American Monthly Review of Reviews How Can I Keep Up With the Times?

It is pretty hard to keep well informed on political news,
the scientific news, the literary news, the educational movements, the great business developments, the hundreds of interesting and valuable articles in the hundreds of excellent magazines. About the only way it can be done by the average busy man and woman is to read a magazine like the "Review of Reviews," and, as it is the only magazine of the sort, it is a good thing to send $2.50 for a year's subscription.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT says:

"I know that through its columns views have been pre-their ideas diverge, are given free utterance in its columns."

Degrees Conferred by Dr. Raymond at the Exercises in Albany.

ALUMNI HELD REUNIONS.

The commencement exercises of the Albany Medical College, were held in Odd Fellows hall, on Tuesday, May 3rd, with Dr. Albert Vander Veer, dean of the college, presiding. At 3 o'clock Holding's orchestra played an overture and the graduating class marched in. The hall was crowded with admiring friends of the students and they applauded loudly as the young men who were so soon to be sent forth as doctors took their seats. The exercises were opened with a prayer by the Rev. H. Clark Colebrook. After another musical selection, Joseph N. B. Garlick read the class essay.

There was another musical selection and then the Rev. Andrew V. V. Raymond, D. D., LL D., chancellor of Union University, conferred the degree of M. D. upon the members of the graduating class.

President Henry Hopkins, D. D., of Williams college, delivered the address. It was entitled "The Physician and the New Era; or the Special Demands of the Time Upon the Medical Profession."

Bennett Garlick, Albany; alternate essayist, Arthur W. Thomas, Middle Granville.

ALUMNI.

The first thing on the programme for the Alumni was the annual reception, which was held in the library of the college from 9:30 until 10:30 o'clock.

At 10:50 o'clock President Craig called the general alumni meeting together in Alumni hall. The faculty address of welcome was delivered by Prof. Samuel R. Morrow, M. D.

The class historians of the different decennial classes reported after which the following officers were elected:

At noon the decennial classes, '64, '74, '84, '94, held their reunions. It was expected that some members of the class of '54, would be present, but none came. Two members of the class of '64, Charles H. Terry of Brooklyn and Samuel B. Ward of Albany, met in the chemical laboratory and talked over old times. Henry Darwin Didama of Syracuse was the oldest alumnus present. He was a member of the class of '46.

The members of class '74 met in the chemical lecture room, those of '79 in the amphitheatre, those of '84 in room A, and those of '94 in room B. Their meetings are becoming more popular each year. They are the occasion for the renewal of old friendships and the recalling of delightful memories of college days.

The dinner of the Alumni Association was held last evening at the Ten Eyck. It was arranged that the members of the same classes would be seated together. Holding's orchestra played and Dr. Craig acted as toastmaster. After the good things had been disposed of Dr. John H. Cotter, the newly elected president of the association, and Henry Hopkins, D. D., orator of the day, spoke. The following toasts then were responded to: "Decennial Classes," Dr. Charles F. Timmerman of Amsterdam; "The Law," Deputy Attorney General William H. Wood; "The Clergy," the Rev. H. Clark Colebrook, pastor of the Memorial Baptist church; "The Faculty," Dr. A. Vander Veer; "Union University," the Rev. Andrew V. V. Raymond. The concluding toast was given by the class orator of this year's class, Dr. Edward A. Stapleton.

ALUMNI.

'41—At the annual luncheon of the alumni of Elmira college held at the Hotel Manhattan, New York city, Dr. Augustus W. Cowles, for forty-nine years president of the college and now president emeritus, was the honored guest of the day—the "grand old man," the "saintly president of Elmira," as he was variously denominated by his "girls," many of them now grandmothers. At the close of the after dinner speeches the president, Mrs. Doty announced the Elmira College Club of New York city had decided to start a $6,000 fund for the Cowles Memorial class, not limited to a set time of accomplishment nor to this club alone, but from all students of the college, wherever located as a tribute to Dr. Cowles.

'44—The address of Benjamin Poole is Wakefield Park, Wakefield, Mass.

✓'55—Frederick Augustus Chase for over thirty-one years professor of science in Fiske University, Nashville, Tenn., died April 3, of heart failure resulting from an attack of grip. He was born in Northville, N. Y., in 1833.

✓'63—Andrew Kirkpatrick, judge of the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey, died at his home in Newark, May 3, 1904, from Bright's disease. Judge Kirkpatrick was born in Washington, D. C., on October 8, 1844, his father John Bayard Kirkpatrick, being at that time third auditor of the Treasury Department.

Preparing for college at Rutgers College Grammar School, where he was a classmate of the late Vice-president Hobart, he entered Union College and was graduated in 1863. He was admitted to the bar as attorney in 1866 and as counsellor-at-law in 1869. The next year the degree of M. A., was given him by the College of New Jersey and in 1903 he received that of LL. D., from his alma mater.

In 1870 Judge Kirkpatrick entered into partnership with Frederick T. Frelinghuysen, then U. S. senator, in whose office he had studied. From that time his rise was rapid. In 1885 he was appointed presiding judge of the Essex County Court of Common Pleas. This position he held till 1896, when he resigned to accept appointment by President Cleveland to the U. S. District Court.

In spite of his legal duties Judge Kirkpatrick found time to become interested in the organization and promotion of various enterprises. He was at various times treasurer of T. P. Howell & Co., of Newark; president of the Federal Trust Co., of Newark, Manager of the Howard Savings Institution, treasurer of the Essex Club and receiver of the Domestic Sewing Machine Company. He also accepted the position of Commissioner for the erection of a new city hall for Newark, and Commissioner of the sinking fund of that city.

The Ship building Company's muddle was adjudicated by him, and it was he who appointed his friend, former U. S. Senator James Smith, receiver. He had more recently handled the Northern Securities case in various forms, and on May 9, was to have heard the case of Harriman and the Equitable Securities against the distributing scheme of the Northern Securities. The sugar combination and the so-called whiskey trust and most other big combinations came before him at one time or another, relative to various questions.

Judge Kirkpatrick owned large amounts of real estate in Newark and in various places. His fortune was rated at several millions. He was twice married. His first wife was Alice C. Condit, and his second wife Louisa Howell, who survives him. He also leaves six children. He was a charter member of the Essex Club, of Newark, a member of the Essex County Country club and the Reform club of New York city.

✓'63—The library recently received a copy of "Early Bibles in America," Ed. 3., by Rev. John Wright, D. D., Rector of St. Paul's church, St. Paul, Minn. The Library also has a copy of the third edition of the Saur Bible published at Germantown, '76, which was presented by Dr. Wright. It is of interest as being the first Bible printed in America in a European language. Nearly all the copies of this edition were destroyed by the British troops when they occupied Germantown in 1776, as they used the paper for cartridges for their fire arms, and also converted it into litter for their horses.

✓'67—Henry Miller Cox, M. D. for the past twenty years a Medical Inspector in the Health Department of New York city, died April 25, 1904, after a short attack of pneumonia. He was a graduate of the New York College of Physicians and Surgeons.

'75—President Raymond will deliver the principal address at the 75th Anniversary of the 4th Presbyterian church of Albany which is to be held May 25-31. Dr. Raymond was pastor of this church for a number of years.

'75-76—Prof. Olin H. Landreth was elected Vice-President of the Society of Engineers of Eastern New York which was formed at Albany on April 21, 1904.

'76—Prof. Frank Mason Comstock of the Case School of Applied Science has an article on "Ancient Lake Beaches on the Islands in Georgian Bay," in the American Geologist for May 1904.

'77—Prof. Franklin H. Giddings, Prof. of Sociology, in Columbia University, has a review of Herbert Spencer's "Autobiography," in the Independent for April 28, 1904.

'94—F. W. Updegraff is a Mining Engineer at Tombstone, Arizona.

'96—"It is a pleasure to know that the highly satisfactory manner in which Prof. George J. Dann has performed his work as principal, meets with the approval and commendation of the Board of Education, and that he has been granted an increase of $100 in salary, making it $1,400 next year."—Cobleskill Times, April 28, 1904.

'97—Dr. S. E. Slocum has been promoted to an assistant professorship in Applied Mathematics at the University of Cincinnati.

'98—In the "Schenectady Gazette's Patent Column for April 2nd, William C. Yates has the following two Rheostat patents: 755,828—

Rheostat. William C. Yates, Schenectady, N. Y., assignor to General Electric Company, a Corporation of New York. Filed Aug. 22, 1903.

A rheostat comprising a base-plate having a circular groove in one side, two concentric rows of studs mounted on the other side of the base-plate and extending into the groove, the studs of one row being opposite the intervals between the studs of the other, resistances zigzagged back and forth across said groove and connected to the studs, a filling of insulating material in the groove, and a contact device co-operating with the studs.

755,827—Rheostat, William C. Yates and Paul Zimmer, Schenectady, N. Y., assignors to the General Electric Company, a Corporation of New York. Filed July 25, 1903.

'03—Prof. Edward H. Rider is to succeed J. Edward Smith as Principal of the Delaware Literary Institute and Union School at Franklin.

THE NORTHFIELD STUDENT CONFERENCE 1904.

The nineteenth annual Northfield Student Conference will be held from Friday night, July 1, through Sunday night, July 10, 1904. This Conference is composed of about 1000 men who come together each year for Bible Study and discussion of Christian Work. The mornings and evenings are set aside for meetings and classes, the afternoons for athletic contests and social times. Many prominent athletes and college leaders are there and the numerous receptions and celebrations present a rare opportunity for men from the different colleges to get acquainted and for secondary school boys to meet fellows from their future alma maters.

Some of the delegations are very large. Yale, for instance, including her sub-freshmen, had over 100 men at Northfield last year. Harvard, Princeton, Columbia Cornell, etc., not quite so many, while Brown, Wesleyan and Williams had even more in proportion to their numbers.

The outline of the Conference consists in Platform Meetings by Mr. Robert E. Speer, New York City; Rev. Anson Phelps Stokes, jr., Yale; Rev. Chas. Cuthbert Hall, D. D. New York; Rev. G. A. Johnston Ross, Cambridge, England; Prof. R. A. Falconer, Halifax, N. S.; Mr. John R. Mott and others; in Bible Study Courses under Mr. W. D. Murray, New York City; Mr. L. H. Miller, Princeton University; Prof. H. M. Tory, McGill University; Mr. Thornton B. Penfield, New York City; Prof. R. A. Falconer and Mr. C. C. Michener; in Mission Studies under J. L. Barton, D. D., Boston, and John Willis Baer of New York; and Life Work meetings held at sunset on Round Top hill.

The expenses during the period are not heavy. Accommodations may be secured at the Northfield Seminary buildings for $12 for the entire stay; at Camp Northfield, which is open all summer, for $4.00 to $5.00 per week; and at "The Northfield," a first class mountain hotel where many of the students entertain their relatives and friends. Reduced railway rates and limited opportunities for work further lessen the cost of attending the Conference. The gathering is strictly a student movement, originated by them, and managed by them, and it is the earnest wish that every college and preparatory school in the East will be represented there this summer.

CAMPUS NOTES.

First Student—"What are you so happy about?"

Second student—"Why, don't you know there's a Junior Hop this Friday?"

L. R. Barnes, '06, has been elected assistant manager of next year's football team.

S. J. Raymond, '06, will be Editor in Chief of the 1906 Garnet.

H. F. Cantwell and N. V. V. Franchot, '06, have been initiated into membership of Tiger's Eye.

The Senior Class Smoker, held in Yates' Boat House on the evening of May 2nd, was a great success.

Manager Hays of the Chess club has arranged for a series of games with Amherst to be played this spring.

Raymond, '05, and Waldron, '06, attended the Annual convention of Alpha Delta Phi held in Chicago last week.

JUNIOR HOP THIS FRIDAY—YATES' BOAT HOUSE.

Moving day was celebrated on May 2nd with the usual pomp. After chapel services, when the faculty had withdrawn, the seniors took charge. After giving the class yell the members marched around the chapel and, singing the 1904 song, escorted first the junior then in succession the sophomores and the freshmen to the seats left vacant for them respectively by their up-moving predecessors. The students then formed in line, and, headed by the seniors, who appeared for the first time in cap and gown, visited the various class rooms, honoring each waiting professor with a song appropriate to the occasion. All unwary professors found out of doors were promptly surrounded and held prisoners until a speech had been obtained. The ceremonies were concluded by a visit to the idol in the rear of Washburne Hall, where, to the accompaniment of class yells and college songs, freshmen and sophomores united in painting the idol white in token that their feuds were past.

CONCORDIENSIS,	$2.00 per Year, in Advance

Publication Office: Oneonta, N. Y.

Address all communications to THE CONCORDIENSIS,
Union College, Schenectady, N. Y.

Farewell. With this number the Editors of the 1904 Board take leave of their friends, acquaintances and others. It has been our wish to put forth a paper containing more than current news and such a course has been considered presumption by some and has been appreciated by others. We trust that the administration this year has not fallen too far short of the second end toward which it aimed—namely,—giving a readable weekly which should stand for Union, as a University, not as a political rendezvous.

The Seniors give over the reins to 1905 with their best wishes and ask that they, as well as the whole student body, may be as forgetful of our faults as we are cognizant of their merits. Remember us simply as loyal Union men and we can ask for nothing more. We shall keep the memory of our college days "with a love that ever will be" and for the rest "Alma Mater, Ave Atque Vale!"

Thanks.

The 1904 Board of Editors wishes to thank all the contributors to the "Concordy." Likewise the kindly critics. The work of getting out a weekly is not so easy or delectable that generous outside help, whether it be by word of encouragement or deed of assistance, goes without appreciation.

Especially do the Editors wish to extend their thanks to Mr. Joseph R. Brown, jr., the College Librarian, for the efficient and consistent help that he has given the Concordy throughout the year.

OH GENTLE SPRING.

(Being a paraphrase of similar songs in the recent magazines.)

Oh gentle Spring, art listening?
Help me to sing of everything,
Of birds a-wing, of worms that sting,
Of bells that ring their ting-a-ling
Of tender Spring, meandering
Like love flowing, soul-honeying.
Oh greenest King to thee I bring
This mellow ding. The lambkins spring
Ne'er wearying and gentleing
Their sorrowing the leeches cling
Like anything to everything.
Oh gentle Spring—to thee I ring
My ling-a-ting, oh tender Spring,
Oh gentle Spring, oh tender Spring,
Oh gentle Spring!

—Oh Sugar.

Address all communications to THE CONCORDIENSIS,
 Union College, Schenectady, N. Y.

Farewell. With this number the Editors of the 1904 Board take leave of their friends, acquaintances and others. It has been our wish to put forth a paper containing more than current news and on a course has been considered presumption by some and has been appreciated by others. We trust that the administration this year has not fallen too far short of the second end toward which it aimed—namely,—giving a readable weekly which should stand for Union, as a University, not as a political rendezvous.

The Seniors give over the reins to 1905 with their best wishes and ask that they, as well as the whole student body, may be as forgetful of our faults as we are cognizant of their merits. Remember us simply as loyal Union men and we can ask for nothing more. We shall keep the memory of our college days "with a love that ever will be" and for the rest "Alma Mater, Ave Atque Vale!"

Thanks.

The 1904 Board of Editors wishes to thank all the contributors to the "Concordy." Likewise the kindly critics. The work of getting out a weekly is not so easy or delectable that generous outside help, whether it be by word of encouragement or deed of assistance, goes without appreciation.

Especially do the Editors wish to extend their thanks to Mr. Joseph R. Brown, jr., the College Librarian, for the efficient and consistent help that he has given the Concordy throughout the year.

OH GENTLE SPRING.

(Being a paraphrase of similar songs in the recent magazines.)

Oh gentle Spring, art listening?
 Help me to sing of everything,
 Of birds a-wing, of worms that sting,
 Of bells that ring their ting-a-ling
 Of tender Spring, meandering
 Like love flowing, soul-honeying.
 Oh greenest King to thee I bring
 This mellow ding. The lambkins spring
 Ne'er wearying and gentleing
 Their sorrowing the leeches cling
 Like anything to everything.
 Oh gentle Spring—to thee I ring
 My ling-a-ting, oh tender Spring,
 Oh gentle Spring, oh tender Spring,
 Oh gentle Spring!

—Oh Sugar.

THE PRODIGAL.

(From the Concordy of Oct. 25, 1885.)

Well here I am at work again,

Back from my last vacation,

I feel more lordly now than when

"Frosh" was my appellation.

My summer's been a happy one,

I left my home quite sadly,

But I'm glad to see the fellows.

And I think they meet me gladly.

And she—Oh she'll be glad, I know,

To see me back once more,

And wont she just smile sweetly

When I meet her at the door.

We didn't say goodbye last spring,

I was in such a flurry

To get my things packed, and I left

In something of a hurry.

But I don't want to go a bit

To see her now or never,

In fact I wish just now that our Acquaintanceship might sever.

But I must go, I s'pose, for I

Must have clean clothes and collars;

"She" is my washerwoman, and

I owe her twenty dollars.

"Homer."

THE WESTERN WAY.

Yes, oh My Dear, this is the Western Way,

No more for us the orient shall glow

Rosy with dawn and flushed with coming day

For we descend and into darkness go

With withered dreams and thoughts grown gently gray;

With Autumn and with sunset. Hither flow

Deep thro' this veiled vastness strange and slow,

Calm silent streams to Silence borne away.

Yes, oh my Dear, what tho' these tears must start

In piteous anguish at the nearing end;

God grants us one brave hand-clasp ere we part,

(Oh silent separation, friend from friend!)

And quiet longing ere the shades descend

And we are taken, faithful, heart from heart.

S.C. '04.

JUST BECAUSE.

Why'd I spurn you? I don't know;

But there's something in my heart

Whispers you your answer low,

"Just because I love you so."

Why'd I hate you? Why'd I frown?

Why'd I do a thousand things?

This the reason, if you'd know,

"Just because I love you so."

—Winthrop College Journal.

THE 1905 GARNET.

The 1905 Garnet, after the sundry yet normal tribulations, which every annual must pass through before being published, appeared on Saturday last. It may be said to begin with that it gives no evidence of having gone through any hardships either material or mental.

The volume is very appropriately dedicated to Dean Fiero of the Albany Law Department of the University.

The most striking feature of the annual is probably the University character. The Junior "Medics" have individual picture inserts. The space given to the different departments in Albany and the quality of the material is especially to be commended.

From an artistic point of view the Garnet is a marked success. The Art Editor certainly did himself credit and the other drawings are well executed and engraved.

The Literary Editor is to be congratulated on the amount and quality of the material he secured and the aptness of the "grinds."

For the Business Manager one silent prayer is uttered.

'93—Henry A. VanAlstyne is to be appointed State Engineer.

✓'03—Samuel B. Howe, jr., expects to be situated in Plainfield, N. J., next year where he will take the chair of History in the Plainfield High School.

INTERCLASS TRACK MEET.

The interclass track meet for selecting a team to compete in the Trinity meet this Saturday was held on the College Oval last Friday afternoon. The absence of Captain Raymond, '05 and Waldron, '06, was felt and had they been present the class scores would undoubtedly stand differently. The Sophomores won the meet, the Seniors and Freshmen tied for second place, and the Juniors came in last. Closson, '06, threw the hammer 10 ft. over the college record.

The events were as follows:

100 yard dash—Won by Palmer, '04; VonDannenburg, '06, second; Patton, '05, third. Time, 11 seconds.

High jump—Won by Rutledge, '04; Maure, '07, second; Langley, '07, third. Height, 5 ft. 3 in.

Broad jump—Won by Hagar, '06; Arms, '05, second; Dwight, '06, third. Distance, 19 ft. 3 in.

Half mile run—Won by Reed, '06; VonDannenburg, '06, second; Furbeck, '07, third. Time, 2 min. 14 sec.

120 yard hurdle—Won by Rutledge, '04; Maure, '07, second; White, '07, third. Time 17 2-5 sec.

Shot put—Won by Cleghorn, Medic; Dann, '06, second; VonDannenburg, '06, third. Distance 32 ft.

Hammer throw—Won by Closson, '06; Colburn, '07, second; Patton, '05, third. Distance 106 ft. 2 in.

220 yard dash—Won by VonDannenburg, '06; Patton, '05, second; Arms, '05, third. Time, 24 sec.

One mile run—Won by Reed, '06; Holleran, '06, second; Wright, '07, third. Time 5 min. 11 sec.

220 yard hurdle—Maure, '07, and White, '07, tied for first place; Rutledge, '04, third. Time, 29 sec.

Quarter mile run—Won by VonDannenburg, '06; Waite, '07, second. Time 57 sec.

HAMILTON, 4 : UNION, 10.

Union's nine defeated the Hamilton team last Saturday afternoon on the campus by a decisive game of 10-4. The game was a pretty one to watch tho' the Garnet's big lead in the first few innings left little doubt as to the outcome. Hagar's home run in the first inning rather disconcerted the players from Clinton and they never wholly recovered until the seventh, when, by a series of well placed hits, they brought in three runs. One of the most sensational plays seen on the campus in a long while was O'Brien's double play to Bradley. He caught a white hot liner with cowboy whiskers on it and played it to second in a twinkling. He pitched a pretty game and earned all the support he got. Robinson covered right field well and batted in good form, making two base hits out of three chances. "Jack" Mahar muffed a high fly which got zig-zagging in the wind but otherwise played a steady game.

For Hamilton, Bramley played a good hard game and Judd on first base was "steady as a stone wall in Georgia." Havens, who began the twirling, was substituted by Soper in the sixth inning.

INTER-COLLEGIATE.

Bowdoin won their annual debate with Amherst on April 22nd.

Coach Stagg, of Chicago University, wishes to discourage the use of spiked shoes. He claims that men will do as well without them, after becoming accustomed to it.

President Wilson of Princeton, has remarked, regarding the two year college course, "I cannot imagine how anybody who ever saw a sophomore could think of graduating one in that condition."

The fraternities of the University of Chicago recently participated in a grand ball, the Pan-Hellenic.

The University of Chicago will, in a short time, change from the university system of teaching and use the Oxford idea instead. This change will involve the expenditure of between two and three millions of dollars.

Over 60 years ago Pond's Extract—the old family doctor—came into existence. During all these years it has been the leading remedy in school, college and home, for the relief of all the pains, aches and accidents of so frequent occurrence. A bottle should be in the room of every student—handy for quick use—and applied before pain drives study from the brain. Relieves earache, toothache, rheumatism; cures cuts, bruises, burns; stops bleeding from cuts and wounds, and soothes all pain. A wonderfully efficacious remedy—pure and strong.

Soothes and freshens the face after shaving. If you have never used Pond's Extract you may not refuse Watered Witch Hazel when it is offered you as a substitute; if you have used Pond's Extract you will refuse to take any substitute—you will insist on Pond's Extract.

Sold only in sealed bottles under buff wrapper.
