FOOTBALL SEASON BEGINS SATURDAY.

Prospects Unusually Bright—Team Well Supported ed Supported by Students.

Football prospects are the brightest that Union has ever seen. With scarcely half the men back from last year's team, Coach Regnier and Captain

MANAGER BAKER

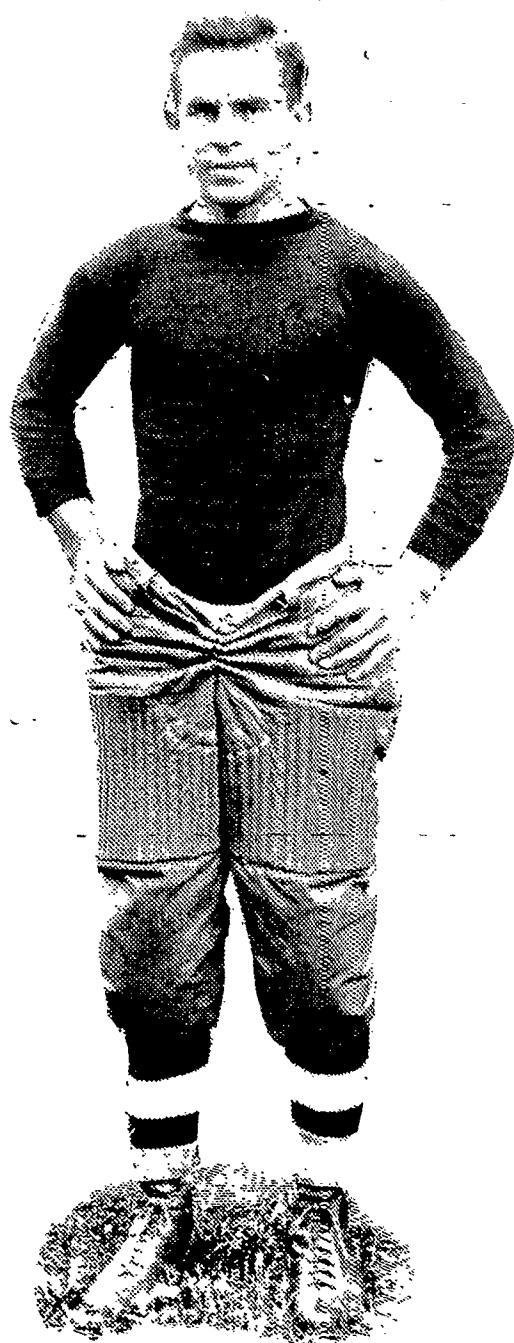

Brown, working together with the men who returned early, have turned out a team that will show the true Union spirit and that has a capacity for winning games. The first game of the season takes place to-morrow at Williamstown against the fast Williams aggregation. Judging from the showing made in the early scrimmages and from the way the men have been working in practice, the Garnet eleven will give the Massachusetts team a hard game.

With the team on the trip to-morrow, will go nearly two hundred earnest students, filled with the intention of yelling the Williams men literally off their feet. With such a backing the team will undoubtedly make a showing that will be a surprise for their opponents. Manager Baker has made arrangements for the trip and has secured the tickets at almost one way fare for the round trip.

So far the work of the team has been very gratifying to the coach and to Captain Brown. Two ends have appeared, both of 'Varsity material, the backfield, for which so many fears were felt has proven to be much stronger than last year. With O'Connell, Brown, Dewey, Reilly, Sarvey and Micks in their places, there is little doubt of Union's ability to make gains. On the line the absence of Brown has not been felt nearly as much as was feared. Sellnow, O'Connell, Mann, Davis, Griffin, Atkin and Vedder are at their old places. Taken all in all, the team at the present time seems to possess more strength than at any time last year.

During the past week Coach Regnier has been instructing the team in a series of fake plays and passes that seem likely to be good ground gainers. In addition to these, straight plays, onside kicks and forward passes have been added to the curriculum. Notwithstanding that it is the first game of the season, there is every indication that the team will win Saturday. Already the enthusiastic studes have swamped Middlebury and Hobart, won from Stevens and Wesleyan and buried Hamilton and Rochester under a load of touchdowns.

Accidents have already weakened the team. "Ducky" Webb one of the candidates for quarterback had his shoulder injured, but luckily there are other good quarters. Reilly has a bad shoulder, which, however, will not interfere with his playing. O'Connell is in practically the same condition. Dewey is threatened with a "charley horse." Morgan, one of the ends, is also lame with a muscle bruise.

The Line-Up.

The line-up, which was given out to-day by Captain Brown will be essentially as follows. There is a possibility that Coach Regnier will keep Brown himself out of the game owing to a bad shoulder:

ATHLETIC BOARD.

Assistant Baseball and Football Managers Elected.

The regular fall meeting of the Athletic Board was held on Wednesday evening. At this meeting much important business was transacted and several matters of interest to college athletics discussed.

Kenneth E. Walser of Cohoes was elected assistant manager of the 'varsity baseball team. The matter of hiring a coach for the baseball nine was discussed but no definite action will be taken until later in the season.

Baker, manager of the football team announced the resignation of Chatfield Bates, the assistant manager. Bates is intending to go to the medical department next year and it was thought that a student in one of the Albany departments would hardly be able to attend to the managing of the team. William A. Rice of Parksville was elected to fill the vacancy.

Withdraw From N. Y. S. I. A. U. Saturday.

This week Saturday Union College officially withdraws from the New York State Intercollegiate Athletic Union. The athletic board decided last winter that it would be for the best interests of the college to withdraw from the league, but according to the rules of the association it was impossible to do so until the fall meeting.

Morland King, the president of the athletic council will represent Union at the meeting of the state league and hand in our resignation. If possible, Union will still participate in the N. Y. S. I. A. U. track meet.

THE NEW PROFESSORS.

This year five new names are found on the list of Union's faculty. Professor James B. Kennedy now has charge of the work in economics, comparative politics and American history. Mr. Kennedy has received a Ph. D. degree from Johns Hopkins and has been a professor in Welles College for the past three years.

Dr. Morton C. Stewart, the new instructor in German, has had several years' experience as a teacher, and has taken a Ph. D. degree from Harvard University.

Mr. George D. Lyon of Colorado University is now assistant professor of civil engineering. Chester Yeaton, who has an A. M. degree from Harvard, has been obtained as instructor in engineering mathematics. William C. Taylor, another engineering instructor, comes to Union from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

NEW STUDENTS AT UNION.

Of 154 applicants for admission to the class of 1914, the following were passed by the admission committee as qualified to register for the first term. There are 109 in all:

THE GAME

On Saturday the football team plays the opening game of the season. This game will undoubtedly be one of the season. A victory or even a tie game with the Williams eleven would make the chances for winning every game on the schedule unusually bright.

If, then, so much depends upon to-morrow's game, everybody should do everything possible to help the team. Coach Regnier and Captain Brown have been doing their utmost to develop a winning team and every man on the eleven is prepared to play his hardest. Let every student do his utmost to go to Williams and support the team. The rates for the trip are extremely reasonable, and the Garnet players should be backed up by a bunch of supporters that will outcheer Williams on her own gridiron.

A SUGGESTION. The Concordiensis thinks that it may not be amiss at the beginning of the year to call attention to the growing importance of the Sunday Vespers of the Christian Association. If any men have been accustomed to look upon these meetings as a trivial occurrence, they will be surprised to know that men of distinguished ability and no small reputation are already scheduled for this fall. Read on another page the announcement of a few of these speakers. The opportunity of hearing such men means an opportunity for a broadened viewpoint and a deeper culture; and that is what we are all at college for. The Christian Association is to be congratulated for its good work in this direction. If for no other reason, these meetings at which men of prominence visit our college, often for the first time, ought to be supported by the student body merely as a matter of college spirit.

A WORD TO

It is with pleasure that the THE FRESHMEN Concordiensis welcomes the Class of 1914. The freshmen class, while at present not quite as large as the entering classes for the past two years, has already shown that it has the true Union spirit and is interested in the welfare of the college, which is to us the dearest of all colleges.

While intellectual training is the reason for the existence of the college, and should be the reason for your own existence as a member of the college community, yet every student, unless relying wholly on his own resources to defray his college expenses, should feel it his duty to take an active interest in some one of the various college activities. It does not matter whether you have had any previous experience or ability of any kind. That is one of the advantages of a college of Union's size. You have a chance to engage in some activity suited to your taste and develop ability. The training which is received outside of the curriculum work will be found very valuable in after life, and will contribute in no small degree to the pleasure of your college life.

UNION ENGINEERS RECEIVE

HIGH HONORS IN CIVIL SERVICE.

Louis R. Bennett, a member of the present junior class of the general engineering department has been notified by the New York State Civil Service Commission that in the recent examination for rodman on barge canal work, he passed the examination with the highest grade of any one in the state and therefore ranks number one on the list, which comprises about 250 candidates, of whom about one-half passed the examination. All of the Union College engineers who took that examination, six in number, passed and were graded within the upper twenty-nine on the list, one being number six, with Mr. Bennett number one.

Bennett has been engaged on the barge canal work since his appointment but intends to return to complete his engineering course this year provided he can secure a leave of absence from the state on October 15th, up to which time the faculty has granted him a leave of absence from college work.

Another Union College man, B. M. Stark, who graduated in the general engineering course in June of this year, has just been notified by the U. S. Civil Service Commission that he has passed the recent examination for junior assistant engineer on the U. S. Reclamation Service with a general average of 91.25 per cent., and stands at the head of the list for the entire United States. Mr. Stark has, since graduation in June, been engaged with the New York State Water Supply Commission, but will doubtless soon leave for a position on the U. S. Reclamation Service on irrigation in the West.

COLLEGE OPENING.

Union College began its hundred and fifteenth collegiate year September 22, when more than three hundred students reported for the first recitations of the year. On September 19 the freshmen registered and on the following three days took place the entrance examinations. The three upper classes registered on the 21st and the first chapel exercises were held the following day.

Idol worship was the nightly program during the forepart of the week, which nearly the entire body of upper classmen and many citizens of Schenectady, including a large proportion of the fair sex attended. On Friday afternoon took place the annual cane rush which was won by the sophomore class by the score of 11 to 5. The rush was witnessed by fully a thousand spectators, who lined the terrace from North College to the Blue Gate. In the evening the first annual reception of the senior class to the freshmen was held at Silliman Hall. The regular annual event of this kind will be held to-night when the entire student body and faculty will be present at the hall to welcome the new men.

The senior class begins the year with fifty-two members and the junior class numbers seventy-five. There are seventy-three in the sophomore class and the entering class has a hundred and nine. Since these figures were obtained from the college office there have been several additions to the entering class and also the total number of students will be increased by several old students who will enter late.

Many improvements to the campus are to be seen at the opening of this year. The iron fence on the Union Street side of the campus is complete and the new roads and paths have been laid out and gravelled. A substantial wire fence now encloses the college pasture and all thoroughfare through here stopped. The portion of South College that was damaged by fire last winter has been repaired and Professor Hale is now occupying his apartments. A new dormitory has been opened in north colonade where the several recitation rooms on the second floor have been torn out and in their place eleven rooms have been finished for the use of students. The new Beta Theta Pi fraternity house is nearing completion and other changes in the appearance of the grounds are still going on.

Alumni News.

WHAT WILL THIS PAGE AMOUNT TO?

The Graduate Council has been allowed by the editors of the Concordiensis to publish such alumni news as the secretary can secure. The secretary, of course, wants to make this page as good as possible. But if this page becomes of interest to the alumni, it will be due largely to their own support. For in all the work Union is doing, the interest and help of her graduates plays an important part. Her success must of necessity depend largely upon their help. While the cry for money is often heard, there is need of many other kinds of assistance, and here is one.

The alumni can make this page a good one. Send to the secretary of the Graduate Council all interesting facts you know about other alumni and news of yourself. Do not let false modesty keep you from writing about yourself. We have a common interest in each other's welfare and there are classmates who will enjoy hearing of you.

Let us make a start this year and get out such a page that there will be a demand for a whole alumni magazine in 1911. Until then, take the Concordy and urge other graduates to do likewise.

1858.—The Rev. Dr. Leander Hall, who died at the home of his son, Mr. John H. Hall, in New Rochelle, on Sunday, was a direct descendant of John Hall of England. He was born in Salisbury, N. Y., and was a graduate of Union College, Schenectady, class of 1858; and later of the Rochester Theological Seminary. He was in the Baptist ministry for thirty years.

1882.—Dean Elmer P. Waller of Maryville College, Maryville, Tenn., called on Dean Ripton, August 18th. After leaving college Mr. Waller taught mathematics in the Union Classical Institute. From here he went to a seminary and entered the ministry in the Presbyterian Church. Dean Waller is a member of the Psi Upsilon Fraternity.

1898.—Thomas A. Crichton has resigned his office of deputy auditor general of Pennsylvania to return to his law practice. Mr. Crichton made an able and popular auditor whose resignation is regretted. To Union men of his day he will be best remembered as a football man, playing right half in 1897.

1902.—Harry C. Hoyt is in Salt Lake City as the agent for the General Electric Company. Of the two wonders in that region, the Mormon Church and the Salt Lake, he refused to give any original ideas.

1903.—Frederic H. Powell is in the War Department at Washington. This summer his wife and he paid the campus a visit. Mr. Powell is a member of the Delta Phi fraternity.

1903.—William J. Dickinson has returned from a three years' stay in India, where he was in the employ of a native prince. This enlightened monarch has built several power plants, the construction of which "Bill Nye" directed. While in India he also found time to hunt big game, his friends affirming him to be the equal to T. R.

1903.—Joseph R. Brown, Jr., has returned from a five months' advertising trip in Cuba. He is with the Fulford Hanson Company of Schenectady.

1904.—Lieut. Franklin H. Drees of the U. S. Marines has been stationed for two years in the far east. In January a separate Asiatic fleet was established of which Lieut. Drees' ship, the Charleston, is a part.

1905.—Morris T. Raymond is making good in the lumber business. For several years he worked in the Canadian woods learning the production side of lumbering. He says there is a charm in a winter forest that even rough company and poor food can not destroy. Young Prex is now selling lumber and is with Arnold and Company of Albany.

1906.—William E. Stoney is one of the few Union men working on the Panama Canal. Bill is an assistant engineer and in charge of the grading for the spillway on the Gatun dam.

1906.—Charles S. Dwight has been with the Southern Cotton Oil Company since graduating. He was on the campus August 25 and had a lot of information about the value of this newly developed industry. Within the past two years a flour made from part of the cotton seed has been placed upon the market. The bread made from this flour is brown in color and contains more nourishment than whole wheat. At present "Davy" is with the mill at Dillon, S. C.

1908.—J. T. Wright, who is teaching in the Nichols School in Buffalo, took a course in physics at the Cornell Summer School this year. "Ducky" is head coach of the Nichols football team and puts on a suit himself when he thinks the boys need a little punishment.

1908.—Martin H. Weyrauch was married to Miss Bessie Thornton of Schenectady, September 5th. While in college he was editor of this paper and since graduating has followed newspaper work. At present he is assistant news editor of the Brooklyn Daily Eagle.

1909.—C. Lawrence Mead is engaged in the advertising business in New York. Some of his classmates may have seen his first work, which was the pictures used in advertising the Claxon Horn.

ANNUAL UNIVERSITY DAY

TO BE HELD ON OCTOBER 22.

The date for the annual celebration of University Day has been fixed for Saturday, October 22. On this day, as was the case last year, the students from the law, medical and pharmacy departments in Albany will be the guests of the college.

On this day there will be no regular college work as the time will be given up to the entertainment of the visitors. In the morning a meeting will be held in the college chapel, at which there will be several distinguished speakers. As yet Dr. Richmond has not definitely secured the speakers but he will probably be able to do so within a few days.

In the afternoon the Albany students will be present at the Wesleyan football game in a body. The fraternity houses will provide lunch for the visitors and the speakers will be entertained by President Richmond. The Board of Trustees provides special cars to bring the professional students over from Albany as they consider that the celebration of University Day is a valuable means of drawing the college and Albany departments closer together.

CLASS ELECTIONS.

Travis for Senior President.

The election of senior president took place on Wednesday afternoon. After much discussion over parliamentary law, legal election was finally obtained. On the second ballot S. Vernon Travis, president of the Commons Club, received a majority of the votes. The election of the other officers was postponed until a later date.

S. VERNON TRAVIS

E. Leo McDermott of Schenectady is president of the junior class. None of the other officers have as yet been elected.

The sophomore class held their election on the day of the cane rush. Theodore W. Hanigan was chosen president and Hugh Stoller, vice president. The other officers are: Frederick Champion, secretary; Don Hutchins, treasurer; Van Rensselaer Tremper, historian, and John Cronin, manager of the football team.

The freshmen also held their election before the cane rush. The officers of the class are as follows:—? ? ?

A NEW NEWSPAPER AT UNION.

With the next issue of the Concordiensis there will be inaugurated an entirely new and interesting (?) feature in the form of a live and thoroughly up-to-date newspaper entitled, The Optic. The Concordiensis management has prevailed upon a prominent newspaper man, known in journalistic circles as I. Site, to fill the position of managing editor of the new sheet. Mr. Site has entered Union College and is at present taking a regular course, thus becoming eligible to contribute to the college weekly. The scope of The Optic will be unusually wide but further than this it does not seem advisable to disclose at the present time; for it is doubtless the place of the editor to explain the details of the paper.

It might be well, however, to say a word concerning Editor Site in order that his debut at Union may in no way offend him. Mr. Site claims descent from the Spectator, the well known writer of the seventeenth century. At all events his temperament is much the same as that interesting gentleman. Editor Site is a man of few words, in fact, as I. Site, the journalist, he is a mute. His manner of gathering news is by observation only, and his hobby is obscurity. To discover his identity would be contrary to his strongly expressed wishes and would no doubt be the cause of his severing connections with the management. For these reasons the Concordiensis management urges the students not to endeavor to acquaint themselves with Editor Site, but to read, without curiosity as to the writer, The Optic, which will occupy a page of the weekly throughout the year. Subscribe for the Concordiensis and get two papers for the price of one.

WATCH FOR THE FIRST ISSUE OF THE OPTIC NEXT WEEK.

THE NEW MOVEMENT IN THE CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The General Secretary.

For the first time in the history of the college the Christian Association now has a general secretary devoting his full time to the development of the work of the association. The man who has been secured to fill this position is Samuel M. Cavert, the president of last year's Senior Class, who is bringing to the work much experience and enthusiasm.

The work of the association is now under the supervision of an advisory committee, the plan which is followed in all the large universities. The personnel of the committee is as follows: William Dalton, chief engineer of the American Locomotive Company; Dr. A. R. Stevenson, Orrin G. Cocks, '98, Charles MacCulloch, '00, Dean B. H. Ripton, Otto A. Faust, '11, president of the association; S. M. Cavert, '10, general secretary; E. H. Branson, '11, treasurer, and James H. Potter, '12, vice-president.

The Handbook.

The Christian Association Handbook, which has been published under the direction of Fink, '11, has been distributed to all students and is greeted with the general verdict that it is the best book ever issued by the association. It contains 124 pages, with several cuts of the campus buildings; it is bound in black seal leather with gilt-edge pages.

"Senior Night."

The association instituted a new custom last week of having a "Senior Night" on the first Friday evening of the year. Only the senior and freshmen classes were invited, the seniors acting as hosts to the new students. President Faust had the evening in charge. After some rousing college songs the men gathered in front of the blazing fireplace and listened to informal talks by leading seniors upon the subject of the various college activities and customs. About twenty good home made cakes and a punch-bowl of lemonade furnished an informal "feed" for the conclusion of the evening. The evening was very effective in making the new students feel at home and in arousing a live college spirit.

The Fall Reception.

The fall reception of the Christian Association to the entire student body and faculty will be held to-night. "Chuck" Waldron, '07, Rev. Clayton Potter, '00, and Prof. Bennett, '90, will speak to the men for a few minutes and promise to make the evening unusually pleasant.

The Sunday Vespers.

At the opening meeting of the year President Faust presided and paid a glowing tribute of the love of the student body for President Richmond, who brought a straight-forward message on "A Fundamental Purpose for This College Year."

Next Sunday O. G. Cocks, Union, '98, of the New York City Students' Club, will be on the Hill to speak of "The Deeper Meaning of College Days."

The following speakers are announced for later meetings of the fall. Clayton C. Cooper of New York, who, after traveling among college students all over the world, has written a remarkable series of articles in "The Century" on "The College Man and the Bible;" Wilbur Phillips, the wide awake young secretary of the New York Milk Committee; Bishop Nelson of Albany, and Dr. E. A. Steiner of Grinnell, Iowa, the famous authority on immigration and author of "On the Trail of the Immigrant."

FRESHMAN RULES.

Adopted Last Year by the Student Body.

Last year a committee from the student body was appointed to formulate permanent rules for the direction of the freshmen. These rules were not drawn up by the sophomores but have the sanction of the whole student body. Every freshman should read them carefully:

1. Freshmen caps must be worn on all occasions in this city (Sundays included) until the end of the fall term.

2. Pipes and cigars are forbidden on the campus and streets of Schenectady until "moving up day."

3. Every freshman must always greet an upperclassman or sophomore first when meeting him on the campus or street.

4. No freshman is to sit in the front row or box of any theater of this city under any conditions.

5. No freshman is allowed in Glenn Bros. or the Crown unless accompanied by an upper-class man.

6. Freshmen must remain seated in chapel until the three upper classes have passed out.

7. Freshmen must show proper respect to upper-classmen at all times.
