CHARLES ALEXANDER RICHMOND, D. D., Chancellor

UNION COLLEGE, SCHENECTADY, N. Y.

The College offers undergraduate courses as follows:

- 1.—CLASSICAL COURSES—Leading to the Degree of A. B.
A. Greek is required for admission to this Course.
B. Greek is begun at entrance and is required for four years.
- 2.—LATIN-SCIENTIFIC COURSE—Leading to the Degree of Ph. B.
This Course offers Latin without Greek.
- 3.—SCIENTIFIC COURSE—Leading to the Degree of B. S.
In Courses 1, 2 and 3 the greater part of the work of the last two years is elective.
- 4.—GENERAL ENGINEERING COURSE, of four years, leading to the Degree of B. E.
During the third and fourth years two alternative options are offered in this Course.
Option A—In which the fundamental principles of advanced technical subjects receive emphasis.
Option B—In which studies are offered which give a preparation for engineering positions of an executive or administrative nature.
- 5.—GENERAL ENGINEERING COURSE, of six years, leading to the degrees of B. E. and Ph. B.
This Course provides college and technical training by combining Courses 2 and 4.
- 6.—SANITARY ENGINEERING COURSE—Leading to the Degree of B. E.
- 7.—ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING COURSE—Leading to the Degree of B. E.
The College offers also graduate courses in Engineering of one year's resident study, as follows:
- 8.—Graduate Course in General or in Sanitary Engineering, leading to the Degree of M. C. E.
- 9.—Graduate Course in Electrical Engineering, leading to the Degree of M. E. E.

FOOTBALL.

The Season—Squad Statistics.

The past football season from the viewpoint of the number of games won was not a success, yet many things about the season were satisfactory. The season started off with the loss of Streibert, Starbuck, Walton, Brown, Potter and Walser from last year's Varsity team. With the other Varsity men left in college, together with other material, "Bill" Murray, the coach, put out a team which fought an up-hill but plucky fight all season. Only one game was won, while two were ties, but in spite of this fact, the student body and the team showed their good spirit and loyalty by maintaining life and enthusiasm throughout the whole season. This fact acts as oil upon the waters of discontent caused by defeat, for while it is doubtless hard to turn out a team that will win consistently, yet it is harder still to turn out a team, which in the face of defeat, will not be a "bad loser."

Finally, with the material left in college now, next year's team should prove a success, and we expect that outcome. Following will be found statistics of the squad of the 1909 season.

FOOTBALL AWARDS.

At a meeting of the Award Committee last Monday the football awards were made for the past season. Fewer "U's" were given this season than usual, the committee thinking that in the past this gridiron honor has been too easily attained. The following awards were made:

"U:" Vedder, O'Connell, Shutler, Sellnow, Hequembourg, Micks, Brown, Irish, Fairbairn, H. Stewart, Riley (law school.)

"aUa:" Houk, Kriegsman, Dewey, Dunbar, Atkin, Anderson, Smith, Miller, Trapp.

"U" second: Mann, J. Stewart, Webb, Riley, Kittson, Dillinger, Robinson, Lowrie.

TWO ALUMNI RE-UNIONS THIS WEEK.

Last Monday evening "Prexy" Richmond was among the guests of honor at the re-union of the Union Alumni of Buffalo. Ex-president Dr. A. V. V. Raymond was also among those present.

On Thursday evening of this week the New York Alumni are to hold their annual re-union at the Manhattan Hotel. "Prexy," who is to be present, will also be one of the speakers. It is expected that Dean Ripton will also be present. Songs and music for the occasion will be furnished by the Alumni Glee Club.

"THE RETROSPECTIONS OF AN ACTIVE LIFE."

John Bigelow, Union, '35, Author.

An important literary work has recently been published, The Retrospections of an Active Life written by John Bigelow, one of Union's oldest living alumni. Mr. Bigelow was a member of the class of 1835. The work consists of three volumes, and contains many portraits, together with a map and appendix. It covers the first fifty years of Mr. Bigelow's life, from his birth, in 1817, to the end of his diplomatic service, when he resigned as United States Minister to France, in 1866.

The latter part of the work is the more interesting and important, as it deals with the War of the Rebellion, and with the question of the Mexican Empire, both of which are viewed from a diplomatic standpoint, and with a keen insight into the diplomatic relations of the United States with France.

A part of his memories are taken up with letters which Mr. Bigelow received from sympathizers with the Union Cause, particularly from those in England. Among his American correspondents are William H. Seward, another Union graduate, Thurlow Weed, Charles Sumner, John Hay, and many others, justly famous in the history of that period.

Although the greater part of this work concerns the relations of this country with France, much attention is given to local affairs in France, such as elections and the relation of France to the Papacy.

The part which Mr. Bigelow played in the Mexican complication was an important one, indeed; and its successful termination was in no small part due to his efforts. It was in connection with this affair that he received from Mr. Seward the longest cable-message that had been sent at that time, and that caused such a commotion among the diplomats in Paris.

By no means least important is that part of this work which tells of important statesmen of the time, and of the impression they made upon him. Particularly striking and interesting are his descriptions of the Emperor Napoleon III and of the Empress Eugenie. As for Gladstone, Mr. Bigelow was not greatly impressed by him, and he never approved of the policies and methods of the great English statesman.

His recollections of Thackeray, and of Dumas are interesting, the vein being somewhat lighter than in his other descriptions.

A fact which adds greatly to the interest of the book is that there is in it a great deal of his story which has heretofore been untouched. Mr. Bigelow is able to relate this, because of his personal knowledge of the facts, as United States Minister to France.

As said before, these three volumes cover fully the first fifty years of the life of Mr. Bigelow. Concerning his later career, the assurance is given in the "Prelude" that more volumes are to follow.

The first and second basketball teams of Princeton are having daily clashes.

Two of the professors of Massachusetts Institute of Technology have perfected an apparatus which will indicate the depth of well borings.

Since intercollegiate basketball has been abolished at Hamilton they are to have this winter a series of Interfraternity and Interclass games. A loving cup will be awarded to the winning team of the Interfraternity series.

At the last meeting of the Athletic HOCKEY. Board Hockey was formally recognized as an Intercollegiate sport at Union although the financial support of the board was not secured. This is the first year that Hockey has thus been recognized and plans are now being made to arrange a schedule that will include several games with colleges both here and away from home. There is much good material in college for such a team and the sport should receive the hearty support of all men in college, as far as possible. It will be another means of getting into athletic relations with other colleges and will be a very good thing.

The basketball men are out BASKETBALL. daily practicing and are putting in some good hard work preparing for the first game. This year there is an abundance of material with which to work and several of the men are showing up well. We have not been very successful in basketball previously, but it is expected that a good strong team will be put out this year. The first two games of the season are to be played here in the Armory where the men are now practicing twice a week. It is time for us to begin to think of attending all of the home games and showing the team that we are behind them all the time, just as we did with the football team. It is such support that makes a great difference in the way we succeed in athletics, so, if we want to see our team win we will get out every time and help the team along with our presence.

Elsewhere in the issue will be found a full and complete schedule of the final exams which are to be held from Dec. 16-22, inclusive. Special care has been taken to make the schedule entirely correct so that it can be relied upon and it has been put into a form that will enable everyone to find out readily when all of his exams come. It is hoped that this will be of considerable help to all.

Through the influence of Dr. CONCERTS IN Richmond a series of three THE CHAPEL. musical concerts has been arranged for the coming winter. They will be held in the chapel and the rates for students have been reduced so that many may be able to attend them all. Because of the fact that Dr. Richmond was instrumental in securing the different musicians it is certain that their work will be first class, and so a particular advantage has been afforded the men in college. They all need the support of the men and it is hoped by the musical management that many will avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing these musical concerts, which will indeed be treats.

Within a very short time the committee CLASS. appointed to make arrangements for CAPS. the purchase of class caps, will have decided upon the designs to be worn by each class and will be ready to order for all men in college. This is an excellent scheme and one that should be helped along by all the men. It can be made a success only by everyone securing one of these caps and wearing it during the whole winter, both on the campus and in the city. A very good quality cap will be secured for a very reasonable price, so that a chance will be given to each to buy a cap within his means. The committee is very desirous of making arrangements satisfactory to all, and so, when they have finally decided upon the designs, everyone will do the committee a favor by seeing that he orders his cap as soon as possible, thus making it possible to have them in a short time.

The awards committee has made FOOTBALL the awards for the football season AWARDS. of 1909. The committee adopted a new plan of awarding the "U" this year and were very successful in making the awards. The members of the committee thought, and rightly, too, that heretofore it had been too easy for a man to secure his "U," and that many men had been awarded the "U" who did not deserve it. This condition naturally decreased the honor connected with wearing the "U" and the committee thought it time to somehow raise the standard by which such awards were made.

As a result of this conclusion on their part, the "U" was given to men who, in the minds of those on the committee, had really earned it because of both their ability and their faithfulness during the whole season. The committee is to be commended upon their new attitude and the awards show that they were actually made upon such a basis. It is a scheme which we hope will be hereafter applied to all branches of athletics at Union. It will result in developing better material and in attaching greater honor to the wearing of the "U."

It seems well that a few words be ORDER IN said here in regard to the conduct CHAPEL. in chapel mornings during the exercises. For some time past many of the men have persisted in talking and making other noises that have disturbed the exercises very much. It comes down to the simple matter of showing a due amount of respect and courtesy to the men who are in charge of the services. If we must converse let us do it in a way that will not disturb, but let us desist as far as possible from all conversation while the exercises are in progress. We think it is mostly due to thoughtlessness, so this is merely to call our attention to the matter.

COLLEGE MEETING.

December, 1909.

President Cavert called the meeting to order after the singing of "Alma Mater" and "We Score." Hutchens led a long yell for Charest. Charest urged all who could play basketball to come out, and said that the prospects are good for a first class team. He also announced, as chairman of the cap committee, that the caps would soon be decided upon.

Hutchens warned the Freshmen against laxity in the wearing of the regulation caps.

Manager Smith announced the concerts to be given in the college chapel in the spring, a description of which is found elsewhere in this issue.

A 79 year old Freshman woman has matriculated at Ohio State University.

SELF HELP AT UNION COLLEGE

As Seen by a Student Observer.

It is sometimes thought that a college is a place where young men go to spend their father's money and lead lives of ease and idleness. While this may sometimes be the case, the criticism does not hold good at Union College.

Union has, of course, her share of students who come from homes of comparative wealth, but these men are not found spending their time in idleness or devoting their whole energy to sport. On the other hand, a large percentage of her students are young men of limited means, who work their own way through college, wholly or in part. At Union the men of limited means and the sons from wealthy homes become infused with the democratic spirit and feel that they are on the same footing, for Union, though old and rich in traditions, is essentially a democratic college. No stigma rests on the man who works his way; on the contrary, the student body has the highest respect for those who are energetic enough and ambitious enough to desire a college education and to strive for it even against heavy odds.

Of the total number of students, between 10 and 15 per cent. go through college practically on their own resources. Besides these, there are many others who defray a part of their expenses, while a large majority engage in some form of remunerative work during the summer. In many cases, it is not because the man is obliged to work in order to keep up his college career, but because he prefers to do something for himself rather than to have those at home bear the entire expense. The lines of work followed by such a student are various and make up a business world in miniature.

A striking instance is that of a graduate in the class of 1909 who paid his way through college entirely by his own efforts, and that without taking up anything not directly connected with his college work. During his college course this man won nearly $800 in scholarships and prizes, was assistant to the college librarian, and was considered by the faculty one of the most capable tutors on the "hill."

At the close of his college course, after defraying all of his graduation expenses, he was ahead financially. At present he is filling an excellent position as instructor in mathematics and Latin in a well known college preparatory school.

Another noteworthy case is that of a graduate of a few years ago who earned all his expenses by his work in music, as teacher, conductor, organizer, and assistant in piano houses. With the surplus of his earnings in this way and the savings from a successful two years' service in one of our Spanish possessions, he is now studying in a leading eastern law school, with money enough ahead for his entire course.

The above two cases are exceptional, but not unparalleled. A more common one is that of a member of the class of 1910. Entering college with only money enough to pay his first term's bills, he had a surplus of $100 over all expenses at the end of his freshman year. While not so strikingly successful in the other years of his course, and sometimes hard pushed, this young man has, nevertheless, by his own efforts, been able to meet all his needs and graduates free of debt. In some ways this case is more noteworthy than the first two as those were in the academic courses, where scholarships are available, while this man had to pay tuition as well as other charges, being in the engineering course. It is also illustrative of the opportunities for earning money open to engineering students from almost the outset of their work.

Men with special training in any line of work can usually find opportunity to put their abilities to profitable use. Telegraphy, accounting, type-writing, newspaper correspondence and reporting, editing and public reciting are among the special occupations by which Union students have helped themselves in earning their way.

Men without special previous training also find abundant ways of filling in any spare time they may be able to save from their regular duties.

The college itself offers the student many opportunities for earning money. The care of the recitation rooms and some of the buildings is in large part entrusted to students. The positions of assistant librarian and of assistant in the chemical laboratory are filled by students. Two men receive their tuition in return for ringing the bells at the end of the recitation periods. The athletic board hires each year a masseur for the athletic teams. This position is also filled by a student. The tutoring of students who fail to pass up their college work is a common source of income and there are usually some ten members of the upper classes who are approved as tutors by the faculty. These men are frequently called upon to give their assistance to those who for one reason or another are behind in their studies.

Many students find work outside the college which yields good returns. Schenectady offers unusual advantages in this respect, and the college endeavors in every way possible to aid the students in securing positions and has an employment committee which is often of great assistance, especially to members of the entering class who are not acquainted with the city. Many obtain employment in the down town stores on Friday afternoons and Saturdays, and there is hardly a shoe store or clothing house in the city that has not at some time employed a student salesman. The restaurants and boarding houses in the city are also a source of help to many, and good board is earned in return for work as waiter. Oftentimes rooms are to be had in return for tending a furnace or doing other light work.

A not unusual source of income for qualified men is offered by the Schenectady Railway Company, and positions as conductor and in other capacities are often available for evenings and unoccupied afternoons. This work is sometimes continued through the summer.

During the long vacation many students are regularly employed in the various departments of the General Electric Works. This is an especially desirable opportunity because of the valuable experience gained from the work and because of the comparatively high rate of pecuniary remuneration.

The night schools of the city offer attractive working during the winter, giving valuable experience in teaching. Students are sometimes

UNION COLLEGE DINNER.

New York City, Thursday Evening, Dec. 9, 1909.

The Union College Alumni of New York City will hold their 22nd annual Reunion and Banquet at Hotel Manhattan, on the evening of December 9th. An unusually large attendance is expected for the reason that the Alumni will have as their guest for the first time Union's new President, the Rev. Charles Alexander Richmond, D. D., who was inaugurated Chancellor of Union University at the Commencement last June.

The Hon. Frederick W. Seward of the Class of '49, who is President of the Alumni Association, will preside.

Among the other distinguished speakers will be the two former Presidents of Union University, Rev. Andrew V. V. Raymond, D. D., of Buffalo, and Rev. George Alexander, D. D., of New York City. Also Hon. Joseph E. Ransdell, Member of Congress and President of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, and Benjamin H. Ripton, Dean of the University, and Prof. Ashmore will be present.

Many other distinguished guests who are not graduates of the College are expected. The Alumni Glee Club will be present to furnish music and songs for the occasion.

The younger Alumni of the College are always welcome to this dinner and are especially urged to attend if possible. A good bunch of the men recently from college are to be seated at one table and they will undoubtedly make things lively.

ATHLETIC BOARD MEETING.

The Athletic Board held a meeting on Monday evening, December 6, in Silliman Hall, to consider the advisability of taking up Hockey as an Inter-Collegiate sport. The matter was discussed in all its phases and finally the following arrangements were agreed upon. T. D. Walser as manager, was authorized to draw up a schedule for a regular College Hockey Team on the condition that fifty dollars could be raised in voluntary subscriptions from among the students and friends of Union. This money is to be refunded to those subscribing if at the end of the season the management is fifty dollars ahead, and if it is more than fifty dollars ahead, the amount over fifty dollars shall be deposited for next year's team. This financial arrangement was made for it was considered impracticable and inadvisable to levy another regular tax for athletics upon the students. The present arrangement will allow the management to charge the students for admittance to all home games, and it is sincerely hoped that not only those especially interested in Hockey, but the whole student body will support the first regular Hockey Team that Union has ever had.

AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY MEETING.

Dr. Ellery to Speak.

At Boston, from December 27-29, will be held the regular annual meeting of the American Chemical Society. This society includes about five thousand chemists from all over this country. It's sphere is divided into several different divisions; one for organic chemistry, one for industrial chemistry and one for chemical education. Dr. Ellery, head of the chemical department at Union, will be present and speak before the latter division, that for chemical education. The subject of his address is, "Use of Quantitative Experiments in General Chemistry."

The work in the chemical department here is somewhat unique, in that all of the laboratory work in the first year consists in quantitative experiments. This fact has attracted considerable attention among teachers in chemistry and because of this method, Dr. Ellery has been invited to deliver this address.

The chemical laboratory has recently been very well equipped by the addition of balances and other necessary instruments which are as accurate and of as good quality as those of any laboratory. So, at present, one is able to take a four-year course in chemistry here that will fit him to secure a position in any experimental laboratory in the country.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Neilson, Jr., have taken up their abode on Union Street. Everyone is cordially invited to visit them in their new home.

NEWS FROM THE CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

Henry Jessup of New York to Speak.

Next Sunday afternoon at the regular vesper service the speaker will be Henry Wymans Jessup, one of the leading lawyers in New York City. He is to speak on a subject that will undoubtedly be of interest to a large number of students, "The College Man in the Legal Profession." Mr. Jessup is a Princeton graduate and a college friend of "Prexy" Richmond.

Last Sunday afternoon was held one of the best attended services of the year, when Dr. William Adams Brown, Roosevelt professor of systematic theology at the Union Theological Seminary in New York City, spoke on the "Function of the Minister in the Modern World."

Dr. Brown, in taking up this subject, said that he spoke not so much to persuade men to enter the ministry, as to explain the duties of the minister and how other persons should aid him in his work. After stating the duty of a minister as the fitting of men for Christian service through the formation and development of character, he took up the three things involved in this duty: To show men what the end of Christian service really is; to persuade them to accept that end as their own; and to train men in the practical applications of Christian principles to life.

The Senior Bible Class, with Dr. Hoffman, and the Freshman Class, with "Prexy" Richmond, both met as usual on Tuesday evening. Owing to the fact that Dr. Adams had another engagement, the Junior and Sophomore Classes will meet this week on Friday evening instead of Tuesday.

SUBJECT CHOSEN FOR TRI-LEAGUE DEBATE

The subject for the triangular debate between Union, Hamilton and Colgate, which is to be held on March 4, has now been definitely chosen. It reads as follows:

Resolved, That a graduated income tax should be made a part of our federal system of taxation.

According to the terms of the agreement, each college will prepare two teams on the same question. Thus, on the same evening, Union will send one team to debate Colgate on the affirmative side of the question, while another team will remain at home and debate with Hamilton on the negative side, in the College Chapel. The men for the inter-collegiate team will not be chosen until after the Allison-Foote debate which will probably take place on January 14.

Although Union lost two of her best debaters by graduation last spring, there is still plenty of good material in college, and there is no reason why Union should not maintain the enviable reputation in inter-collegiate debating which she has acquired during the last two years.

The art supplement of last Saturday's Troy Times contains a picture of the Senior Class of Union College.

either on commission or independently in various goods used by their fellow students, such as banners, stationery, photographs, calendar, view post cards, emblems, class pins, etc., etc.

Examples could be multiplied indefinitely for men who, like the three first mentioned, have earned their way entirely, down through the cases of those who earn portions of their necessary outlay in sums varying from the smallest to very considerable amounts. Where there is a will there is usually a way, and it is but rarely that the man who will work is unable to take his college course successfully.

THREE MUSICAL CONCERTS.

To Be Given In the Chapel

President Richmond has announced a course of three notable musical concerts to be given in the college chapel. On January seventeenth Mme. Larmer, the famous pianist, will give the concert; on February fourth, Mr. George Hamlin, tenor, and on March fourth, the Flonzaley String Quartett, probably the finest in the world. The price of tickets for these concerts is five dollars for the course, or two dollars for a single concert. The special price for students is one-half the regular price. The tickets will be procurable from Carson E. Smith, '10, and Otto A. Faust, '11. Dr. Richmond has been very fortunate in being able to procure the services of these musicians, who are leaders in their profession, and every student should avail himself of the opportunity of hearing them.

The third rail is fast being installed in the walk from the Blue Gate along South College. It is reported that one night recently one of our staid Professors accidentally got into the ditch which was meant for bricks, but no damage was done.

Prof. Garis, during the absence of Mrs. Garis, is staying with Dr. McComber. They are very peaceable at all times, too.

Dr. Ellery, Prof. Stollar and Prof. Cunningham have been elected delegates from Union to attend the National convention of Sigma Xi, which is to be held in Boston during the holidays.

The attendance of the faculty in chapel was very good on Monday, but it is evident that several of the members are liable to get conditions if they do not report more regularly.

DON'T pay more than half a dollar for a scarf---it isn't necessary. Don't pay less---it isn't safe. Fifty cents ought to buy as Fashionable and Durable a scarf as any man wants on any occasion.

It will buy just that if you ask for and get LeMar Cravats, sold everywhere for Half a Dollar. They're the same scarfs for which you have been paying twenty-five to fifty cents more.

Eighteen separate processes enter into the making of LeMar Cravats. Thirty-six hands cut, line, sew and shape them. A wonderfully drilled organization creates them in a cravat studio, not a factory. Every part is as carefully made and correctly adjusted as at watch. That's why LeMar Cravats look aristocratic, knot gracefully, slip freely and wear---wear---wear.
