career sounded his own downfall. Then from the ambition which knew no bounds emanated a scheme for the founding of an empire on the lower Mississippi with himself at its head. At everything sacred or human his ambition grasped. With the failure of his cherished scheme his ambition received its death blow."

The judges were: Rev. John Sheridan Zelig, Rev. Francis E. Brown and Prof. Arthur Marvin, all of Schenectady.

About thirty undergraduates assisted Richard Mansfield in his production of "Henry V" at the Van Curler on last Monday evening.

Hamilton W. Mabie, of the Outlook, the well known writer, will lecture in the college chapel on Thursday, May 9. His subject has not been announced as yet.

SECOND VICTORY ON THE DIAMOND.

Vermont Beaten by Score of 15-9.

The second game of the season with the University of Vermont again showed Union's team to be made up of good material. Union had played Vermont for a number of years, and this victory is especially to be appreciated because it is the first time the Garnet has ever laid low the Green Mountain boys.

The day of the game was dark and cloudy with a slight rain, but as the weather did not look serious, the game began with Union in the field. Witbeck did not get down to work in earnest until the second inning, with a result of three runs to Vermont's credit, and three men being left on bases. After that Witbeck got in some good work, especially in the third inning, when, with two men on bases, he struck out three batters in succession. When, to save his arm for the Hobart game on Friday next, he retired, he had made a record of six men struck out in five innings.

Vermont's pitcher, Taylor, showed good form, the few hits that were made off him in the early stages of the game being easily fielded. One run was scored by the Garnet players in the first inning. The continued yelling on the bleachers at length caused Taylor to lose his head, for, in the fifth inning he was hit freely, and Union took the lead with two runs to spare.

When Vermont came to bat in the sixth, Captain Parker had taken Witbeck's place. Mallery followed Parker in the box. "Chick" held down the visitors to three hits, though he also gave one base on balls. Three runs more resulted, making the score 9-5.

Taylor "went up in the air" in the sixth. The first man up to bat hit an easy one to the pitcher who easily got it to first. The next two men secured safe hits and the third was given first on balls. With the bases full, the fourth man was put out on an easy infield fly. After that ten runs came in, among them a home run by Griswold, who made a lucky hit over the terrace, bringing in two or three men.

The umpire, at the end of the sixth inning, called the game on account of darkness.

The Vermont boys played an almost errorless game until the latter part of the game when they went to pieces. The Union players had one less error than their opponents. The score:

CHURCH STUDENTS' MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

At the recent meeting of the Episcopal students which Rev. Edmund J. Lee, General Secretary of the Church Students Missionary Society addressed, a committee was appointed to inquire into the conditions and ascertain whether it would be best to form such an organization at Union. The committee is composed of Prof. Opdyke, chairman; James W. Cheesborough, '01; James H. Small, Jr., '02; Glowacki Parker, '03, and Archibald H. Rutledge, '04.

WHAT THE POUGHKEEPSIE PEOPLE SAY ABOUT THE CONCERT.

The Poughkeepsie Eagle says: "The Glee, Banjo and Mandolin clubs of Union university gave a very good concert on Thursday afternoon at Masonic temple. Either the public has got used to going out in the rain, or else 'old Union' has plenty of friends in Poughkeepsie, for the hall was well filled and the audience an enthusiastic one, calling forth many encores, to which the clubs responded with the best of good humor. The old college songs are always enjoyed, and perhaps necessary to a first class glee club concert, and to these were added some new, 'funny' ones, which captivated those present. 'Peter Gray' that old standby, with fresh adornment, was very amusing, and the 'Mother Goose Medler' and the 'Jersey Cow' were especially good. Mr. Barrett, the tenor soloist, has a voice of exceedingly sweet quality and the quartet was admirable. The banjo and mandolin clubs when playing together were aided by a flute and violincello, which made a delightful combination. They played the best in the 'Mosquito Parade' and 'Fan Tan.'"

Sabas Meneses, who has been a patient at the Ellis hospital, has so far recovered as to be able to be on the hill last week.

The friends of Hawn, 1903, will sympathise with him in the loss of his mother, whose decease occurred at Omar, N. Y., Sunday, April 22.

You can use any letter as many times to make a name as it appears in the list of letters above; for instance, Woodcock, Plover, Snow Bird, etc. To any person who can make a list of 25 or more different names of birds, we will give absolutely FREE a beautiful prize, value 1,000 dols. or less.

BIG PRIZES AWARDED DAILY.

When you have made out your list fill out the line on the bottom of this advt. and send to us with a Stamped Addressed Envelope, stamp of your country will do; then if you are awarded a prize you can, if you desire, get the prize by becom-prize to every person who sends the name of 25 Birds, and our gifts will be as follows: For the best list, received each day,

Prizes of Good Value. These prizes will be forwarded daily;
you will not have to wait a long time in uncertainty before you

It makes no difference whether we get your solution late or early in the day. All you need is to mail this advt. to us, and on the day it reaches us, if your list is the best, you shall have the Gold Watch, or if second best, the beautiful Tea Set, and so on. We guarantee that we will award you a prize. There is absolutely no opportunity for deception on our part—we cannot afford it. We want to get 1,000,000 well satisfied subscribers, and for that reason we don't want you to send any money until you know exactly what prize you have gained by answering the puzzles. As soon after 4 p. m. each day as possible, the examiners will judge the lists to the best of their ability, and will designate the prizes. We will write to you at once notifying you what prize has been awarded to you; then if you are satisfied, you can send your subscription to The Woman's World and your prize will go by return of mail carriage paid. To a person of narrow ideas it seems impossible that we should be able to make such a gigantic offer, but we have the money, brains and reputation. We know exactly what we are doing, and if we can legitimately gain a million subscribers by this grand idea we know that this million of well pleased subscribers can be induced to recommend The Woman's World to all friends, thereby building up our circulation still further. We are willing to spend 25,000 dols. in this contest in building up a big subscription list, and when this money is spent we reserve the right to publish a notification that the contest has been discontinued. Don't delay until it is too late. The contest will continue until July 1st, 1901.

We give a Bonus Prize of 250 dols., independent of all others, to the person who sends in the list gotten up in the best and

...Union College Men...

are particularly invited to call at our store and see the best line of nobby up-to-date Clothing ever shown up in this section. Big line of Rogers, Peet & Co's make just opened up—just as good as the best custom made clothing—and a mighty sight better than a lot of stuff panned off on a gullible public as custom-made, that we should be ashamed to offer to a man of ordinary intelligence. Come in and see our kind.
